Mobs Rise Up Against Peace Overture to End Katanga Area Fighting

Big Three Meet on Peace Plan

Talk About Congo Then on Berlin

By TOM OCHILTREE

PARIS (AP)—The Western Big Three foreign ministers met today in hopes of settling serious policy differences and agreed to work for a united, peaceful Congo.

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk, British Foreign Secretary Lord Home and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville were joined at lunch by West German Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder. Later the discussion was to turn to Berlin.

The chief U.S.-British aim in the talks was to persuade the French government to drop its adamant opposition to negotiations with the Soviet Union for some sort of compromise on the future of West Berlin.

A French spokesman said the morning session was devoted only to the Congo and Southeast Asia.

Belgium Sends Cable

As the three ministers conferred, Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium sent a cable urging them to ask acting U.N. Secretary-General U Thant for an immediate cease-fire in Katanga, the Congo. He said the Belgian people were shocked by the U.N. military action in the former Belgian colony.

The issue of Katanga has arisen to plague the Western Allies just finding a common approach to the question of negotiating with the Soviet Union.

The United States has backed the use of U.N. force to restore order in Katanga with an airlift of military supplies. The British government has objected to the use of force, and France has no sympathy for the entire U.N. operation in the Congo.

No Settlement Indicated

There was no indication that differences over Katanga had been ironed out. Conference officials limited themselves to the statement that the three powers agreed on the broad aims for the Congo. They include the consolidation of the entire country under a stable government to prevent a slide into civil war and anarchy.

The reintegration of the breakaway Katanga province with the central Congolese government should be done by conciliation, the three Allies agreed.

The foreign ministers' conference will merge into the broader annual review of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Wednesday.

Two Youths Held Without Bail in Series of Breaks

Accused of committing 18 burglaries in Dutchess County since last March and taking loot valued at about $1,000, two Staatsburg youths will face grand jury action on charges of burglary third degree.

Rhinebeck state troopers identified the youths as Richard Charles Greene, 18, a garage serviceman, and Richard Raymond Banks, 16, unemployed.

Arraigned before Town of Hyde Park Justice of the Peace Hulet Silvernale, Saturday, Greene and Banks waived preliminary hearing. The case was referred to the grand jury. Both youths were sent to the Dutchess County jail. No bail was fixed.

A 14-year old East Park boy also was taken into custody in connection with the rash of burglaries. He will be petitioned into Children's Court.

Troopers said the youths were accused of stealing $500 from the Capitol Bakery, North Road, Poughkeepsie, last August; $65 from the Dairy Queen, Hyde Park, and undetermined amounts from the Staatsburg school, the Dinsmore Golf Club, the Red Hook-Rhinebeck Telephone Co., and Borner's Grocery store, Staatsburg.

Authorities said the places were entered and ransacked four times each.

Attlee Improves

LONDON (AP) — Doctors reported today that former British Premier Earl Attlee continues to improve after grave stomach trouble and a heart attack last week.

Eichmann Guilty, May Go to Gallows

JERUSALEM (AP)— Israel convicted Adolf Eichmann of "unsurpassed" crimes against the Jews and said his role in the Nazi pogrom would be remembered "until the end of time."

The special three-man tribunal, which for four months tried the 55-year-old Gestapo lieutenant colonel, handed down its judgment today, a judgment which may bring him death on the gallows.

Convicted on Four Counts

In a 300-page judgement which they began reading aloud in turn, the three judges determined that Eichmann was proved to be such an important cog in Hitler's machinery for destroying the Jews that he merited conviction on these major counts:

1. Crimes against the Jews.
2. Crimes against humanity.
3. War crimes.
4. Membership in the criminal Nazi SS (Elite Guard) and SD (security police) organizations.

Reading the verdict, with all its elaboration of the legal reasoning, will require several days. Sentencing is expected by Friday.

In his bullet-proof, glass-enclosed cage, Eichmann took the first blow of conviction on the major charges with aplomb. Through his hornrimmed spectacles, he fixed a steady stare on the judges.

The court delivered an exhaustive study of the "iniquities" of the Nazi Reich and said it later would describe in detail the role Eichmann played as chief of the Gestapo's Bureau fo rJewish Affairs, the man who shipped millions to their death in the extermination camps.

Goes to Great Length

The tribunal, headed by Justice Moshe Landau, went to considerable length to justify its right to try Eichmann.

Regarding Eichmann's complaint that he was kidnaped, the court described at length a case in Vermont in 1935 in which a man complained he was seized in Canada and brought to justice in the United States. The Vermont Supreme Court ruled that the method of bringing the man there was unimportant. That, in effect, was what the Israeli tribunal decided in Eichmann's case.

Eichmann had argued that he was only an underling who carried out orders. But the court said: "The laws of humanity are binding on individuals. The guilt of Germany as a state does not detract one iota from the personal responsibility of the accused."

Sentence Due Friday

Eichmann is expected to be sentenced Friday.

He was tried under Israel's Nazi and Nazi collaborators' law of 1950 which provides death as the maximum penalty. The death penalty never has been invoked.

The packed courtroom was deathly silent as the verdict of guilty was pronounced. Many of the 600 spectators had relatives who were victims of the Nazi pogrom were themselves survivors of the death camps.

There was not a sigh or a ripple at the abrupt one-sentence verdict which Judge Landau spoke

55 Perish After Midwest Storms; HighwaysBlocked

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A new snowstorm came out of the Rockies today as winter smote the nation with disagreeable weather that included record subzero temperatures, road-blocking snow, flooding rains and shattering winds.

The weather was a factor in the deaths of at least 55 persons since a previous snowstorm crossed the Midwest Friday night.

Two major roads in eastern Arizona were closed by snow drifts measuring up to 22 inches. The new storm forced schools to close today in San Juan County in northwestern New Mexico.

More Snow Expected

Snow depths in New Mexico ranged from 8 inches in Raton to 20 at the Nageezi trading post in San Juan County.

Snow fell from northern Arizona into Wyoming and the Dakotas and eastward. Heavy snow, with accumulations of 4 inches or more headed toward Kansas, Nebraska, northwest Oklahoma and the northern Texas Panhandle.

One to 6 inches of new snow was expected in southwestern Oklahoma.

Sleet and freezing rain moved from New Mexico, across northern Texas, eastern and southern Oklahoma toward southern Kansas and southern Missouri.

Traffic Is Snarled

Ice glazed major highways in the northern half of New Mexico, northern Texas and Oklahoma. Autos were lined up for 3 miles on the Turner turnpike east of Oklahoma City Sunday until trucks sanded the pavement.

Snow or snow flurries were in store for the upper Mississippi Valley, the northern Great Lakes region, parts of the Ohio Valley and New England.

Flooding rains fell on Louisiana, Alabama and Georgia.

A child drowned in a rain-swollen creek at Mobile, Ala., Sunday. Mobile reported 3.53 inches of rain in 12 hours Sunday. Small streams in the area were flooded. Tombigbee River at Jackson, Ala. was expected to crest 2 feet above flood stage today.

An inch to 1½ inches of rain fell in Louisiana and Mississippi,

Ike Urges Better Voluntary Action

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower thinks the United States should do "more things voluntarily and in a business-like fashion."

The general told the American Heart Association's board of directors here Saturday there is a "great virtue in America of doing things in a voluntary fashion."

Eisenhower is honorary board chairman.

New Laws Would Compel Filing of Campaign Report

NEW YORK (AP)—Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz will recommend to the State Legislature a bill that would require election boards and the secretary of state to report political organizations that fail to file campaign expense statements.

Lefkowitz said Sunday the measure will be one of four amendments to the election law that he will propose. The changes, he said, are the result of investigations by the Election Frauds Bureau and studies conducted by his office.

Report in Writing

The election law now requires political committees and other such groups to file financial statements, but Lefkowitz said there is "no clear-cut direction" ordering the boards and the secretary of state to report failures to file to his office and to the district attorneys.

Another proposed change would prevent the disfranchisement of persons who move within the same election district 30 days before Election Day. The new bill would permit such persons to notify their boards in writing of the change of address and then sign an affidavit at the polls.

Must Use Machines

Under permanent personal registration, Lefkowitz said, many persons who had not registered from their new addresses were denied the right to vote.

Another measure suggested by the attorney general would make the use of voting machines mandatory in all contested primary elections for public or party office. A controversy arose in the recent Democratic primary over whether to use machines or paper ballots.

A fourth bill would require dis-

Merger Is Discussed By Banks, Purchase Of Store Is Denied

Two rumors regarding banking institutions gained wide circulation over the past weekend.

One of the reports, a possible merger of the Kingston Trust Company and the Rondout National Bank, was today called an "exploratory" move and the other, purchase of the premises at 269 Fair Street now occupied by Standard Furniture Company, by the Ulster County Savings Institution to use as a parking lot, was denied by both the Savings bank and the owners of the building.

Talk Is Informal

Irving L. Eyles, executive vice-president of the Rondout National Bank, stated that "informal talks" had been held to explore the possibilities of a merger of the Rondout National Bank with the Kingston Trust Company. "Nothing definite has been decided," Eyles told The Freeman.

Speaking for the Kingston Trust Company, Arthur A. Davis, chairman of the board, stated that "we have discussed rumors we have heard" but he stated that nothing definite has been done. The matter had been brought up "informally" at a trustees meeting, Davis said.

Not Involved Now

It was reported there has been discussion of a merger of the Kerhonkson National Bank which has a branch at Stone Ridge, but that merger is not involved at the present time with any merger of the Trust Company and the Rondout National.

The Rondout National Bank is a "national" banking institution while the Kingston Trust Company is a "state" institution. In order to merge, consent of both the Federal banking authorities and the New York State banking department would be necessary. A merger plan approved by the trustees of the Trust Company and the directors of the Rondout National Bank, as well as stockholder consent would have to be acquired before a merger could be effected.

Both Have Branches

The Kingston Trust Company has three banking houses, the Main office at Main and Fair Streets, the Central Branch at 518 Broadway and a branch bank in Phoenicia.

Rondout National Bank has two banking houses, the main bank on Broadway at Henry Street and a branch in Port Ewen.

Daniel Weisberg, vice president of the "269 Fair Street Corporation," owners of the building now occupied by Standard Furniture Company, said today there had been no negotiations for sale of the premises to the Ulster County Savings Institution and stated that the premises were under lease to Stand-

Gnome Blast Seen As 70 PC Success

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

CARLSBAD, N.M. (AP)—Scientists counted blessings of knowledge from the first underground atomic "peace bomb" explosion Sunday despite the escape of a cloud of radioactive gas.

They reported 70 per cent success in getting data on major scientific programs, but major mysteries remain.

They judged the steaming radioactive cloud hadn't hurt anybody or anything, although its unexpected fallout partially blockaded nearly 300 observers.

Quarter Mile Down

The specially designed five-kiloton atomic device was detonated a quarter-mile underground. It was in a chamber at the end of a buttonhook tunnel dug 1,100 feet through salt rock from a vertical mine shaft. This Project Gnome hole alone cost $1 million, the total drill nearly $6 million.

A main objective was to learn what happens when a nuclear blast, equivalent to 5,000 tons of TNT, occurs in salt rock. Scientists hoped it might form a cavity partly full of molten salt and steam, and wanted to see if enough steam could be brought up to operate turbines and generate electricity.

Moderate Quake

The earth shock produced a moderate earthquake in Carlsbad, 23 miles away, where a waitress saw "an itty-bitty Santa Claus shaking on a drug store counter." It didn't harm the Carlsbad Caverns, 34 miles west, or potash mines, kept empty of people when the blast detonated.

Seismic measurements obtained near and far may help show the difference between the "signature" of an earthquake and a se-

Tshombe Is Losing His Grip: Note

Mercenaries Are Seen in Control

By PETER GROSE

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Mobs raided the U.S. consulate in Elisabethville Sunday and stoned the U.S. embassy in Brussels as the United Nations threw out a peace overture to end the fighting in the secessionist Congo province now in its seventh day.

Gen. Sean McKeown, the Irish commander of the U.N. task force in the Congo, said Katanga President Moise Tshombe has lost control of his rich province and white mercenaries representing foreign interests are directing the fighting.

Gone Beyond Him

Gen. McKeown, on a flying visit to Elisabethville, told newsmen: "There are indications that Tshombe realizes the hopelessness of his position but we don't think he could stop the fighting even if he wanted to."

Acting U.N. Secretary-General U Thant said in New York he would welcome "any initiative that will enable us to achieve our aims as speedily and peacefully as possible." He said the U.N. aims were to restore law and order in Katanga and to "assure our freedom of movement."

Hope for Unification

Thant and Adlai E. Stevenson, chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations, insisted the U.N. forces were fighting a defensive action without political motive. Both made clear, however, they hoped for a unified Congo.

Britain's Foreign Minister Lord Home in London called for an immediate cease-fire and urged unity negotiations between Tshombe's regime and the central Congo government in Leopoldville.

Mob Consulate

A mob of 200 Katanga youth league members broke windows in the U.S. consulate in Elisabethville, forced their way into the building and stole all the cigarettes they could find. They were ejected by Tshombe's official guard. None of the consulate staff was hurt.

In Brussels, about 250 pro-Katanga demonstrators shouting "Kennedy to the gallows" stoned the U.S. Embassy and clashed with police, who drove them off.

Highway Mishaps Kill 18 Persons; Five Die in Fire

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Eighteen persons were killed in traffic accidents in New York State over the cold and damp weekend, including six persons in three separate accidents.

Fire claimed five lives during the period from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday night and a 39-year - old man was killed in a hunting accident.

A two-car collision near Rochester Friday night claimed the lives of Mrs. Frances M. Kittleberger, 58, of suburban Webster and John D. Meyer, 22, of Webster. Meyer died Saturday night.

Near Eden, Thomas Simoneir, 20, of Hamburg, and Robert Sicilin, 22, of Eden, were killed when their automobile struck a tree Saturday.

At Orangeburg, two New Jersey men were killed when an automobile left Palisades Interstate

Two Men Escape Injury as Train Rams Their Car

Two Highland men leaped to safety from a car early Sunday morning moments before a locomotive on the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad crashed into the vehicle on the Mobray Road crossing at Ardonia. Both men later faced motor vehicle violations.

Trooper Harry Foster said the car was operated by Stanley Showell, 42, of Highland, who was driving along Mobray road when the vehicle stopped on the tracks. Showell and Richard Grant, of Highland, owner of the car heard a train approaching and they leaped from the car.

The 36-car freight train appeared and crashed into the vehicle which apparently had been stuck in snow. The car was demolished. Warner Teed, 64, of Maybrook, was engineer on the locomotive.

Trooper Wallace Mahan charged Showell with driving without a license, operating an unregistered motor vehicle, and failure to have proof of insurance. Grant was charged with permitting an unlicensed driver to operate the car.

Showell was taken before Justice of the Peace James Palen. He was fined $100 or 10 days in jail on the insurance violation and $25 or 10 days on each of the other two charges. In lieu of $150 he was confined in the Ulster County jail until the fines are paid.

Grant was fined $10 on the license violation. He paid the fine.

JFK Program on Aid For Latins Perks Up

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

President Kennedy heads for Venezuela and Colombia this weekend strengthened by a prospect that his Alliance for Progress can now begin to push ahead toward positive results in attacking a key Latin American problem.

The problem is housing. Virtually every big Latin American city is plagued by constantly growing and incredibly squalid slums.

These are in themselves breeding places for violence. They also generate resentment and anger among young people of other classes—intellectuals, university and secondary school students and others who are impatient for quick change.

When the $20-billion Alliance for Progress program was launched at Punta del Este, Uruguay, last August, Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon estimated that $9 billion of investment capital would be needed.

With little attendant publicity, Congress took steps to pave the way for attracting private investment. An amendment introduced by Sen. George Smathers, D-Fla., was adopted, providing FHA-type guarantees of up to 75 per cent of mortgage investment on request of U.S. investors in attacking South America's housing problems.

Meetings were held last week in Miami Fla., to discuss how to get a program on the rails and produce a showcase pilot project. Among those taking part were

Albania Break May Affect Red Alliance

WASHINGTON (AP)—The diplomatic break between Albania and the Soviet Union raised prospects today for further cracks appearing in the once seemingly solid Communist world.

U.S. experts figured a logical next step would be Albania's expulsion from the Warsaw Pact, the Moscow-directed military alliance of European Communist countries, and withdrawal of relations with Tirana by the Soviet Union's European satellities.

Especially awaited was the reaction of Communist China, hitherto Albania's patron, because the Soviet-Albanian rupture focused the spotlight on Peiping's rivalry with Moscow.

Whether the Red Chinese follow suit on the Soviet break with Albania or whether they openly flout Moscow by maintaining friendship with the tiny Balkan state, the omens of further friction in the Communist camp were pleasing from the Western view.

Undersecretary of State George W. Ball saw the Moscow-Tirana break as "evidence of a very considerable amount of discontent and disagreement in the Communist bloc."

U.S. authorities were not prepared to say that Albania has left the Soviet bloc, as Yugoslavia did when kicked out of the Cominform in 1948. In general, Washington counts as Soviet bloc members those whose foreign policy is Moscow-controlled.

Nor was any prediction avail-

Long Island Man Injured in Crash

A Long Island City driver was injured Sunday afternoon when he failed to negotiate a sharp left turn at the railroad underpass on Route 9W in Cementon and rammed the abutment.

State police of the Leeds substation said Michael Dowdell, 20, of Long Island City suffered a cut forehead, scalp abrasions and an injured right shoulder in the ensuing crash. His car was badly damaged. Dowdell's condition was reported as good today by hospital authorities who said he was undergoing X-ray treatment.

Troop J. A. Dyer investigated.

able that the United States would soon extend aid to Albania, as it has to Communist Yugoslavia and Poland—still a member of the Soviet bloc. Albania has been getting aid from Red China and Albania's Communist leader Enver Hoxha has said he would not accept assistance from the West.

Washington officials were careful to point out that the Soviet-Albanian withdrawal of diplomatic representatives, announced Sunday through the official Albanian news agency Ata, was just a further deterioration in a rift between the two countries which has been widening for some time.

From a strategic standpoint, Albania—a mountainous Mediterranean land about the size of Maryland with a 1.5 million population—is unique among European bloc countries in that it has no common border with the bloc. Its land neighbors are Yugoslavia and Greece.

Split Is Biggest Since Ousting of Yugoslavia in '48

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union has severed diplomatic ties with Albania in the biggest Communist bloc split since Stalin expelled Yugoslavia from the Cominform in 1948.

The break, disclosed in Tirana and confirmed by the Albanian Embassy here Sunday, had been expected since Premier Khrushchev at the October Soviet party congress denounced the Albanian leaders as Stalinist and accused them of trying to disrupt Communist unity.

Other Eastern bloc nations are expected to follow the Kremlin's lead, leaving tiny Albania supported only by Communist China and perhaps North Viet Nam and North Korea.

A spokesman for the Albanian Embassy said the Albanian ambassador went home several weeks ago. He said the rupture in relations came several days ago.

The Albanian news agency Ata said an exchange of notes beginning Nov. 25 concluded with one Saturday announcing the withdrawal of the Soviet embassy and commercial staff from Tirana. Ata said this note also demanded that Albanian personnel get out of Moscow.

By diplomatic accounts, the trouble between the two countries exploded in an angry exchange between Khrushchev and Albanian Communist chief Enver Hoxha at the Moscow conference of world Communist leaders in November 1960.

Albania boycotted the Soviet Communist party congress this fall at which Khrushchev attacked Albania and Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai in turn criticized Khrushchev for airing the dispute instead of trying to settle it privately.

Many Westerners here felt that when the Kremlin denounced Albania, it actually was attacking Peiping for not supporting Khrushchev's policy of peaceful coexistence.

Saugerties Police Car Damaged in Pole Crash

The newly purchased Saugerties police patrol car, in service less than a week, sustained front end damage early today when the officer in charge, while watching a car he was following, ran off the highway and struck a utility pole. The patrolman was reported uninjured, Chief Arthur W. Richter said this morning.

According to the report by Patrolman John J. Hopf, 28 of Saugerties, he was on patrol at about 4:20 a. m. today and proceeding south on West Bridge Street. At the bottom of the hill, he said he noticed a car approaching without lights and riding in the center of the two-lane street. He followed, Hopf said and as the car without lights rounded a turn, Hopf said he drove to the left side of the road to keep the car in sight. While watching the car, he lost control of the patrol car and struck a utility pole, Hopf reported. There were two people in the front seat of the car which continued on its way without stopping, Hopf said.

Sgt. Harold Mills said today the patrol car was out of service and was damaged on the left front fender, headlight, bumper and part of the grill, and the front door was sprung.

Bowlero Reports $800 Theft Today

Local police today began probing the theft of some $800 in cash, plus some checks, from the Bowlero, 20 Cedar Street, along with two other thefts which apparently occurred over the weekend and were reported this morning.

Entrance to the Bowlero, Lt. Lemuel Howard said, was gained through the breaking of a rear door. Other thefts from there were reported earlier in the year. About $350 in checks were reported missing along with the $800 reported today.

Roe Movers, Inc., of 519 Broadway reported the theft of a vacuum cleaner, and the Green Mountain Construction Co. of 672 Broadway reported concrete blocks and some lumber missing from a warehouse area.

Painless Method Of Slaughtering Proposed in Bill

A bill to require the use of painless methods for slaughtering meat animals was pre-filed Friday by Senator William T. Conklin of Brooklyn. The measure if enacted will extend protection from slaughterhouse cruelties to animals in New York State not covered by a federal humane slaughter law.

The federal law applies only to plants selling meat to the federal government.

The proposed state law would require packing plants to render meat animals insensible to pain before they are shackled, hoisted, knifed, bled, scalded or skinned. The bill declares the Jewish slaughter ritual to be one of two humane methods and thus would prevent interference with it.

Senator Conklin's bill was introduced at the request of The National Catholic Society for Animal Welfare, Washington, D. C., and humane organizations in New York State. The Conklin bill is substantially in the form drafted and recommended by the Council of State Governments.

The campaign that led to enactment of the Federal law in 1958 resulted in more mail than ever before received by Congress on an issue, according to a survey made at the time.

Under humane slaughter laws, packers may use captive bolt pistols, carbon dioxide or electric stunning for rendering meat animals unconscious before they are shackled, hoisted, knifed or bled.

50 Area Farmers Enroll for 1962 Wheat Programs

Through December 1, growers of a total of 50 farms in Ulster county had signed up to take part in the 1962 winter wheat stabilization program, according to E. M. Wood, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. The deadline was December 1. Another signup will be held next spring for growers of the spring-planted crop.

Chairman Wood said the farms signed up for inclusion in the program represent about 35 per cent of the total farms in the county which produce winter wheat.

Applications filed through the deadline call for the diversion of 463 acres from the production of wheat on these farms. The acreage so divested must be devoted to an approved conservation use as one requirement in qualifying for the special program payments. Participation in the program also is required in order to qualify for price support on the 1962 wheat crop.

For Ulster county farms signed up, $4,738.86 has been paid to participants as advance payments during the signup period.

Carpet Firm Reports Heavy Losses in '61

NEW YORK (AP) — A proxy fight by a group of Firth Carpet Co. stockholders loomed today as a threat to proposed merger of Firth into Mohasco Industries Inc., the nation's largest producer of rugs and carpets.

It was disclosed over the weekend that four stockholders controlling more than 10 per cent of Firth's 563,575 outstanding shares have filed notice with the Securities and Exchange Commission of intent to challenge the plan.

Should the opposition group succeed in blocking the merger, A. M. Sonnabend, Boston financier and chairman of Botany Industries Inc., was reported interested in taking an active hand in management of Firth.

Firth suffered heavy losses in 1960 and 1961.

Public Aid Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Welfare Abraham A. Ribicoff announced today 10 administrative changes in the federal-state public assistance program. He said they are aimed at eliminating abuses, helping people get off relief, and strengthening family life.

Ribicoff told a news conference the changes, approved by President Kennedy, are the first steps in a broad program for welfare revision.

Legislative changes will be proposed to Congress next year, he said, and further administrative changes are also under study, but he did not detail these.

Driver Arrested, One Hurt in 3-Car Saugerties Crash

One operator was arrested for reckless driving and one person was reported injured in a three-car crash on Route 9W near the intersection of Route 32 at Barclay Heights early Sunday morning, Kingston state police reported.

Edward Hanna, 54, of Partition Street, Saugerties, was issued a summons for reckless driving and is scheduled to appear before Saugerties Police Justice Ernest E. Schirmer at 4 p. m. today.

Rosalie Cecala, 25, of Barclay Heights, a passenger in the car of Charles Scrodanus, 23, of Barclay Heights, complained of a sprained neck and said she would see her own physician, troopers said.

The third car was operated by Lloyd Loop Jr., 23, of 127 Ulster Avenue.

Troopers Thomas J. Crowley and Robert Mackey reported Hanna was traveling south on Route 9W, crossed into the northbound lane and was in collision with the Schrodanus vehicle. Loop traveling north skidded on the wet pavement into the rear of the Schrodanus car, troopers said. The mishap occurred at 2:30 a. m.

Gnome Blast

cret nuclear underground bomb test.

The blast apparently turned the chamber room into a leaky boiler, said Dr. Phillip Randolph, Livermore, Calif., deputy technical director of Gnome.

Go Up Shaft

Somehow, the leak sent radioactive gasses up the mine shaft, a white steam turning into an invisible but quickly dying cloud of radioactive gas. A filter in the shaft head apparently stopped solid particles, said Dr. Randolph.

Atomic Energy Commission officials said the gas swept away over essentially unpopulated areas. But for more than three hours they blockaded the direct road to Carlsbad until radioactivity across the road died down. And "for good housekeeping," the AEC washed seven cars caught between blockade points.

The highest radiation rating inside any car was 15 milliroentgens (thousandths of a roentgen) per hour and declining, said AEC's Dr. Gordon Dunning. He said a person could live the rest of his life in the car and get a total dose of only 75 milliroentgens. A thoroughly safe lifetime exposure to radiation has been set at 35 roentgens, not milliroentgens.

No Injuries Reported

Test director James Reeves said "to the best of my knowledge at the present time, no one was injured."

While the dissipating gaseous radioactivity was small, radiation in the mine shaft was terrific — 1 million roentgens at the bottom an hour after blast, Dr. Randolph estimated. Five hours after the blast, it was about 40,000 roentgens. A lethal human dose is 1,000 roentgens.

This will delay attempts to recover a special wheel, near the bottom of the shaft, which measured neutrons flying from the blast chamber through a 22-inch wide vacuum pipe.

The wheel is apparently intact, and that experiment apparently worked, Dr. Randolph said.

Will Test for Cavity

In a day or two, a drilling rig will start boring to learn if a cavity was actually formed.

An experiment to capture radioisotopes flying up the vacuum pipe, which peered into the blast chamber from the surface, also apparently worked. But a three-foot thick concrete slab on which instruments stood, was tilted over, and the ground above the chamber apparently heaved up a few feet.

The nuclear device, using new principles to make peace time explosives cheaper, also apparently worked quite well, said Dr. Randolph. Observers 4½ miles away could feel its power from the rolling earth tremors.

He said the experiment definitely advanced ultimate peaceful uses of nuclear explosives.

New Laws Would

trict and associate district leaders to be chosen by direct election at the primary. At present, political organizations may adopt rules for direct election if they wish.

Still under study is a fifth suggested change that would broaden the responsibility for the printing of campaign literature. Under existing law, only the printer can be held liable for the publication of scurrilous campaign literature.

Twelve persons were injured Sunday by a tornado that struck the southern Alabama town of Brewton, destroying seven houses and damaging 12 others.

Colgate Receives $500,000 Bequest

HAMILTON, N.Y. (AP) — Herman Wendt Jr., a retired insurance executive, has given Colgate University more than $500,000 of a $1-million contribution.

Wendt, of New York City, is expected to turn over the remainder of the money next year, the university said Sunday.

Orrin C. Judd, chairman of the bequest committee of the Colgate board of trustees, said the money would "help in large measure to insure the future of Colgate as a leading liberal arts college."

Under the agreement, the university pays the donor an annual income and when the last beneficiary dies, the university has full use of the money, the university explained.

JFK Program

Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., a ranking Senate Foreign Relations Committee member; Frank P. Gatteri, vice president of the Chamber of Commerce of the Americas, and William Q. Winsborough, founder of an international nonprofit foundation known as the "Economic Plan for Freedom."

Winsborough described himself as shocked by the frequently expressed notion that U.S. businessmen do not care about the plight of American policy. He proposed an "economic peace corps," recruited from American business and working but for private enterprise. This corps, among other things, would seek out sources of private venture capital and try to interest it in investing in areas like Latin America.

Winsborough represents, himself, about $2.5 billion of private investment capital which he says he wants to get into projects at home and abroad to earn good returns and "where the principals are willing to reinvest some of these profits in humans and their individual aspirations."

"Others have already shown an interest in doing the same thing," he added. "An American group came to me to help them finance a $20-million housing project in Venezuela and they are willing to turn back 25 per cent of their profits into a revolving scholarships fund for students in the area where they are to invest their money."

There is no atmosphere of charity in this approach, but an appeal to Latin Americans' own self-respect.

Eichmann

rapidly before beginning to outline the court's detailed reasoning.

The reading of the judgement will continue through today and Tuesday. Atty. Gen. Gideon Hausner—who prosecuted the case, presented tons of captured documents and 112 witnesses—will then advise the court on the penalty.

Will Have Own Say

Defense counsel Robert Servatius of West Germany, will make his final plea and Eichmann will be allowed to speak in his own behalf.

The court rejected Eichmann's defense plea that Israel had no right to try him for crimes committed elsewhere and under a law passed years after the crimes.

"The court finds the law in the best tradition of international law," the judgment found. The court said international crimes were tried as far back as the Middle Ages in areas where the guilty were caught. Piracy cases were so conducted on the theory that "all mankind must declare war against" such violations. The Israeli judges said this reasoning applies to Eichmann as well.

"A person guilty of piracy has placed himself beyond the protection of any state," the court said.

Eichmann, as chief of the Gestapo's bureau for Jewish affairs, was no better than a pirate, the tribunal concluded.

It was Eichmann's job to round up the Jews, arrange transport to the death camps and see that the human cargo was delivered. Out of that master Nazi plan to wipe out the Jewish race, six million died, more than half of all of Europe's Jewish population.

If Eichmann is sentenced to death, his counsel can appeal to the state Supreme Court. If the high court rejects the appeal, Eichmann can ask clemency from President Izhak Ben-Zvi.

ital and the main Katanga military camp.

A Katanga official spokesman in Elisabethville charged a U.N. jet killed several African women and children in a strafing attack on Lukafu village, near Jadotville. The spokesman also said Christophe Mwamba, a Katanga deputy, his wife and two children were killed—possibly the same jet—while traveling by car in the Jadotville area.

To Scatter Leaflets

The United Nations prepared leaflets to tell the people of Katanga that it "has no wish to interfere in Congolese politics."

U.N. planes will scatter the leaflets—printed in French and Swahili—over the province telling the Katangans "the United Nations is your true friend."

They said the U.N. force had come to the Congo, "at the request of your legitimate government (in Leopoldville) to help your country preserve its independence and unity," to keep law and order and "to save you from chaos, famine, ruin and civil war."

Saud Is Better

Dr. Trygve Gundersen performed the 35-minute operation at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital and termed it a success.

The king arrived in Boston three weeks ago for treatment for a stomach disorder.

33 Die in Mishaps

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At least 33 persons died over the weekend in multiple-fatality accidents on the nation's highways.

Two crashes in Texas and North Carolina each took five lives. Two accidents in Illinos left a total of eight dead—including the drownings of a mother and her four children when their car skidded on a snowy bridge approach and plunged into a lake.

Failure to Report Weaknesses Bad For School System

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—"The frequent reluctance of school people to publicize school weaknesses ...results in a public impression that schools are adequate and real improvement is not possible," a spokesman said today.

Dr. William Firman, chief of the department's bureau of edu-Vcational finance research, said:

"This failure to communicate has shifted responsibility for the maintenance an dimprovement of the school from the people, where it belongs, to school authorities who often do not have the powe who often do not have the power to bring about significant change."

Firman commented in a speech prepared for delivery at a convention of secondary school principals.

About 800 junior and senior high school principals are attending the 77th annual conference of the New York State Association of School Administrators. The conference ends Tuesday.

The principals were told Sunday night that a high school principal "worth his salt" would have a better school if he created controlled unhappiness within the institution.

"A school on the move is a place where people disagree. It lives with tensions between those who want things as they always have been and those who would change them," Dr. Harold Howe II, superintendent of schools at Scarsdale, said.

Howe cautioned the principals "to note this tension and to keep it from erupting into a destructive element."

Four Area Schools Seek Evaluation Report of State

The State Education Department today announced that 84 school districts in New York State, including four in this area have applied to the Department for a Cooperative Review Service to evaluate the quality and effectiveness of local school systems.

The 84 districts include Central School District 2, Ellenville; Hyde Park Central School District 1, Hyde Park; Rhinebeck Central School District and Poughkeepsie City School District.

Dr. Walter Crewson, associate commissioner for elementary, secondary and adult educatiion, is in charge of the new state-sponsored program. The review is made available to school districts upon request of the local boards of education. Under this program a team of education specialists from the Education Department will visit the school district and, in cooperation with local officials, appraise the adequacy and quality of the educational program.

In some instances, Dr. Crewson reports, the department team will be augmented by specialists from colleges and universities and from other school systems. Priority is being given this year to requests from large city school systems.

Sectors Upstate Raise $58 Million Aside Realty Tax

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Counties, cities and city school districts in Upstate New York raised a total of $58 million through non-property taxes during 1960, the state comptroller said today.

Of the total, $46 million was obtained through sales taxes levied by five counties, five cities and the portion of the Niagara Falls City School District located outside the city, Comptroller Arthur Levitt said.

Watertown and Broome and Monroe Counties raised more revenue through sales taxes than from real estate taxes, Levitt said.

The 60 Upstate cities levying a gross income tax on utility companies received a total of $5 million, while eight cities and six school districts imposing a consumers' utility tax were paid $4 million.

The tax on admissions to harness races, imposed by seven counties and three cities, totaled $2.4 million.

Buffalo Artistic Opinion Divided On Womanhood

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The woman in Larry Griffis' statute, "The Spirit of Womanhood," is built along the lines of a blade of grass.

Her arms and legs are elongated, toothpick-like.

She wears a tattered dress and extends a large hoop in front of her, as it there was somebody on the other end waiting to throw a ball through it.

This is modern sculpture, fraught with controversy, and because a 12-foot bronze version of this creation is scheduled to go up on a city plot at a Northside intersection, persons have been asked how they like it.

"Reminds me of my first wife's mother," remarked one citizen, when pictures of a 2-foot wax model were displayed in the local newspapers.

"She's in the terminal stage of some dreadful and wasting disease," said a woman.

Others like it, including George Martin, city parks commissioner, who found it "exciting."

Even the opinion of Buffalo's artistic community is divided.

One sculptor in effect said it was junk. Another called its selection an astute decision."

Plans to erect the statute have bogged down in the controversy. Nobody knows what's going to happen next, including the City Planning Board, which must rule on the suitability of the proposed site. As to the statute, they don't have a n official opinion and don't plan to give one.

But the City Council may move in. Council President Chester Gorski said the council may not "want a statute such as that erected on city property."

Griffis, a sculptor and art teacher, was one of four artists who submitted designs to the local Zonta Club, a women's organization behind the project.

Griffis, $9,000 commission would come from funds left for the development of Wilkes circle by the late business and political leader Kneeland Wilkes, for whom the circle was named. The statue is planned for the circle.

But Wilkes 'widow says the statue would not be "compatible" with the area.

Griffis himself like the uproar. He said:

"If we put up a figure everybody understands and likes, people would just look at it and say, 'uh-huh, they got the statute up, that's nice.' But if you put up a controversial piece, you've got people thinking."

HOLIDAY FIRE DANGERS

Fire dangers increase during the Christmas holidays because of traditional customs of trees, decorations, lights, wrappings and logs in the fireplace. In view of these fire hazards, which endanger the lives of children and parents, the National Fire Protection Association offers the following suggestions for a fire-safe Christmas:

Obtain a fresh-cut tree whose needles don't shed freely. Keep it in water from the time it is bought until it is thrown out; support it well, and never set where it can block escape in the event of fire. And remove it as soon as possible after Christmas.

Check tree lights carefully for frayed wires, loose connections and broken sockets.

Keep candles away from the tree and use extreme care in smoking when you are near a tree.

Make sure tree lights are turned off before you go to bed or before you leave the house.

Keep power shut off while you set up outdoor lighting and use only weatherproof equipment and cords.

Use only noncombustible or flameproofed decorations.

Dispose of gift wrappings promptly.

Think ahead about what you would do for the safety of your family if fire does start.

COURT REORGANIZATION

The official canvass of New York State's general election held last November reveals that the people overwhelmingly approved amendment number one to the state constitution which called for the reorganization of the state's court system.

Figures released by the State Board of Canvassers show that on a state-wide basis the vote was 2,303,446 for the proposed amendment and 507,211 against.

Voters in Ulster County were similarly emphatic in their endorsement with 17,816 voting for reorganization and 4,906 against.

The figures for the state as a whole and for Ulster County, however, disclose that over 50 per cent of the people who went to the polls on the state and local county basis were not aware of the importance of the amendment and did not vote.

Now that the court system will undergo reorganization, the people can look forward to a clean-up of old cases going back as far as five years and speedier disposition of the new cases.

The fair, full and swift administration of justice is one of the cornerstones of the freedom we enjoy.

TONIC FOR MIDDLE AGE

Whatever else is proved by the forthcoming oribtal flight of an American astronaut, it will provide a healthy boost for the ego of the nation's middle-aged men. They will be able to claim (the definition of middle age being rather flexible) that the astronaut chosen for this daring adventure is one of them

This may be stretching a point. Still, Lieut. Col. John H. Glenn, Jr., has passed his 40th birthday. He is an uncommonly vigorous, lively 40-year-old, true. But others in their fifth decade have a right to consider him one of the fraternity.

This, as was noted above, is a gratifying shot in the arm for men inclined to wonder if they have not passed their peak. Now they will be justified in pointing out that another of about their age is undertaking a feat that will make extreme demands on physical and mental capabilities. His glory will reflect to some extent on everyone else in the fraternity of the middle-aged.

There is a general truth behind all this. It is that, as man's adventures become increasingly complex, they will be undertaken by men of sober years and long experience rather than by brash youths. The trained mind is gaining the ascendancy.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

SHOT AND SHELL!

Opening an address at Wilson College, Clare Booth Luce said:

"Today the two strongest nations in the world are drawn up in full battle array, facing one another across half the world. Their bombs testing in air, their rockets' red glare, seem proof to the world that war may be near."

It is not only the Great Powers that shoot at each other, but the little, new states, even parts of states like Katanga, fight for what they believe is freedom. The world is at war not only one country with another but each country within itself. Mrs. Luce states the American Case brilliantly:

"Morality in respect of force consisted in not striking the first military blow. Conversely, any nation who struck the first military blow against America, ipso facto established its own immorality.

"Consequently, the only moral casus bellum, or cause of war, which the Public Will has fully supported is the initiation of war on the United States. For almost a century, statesmanship has been constrained, diplomacy has been confined, and patriotism itself has been defined, by the moral necessity of waiting for Pearl Harbors."

But we are no longer living in a moral world. Perhaps the most significant achievement of the middle of the 20th Century was the overthrow of morality, the renunciation of Moral Law and the acceptance again of the rule of the jungle, namely, that he is right who has the will to declare himself to be right and to impose that will upon the Earth. Soviet Russia gathers the forces of strength and power from its doctrine of historic inevitability.

Against that, the President has to establish a renewed moral concept among the American people. Already he has spoken of physical fitness, but to be truly effective, he must become a moral leader. He must be a high priest of principle. He must be one who not only serves but who leads.

Clare Luce put it this way:

"Let me give you an elegant historical example of wise American statesmanship: the proclamation of the Monroe Doctrine, on December 2nd, 1823. This was a clearly stated political and diplomatic warning to all the nations of the world that the United States would rapidly raise armies to fight any nation which, for any reason good or bad, sought any conquest in this hemisphere. We said, in effect, that we would not wait until a conflict situation, involving a European power, developed in South America to determine whether our interests were affected. And we certainly would not wait until we ourselves were hit. We would, on the contrary, act at the first sign of European aggression in our hemisphere."

This is precisely what our President faces. Dares he to say that no Communist state will be established on the American continent and that if any European or Asiatic power attempts to establish such a state, we will fight?

The leader among us who will have the courage to meet this issue straight-forward and without fear will not only be respected but loved by our people who hate war but do not fear death.

Again Mrs. Luce warns the enemy:

"Our attitude in 1945 that it was immoral to alert the Russians to the fact that we might strike first unless a real peace could be negotiated, our long refusal even to warn an avowed enemy, an enemy whose intention to bury us and the free world had been clear from the beginning, had paralyzed our diplomacy, saw 600 millions of people dragged into slavery behind the Iron Curtain, intensified the cold war throughout the world, neutralized many countries, brought Russian power to our very own shores in Cuba, left us inert and humiliated before Castro — and now has at long last carried the whole suffering world to Armageddon."

In a word, if there must be a challenge, let us make the challenge fearlessly and positively. We cannot wait to be challenged because we cannot afford always to respond to another's initiative. We have to move forward on our own, strong and sure and utterly fearless.

It is interesting that it should be a woman who speaks out boldly in these days when men count their pennies and the consequences of conduct. Women are more courageous when they face realistic dangers and this nation has never before encountered a danger as great and as threatening as that which we face today — a danger not only to our political existence but to our civilization.

Pinworm Infection Can Recur But It Need Not

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Pinworm is the worm infestation of childhood which occurs most frequently. Many mothers who write to me seem to think that its presence in their household is a reflection on the care they give their youngsters and their home.

Others regard it as a drain on the child's health and attribute to it almost every complaint that puts in an appearance, such as rings under the eyes, sallow complexion, listlessness and backwardness in school.

Still others request the name of a curative drug, saying that their own doctor or doctors have prescribed unsuccessfully on previous occasions.

Let me try to deal with these disturbing problems in a single package:

The presence of pinworm is no reflection on the conscientiousness or capabilities of the housewife. She may be a perfectionist as mother and housekeeper and still be unable to prevent or get rid of the annoyance.

Except for itching and the resultant effects of restlessness and scratching, pinworm infestation is of no consequence to the affected youngster. If the infested child has any other complaint or manifestation of ill health, some other explanation must be sought and almost surely will be found.

Several safe and effective drugs are available to rid the child of pinworms. For obvious reasons, I cannot give the names of these drugs nor instructions for their use. Every effective drug has side reactions.

It also has toxic effects if given or taken in excessive dosage. Hence both the particular drug and the particular dose must be suited to the individual who is to take the drug according to specific instructions.

That's why you must get the prescription and the instructions for its use from your doctor who has put in years of study and experience so as to equip himself with the information needed to write you the prescription and give you the necessary instructions.

These several drugs do, in fact, "cure" pinworm infestations. But they can't and don't prevent recurrences.

They're not like a vaccine that helps you build up a more or less permanent immunity to the infecting organism.

The prevention of reinfection is primarily your job. And here's how you go about it: (1) under your doctor's direction, give the worm medicine to every member of the household whose specimen contains worms or eggs and to every domestic pet you permit to share your home; (2) scrub the toilet seat with any strong household disinfectant; (3) until you get an "all clear" from your doctor, trim the nails of all the infested until they're too short to pick up the eggs when they scratch and (4) keep the youngsters in snug sleeping garments so they can't get their nails in the crotch areas in which eggs are deposited.

Then, if re-infection still occurs, don't think it's a reflection on you or your doctor. Just go through the de-worming process all over again with no more fuss than you make about regular housecleaning.

Washington News

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The mystery of "Mister Z" who planted a think piece proposing complete unification of 18 U. S. government agencies for four departments into a new cabinet-level "Department of Natural Resources" is puzzling Washington.

Appearance of this article in the relatively small circulation "Natural Resources Journal" published by University of New Mexico Law School in Albuquerque caused some people to downgrade the idea as being old stuff to file and forget.

BUT NEW MEXICO IS A BIG STATE in water, conservation, power, mining, reclamation, public lands and Indian affairs. And the Journal is a respected intellectual type publication throughout the Southwest.

Its editor, Jack L. Kroner, while not endorsing the merger idea, says only that, "Mister Z desires to remain anonymous to stimulate discussion."

Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall, who comes from neighboring Arizona and whose department would have most to gain from any merger with natural resource agencies of Agriculture, Army Corps of Engineers and Department of Health, professed to know nothing of it.

WHEN SHOWN PROOFS OF THE ARTICLE, Udall did not repudiate the idea. He gave this comment:

"How to more effectively coordinate the various conservation activities of government has been a subject that has long attracted the attenion of thoughtful men both in and out of government. Certainly the author of the journal article could so qualify.

"Under this administration we feel we have made significant gains by obtaining a unity of purpose between various departments — a unity that should produce in this century the greatest gains in the conservation field. We will continue lending our efforts in that direction."

THE FACT THAT SEN. CLINTON P. ANERSON of New Mexico is chairman of the Senate's committee on Interior and a former secretary of agriculture made him a natural for questioning on the "Mister Z" natural resources unification idea. Reached in Albuquerque he made this comment:

"I did not have anything to do with publication of the article in the New Mexico State University Resources Journal and I am not Mister Z.

"My hope would be that planning for natural resources would be far more unified and harmonious among agencies than now is the case. But I have never proposed and do not favor transferring the Forest Service, REA, (Rural Electrification Administration), Soil Conservation and Corps of Engineers to the Department of Interior. This, in my opinion, is completely unnecessary no matter how sincerely we want a co-ordinated and unified program.

"I cannot answer whether there is or is not a plan to present such proposal to the coming session of Congress. But I have no such plan, know of no such plan and would not favor such plan."

THE IDEA OF MERGER has, of course, been kicked around Washington from time to time. The late Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes stubbed his toe trying to take over the Forest Service from Agriculture.

Minority reports from task forces on natural resources for ex-President Hoover's commission on reorganization recommended merger in 1949 and 1954, to no avail.

President Eisenhower appointed a cabinet committee on water resources to co-ordinate conflicting interests. It adopted some broad policy principles which left every agency just where it was, with nothing taken away.

THE CLASSIC RIVALRIES in this field are Forest Service vs. National Park Service over recreation facilities, Soil Conservation Service vs. Fish and Wildlife Service, Agriculture vs. Interior vs. Army engineers over upstream watershed development.

The biggest feud of all is Army Engineers vs. Bureau of Reclamation.

It was supposedly settled by the Pick-Sloan plan, which left downstream development to Army and upstream to Reclamation. But last October, Maj. Gen. William F. Cassidy, director of civil works for Army Engineers, made a hot speech before National Reclamation Assn. in Billings, Mont.

He boasted that the Army fathered the Reclamation Service and discovered Central Valley of California nearly 100 years ago. Also, Cassidy cited 160 authorized Corps. of Engineers reservoirs in 17 Western states, with a $400-million appropriation for this year in what is Reclamation territory.

Today in National Affairs

NAM Said to Feel Let Down By Kennedy Bow to Labor

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy may wonder at times why his Administration is so frequently referred to as "anti-business." He need wonder no longer. For while the President promised the National Association of Manufacturers last Wednesday in a speech at New York City that the next day in talking to the AFL-CIO convention he would "stress" the importance of holding down wage costs as a factor in price stability, he failed to do so. Indeed, his own Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg, later "interpreted" Mr. Kennedy's brief and incidental remarks before the AFL-CIO as meaning that demands for increased wages—and even strikes—were justified if based on "productivity."

"Productivity" Key

Now moct business men know from experience in labor negotiations that "productivity" is not really based very much on any increase in individual efficiency but is conveniently calculated nevertheless by labor-union economics to include substantially all savings made by new machinery and equipment. Theoretically some of the economics due to better machinery should be divided three ways—to the consumer in lower prices, to the stockholders in the form of earnings, and to labor in the form of increased wages. But customarily the labor unions demand almost all of the savings, and that's what they mean by "wage increases based on increased productivity."

The President's failure to keep his promise to the NAM and Secretary Goldberg's speech before the AFL-CIO may prove to be a turning point in Mr. Kennedy's political fortunes. Unfortunately, the President did not come to grips with the extremism of labor-union leaders at a crucial moment in the economic history of the United States when a serious maladjustment in the form of a recession or depression next year could retard America's growth and increase unemployment.

Raised NAM Hopes

The President raised high hopes at first when he talked severely to the business men at the NAM about restraints in prices and promised to speak as forthrightly to the labor unions. Here is what he said to the NAM convention last Wednesday:

"Labor, too, has its responsibilities for price stability, and I shall stress this tomorrow in addressing the AFL-CIO."

But the next day Mr. Kennedy, in the course of a long speech at Miami before the labor union convention, discussed largely what his administration had done for labor and would continue to do. He made only a brief reference to the subject of price stability and he directed this to both labor and management. A stenographic record of what he said—as given out by the White House—follows:

"I am hopeful that management and labor will recognize their responsibility to permit us to compete, that those of you who are in the area of wage negotiation will recognize the desirability of us maintaining as stable prices as possible, and that the area of productivity and stable prices—that your negatiations will take adequate calculation and account of this need for us to maintain a balance of trade in our favor. In the long run it's in the interests of your own workers."

But this comment puzzled the unions, and hence Secretary of Labor Goldberg the next day in his speech to the same convention undertook to amplify it as follows:

"If we are going to keep the economy going on a sound non-inflationary basis, wage increases over-all should be earned by increasing productivity."

Mr. Goldberg then immediately declared that this did not mean wages should necessarily be stabilized. He pointed out that the formula provides "plenty of room for advance in this highly productive country."

Now it so happens that in his prepared speech Mr. Goldberg urged labor to abandon "make-work" practices and he also deplored "a squeeze on business profits," but he omitted all this on delivery. He later explained to inquiring reporters that he did so just because he "didn't have time." But Bernard Rossiter, staff reporter of the Washington Post, telegraphed afterward from the Florida convention hall these observations:

"But however careful the Secretary was of the touchy union leaders' sensibilities, his remarks added muscle to the softer version of the wage restraint message that President Kennedy carried here yesterday. . . .

To Ignore Plea

"Organized labor is preparing to ignore President Kennedy's plea for wage restraint and declare that substantial pay increases are needed to quicken the pace of economic growth."

Perhaps the best summing up of the damage done by the President's failure to speak out forcefully on the wage issue is contained in the following paragraph in a New York Times editorial on Sunday:

"If the end effect of the President's campaign for voluntary holding of the price line is to throw all the responsibility on industry, Mr. Kennedy will undo all the efforts he has been making to persuade the business community that he does not apply a double standard to business and to labor."

When, it may be asked, is America going to be blessed with a national leadership that eschews the politics of pressure groups and really champions the national interest? When, moreover, are recessions and depressions going to be nipped in the bud? A President some day who learns how to get across the doctrine that in America "there is enough for everybody's need but not enough for everybody's greed" could find himself an easy winner of re-election.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Although President Kennedy appears to have rid himself of Chester Bowles at last, it is difficult to understand why Bowles was taken into the Administration even as a probationer in view of his association with Leigh Danenberg, the publisher of a radical weekly paper called the Bridgeport Herald. The House Committee on Un-American Activities once tried to learn whether Sam Carp owned any interest in this paper or wielded any influence on its contents by reason of his status as Molotov's brother-in-law and his authority to spend either $100,000,000 or $200,000,000 in the United States for the Russian government. Because he was "subject to forgeting," Carp was not sure of the amount.

The committee examined Carp twice, in 1939 and again in 1945. The second inquiry was stifled by an urgent request from the State Department. It represented that relations between the White House and the Kremlin would be embarrassed by further questioning of Sam Carp. Although Roosevelt was dead and relations with Moscow were badly clabbered, nevertheless the committee went into secret session and the information which trickled out was sketchy. However, Carp readily admitted that he had received authority in Moscow to spend $100,00,000 to $200,000,000 for the Soviet government for various articles. He could not recall whether his commission was to be one or two per cent. One trinket was a battleship of 35,000 or more tons which had the fatal defect that it could not possibly float. Therefore it was not pursued beyond the stage of sketches by a New York firm of naval architects.

But Sam denied that he had anything to do with the Bridgeport Herald. There he drew the line. He volunteered the astonishing comment, for a Russian agent, that he would not have it in his house to expose his children to such reading.

The Bridgeport Herald reigned throughout the New Deal and war periods and Danenberg was held in fear by Republicans and socially supercilious snobs who resolutely refused to have any truck with him. His wife somehow qualified for a wartime journey to England and Soviet Russia, though Roy Howard and Col. R. R. McCormick were denied credentials to visit any war zone on the grounds that they were well represented by employes.

But when Bowles was sent to India and Nepal as Harry Truman's ambassador in 1952-1953, he picked Danenberg to personify, to the benighted scribes of that purview, Bowles's concept of the dignity, honor and ethics of the American press. This may have been a delicate aspersion on his intimate friend and neighbor, China-boy Henry Luce, of the Time-Life, jerked-English axis of American journalism. Chester and China-boy were closely commingled in a grotesque association which included also Robert Hutchins, formerly of the University of Chicago but latterly of the Fund for the Republic; ex-Senator William Benton and the ambidextrous Paul Hoffman, who "administered" abundant "foreign aid" under Truman and landed in the United Nations under the equally ambidextrous Eisenhower, who thought Hoffman was a Republican. All were more or less associated with the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Bowles has lavish patience with sovereignties friendlier to Moscow than to us. His choice of Mr. Danenberg as an exemplar of American journalism perplexed a few purists who had persued the Herald at arm's length and with instinctive puckers of the proboscis. But Bowles did not have to explain to anyone and the question whether the pair of them contributed to the "image" of the ugly American and, if so, to what extent is imponderable.

Sam Carp's brother-in-law recently returned to Moscow for a session in the woodshed, if not at the execution wall, as an unregenerate exponent of Stalinism. Mrs. Molotov is Sam's sister.

Sam got rich on his own efforts in the oil business in Bridgeport, but details of his traffic with the Soviet government were veiled by the Department of State.

Miss Courter is student nurse at the Middletown State Hospital.

On Its Own

SPRING VALLEY, Minn. (AP) —Mrs. John Kenning wonders if she could have done as well in the car. After she fell out on a turn, the car: crossed a highway, skimmed through a lot without touching some 1962 models, slipped between a pole and guy wire and went down an alley. Only blotch on its record—the car crashed into a garage at the end of its run.

OLEANDER'S CHRISTMAS EVE

By JAY HEAVILIN

Set Dec. 15 Deadline ForSchoolTaxPayment

Mrs. Edna S. Morgan, collector-treasurer of the City School District of Kingston (Consolidated) said Friday, Dec. 15, is the final day on which payments of 1961-62 school taxes may be paid at her office.

Payments received by mail which bear a postmark after December 15 will have to be returned to the sender. Mrs. Morgan respectfully suggests early mailing to avoid the possibility of delay in the large volume of Christmas mail.

During the period from Decem 16 to January 7, no payments of these taxes may be made, since during this interval the list of delinquent taxes must be prepared for submission to the city and county treasurers.

After January 8, 1962 delinquent taxes on property situated in the City of Kingston may be paid at the office of the City Treasurer, City Hall, Kingston, and that on properties located in the townships at the office of the County Treasurer, 285 Wall Street, Kingston.

All of these delinquent taxes will be subject to an additional penalty of five per cent and interest of one-half of one per cent per month from December 16.

Open Bids Wednesday On Two Area Projects

Bids on 11 projects including State University College, New Paltz and Highland Training School for Boys for construction, repairs and alterations to various state-owned facilities will be opened at the State Office Building, Albany at 2 p. m. Wednesday, J. Burch McMorran, superintendent of public orks said today.

The work at Highland Training School for Boys includes electric installation of new service and appurtenant work. The job at New Paltz will include grounds lighting at Dormitory Building No. 9.

Hosts and hostesses will be Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Williams, Mr. and Mr. Edard Collard, Mr. and Mrs. Jacques Bauman, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barth, Mrs. Segrid Pedersen, Clarence Dunn, Fred Loetscher and Charles Schoonmaker.

Plattekill unit of Ulster County Demonstration Service will hold its annual Christmas party Tuesday, Dec. 19, at 8 p. m. at Plattekill Elementary School.

Gifts will be exchanged and refreshments served.

The Rev. Herbert W. Hahn, of Middletown, former pastor of Plattekill and Rossville Methodist Churches, and a retired Methodist minister, has written a booklet "The Marks of a Christian," to be published during the Lenten season.

The Rev. Mr. Hahn wrote "Basic Belief's of the Christian Faith," which was published previously, pertaining to evangelic literature.

Lcal Man Attends Education Conference

John Glennon of 28 South Wilbur Avenue, Kingston, a Fifth Grade teacher at James S. Evans School, Wappingers Falls recently returned from Washington, D. C. after spending four days of study and discussiion with other teachers at a National Education Association conference.

He attended with some of the nation's top scholars and research specialists, with a fresh store of information on how to do a better job of teaching.

These teachers have literally "gone back to school" while attending the regional conference on instructions sponsored by the National Education Association.

They were invited by the NEA, along with approximately 400 other teachers from an eight-state area and the District of Columbia, to take part in conference sessions at NEA headquarters.

1,895 Licenses Suspended for No Inspection

ALBANY — Registrations and plates of 1,895 motorists were suspended during October for infractions of the state's periodic motor vehicle law, the Department of Motor Vehicles announced today.

Vehicles owned by 1,705 failed to pass the safety check; 93 other owners were convicted for operating an uninspected vehicle; and 97 more were suspended when they appeared at road test lines with uninspected cars.

The 8,870 licensed inspection stations in the state reported 362,000 examinations conducted during the month of 1955 model vehicles and those of lesser age that had changed ownership.

Commissioner William S. Hults also pointed out that during November, seven inspection stations —none in Ulster County—were penalized by revocation of their licenses to conduct the checks for various violations of the regulations.

The commissioner reminded owners of 1957 model vehicles that, although their cars will not be more than four years old and therefore not subject to the inspection law until January 1, they must pass inspection before they may be driven on or after January 1.

Owners may obtain 1962 number plates during December without having their vehicles inspected but may not do so in January unless the renewal stub bears an inspection approval stamp.

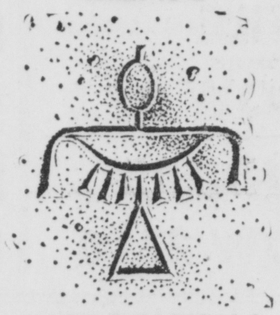
matter of Fact

Next to roses, forget-me-nots are probably the most popular flower with poets. Ever wonder how this delicate flower got such a wistful name? According to an old German legend, "forget me not" were the last words of a knight who was drowned in the attempt to get the flower for his lady.

What is a



HIEROGLYPH?

A hieroglyph is a character in the picture writing of ancient Egyptians and other ancient peoples.

The study of hieroglyphics is one part of the study of archaeology, a science that not only helps us to understand the development of past civilizations but, in so doing, helps us to a better understanding of modern civilization. Unfortunately many potential archaeologists may never study this important science because they may never go to college. Already some of our colleges are overcrowded and in 10 years applications will double. We will need more and better college laboratories and thousands more of the highest quality professors.

Who Can Say No To Them At Christmas?

It's their time of the year. And we parents measure our joy by the width of their smiles. Of all the gifts little girls receive, perhaps none evoke the delight of crisp, colorful, rustling new clothing. This year, when you select your children's clothing, look for a small label inside. It's a special label – one that says this garment was made by members of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union.

There's a Christmas story in the ILGWU label. A story of human values, of brotherhood, of the faith and hopes of men of good will. It starts over a half century ago when people in the garment trades worked in dark, dirty, crowded sweatshops; when the 60 and 70 hour week was the standard. And vacations, holidays with pay, lunch hours – were the subject of bitter jokes. Christmas –humbug!

But these workers had a vision. They dreamed of a life that would enable them to decently feed, clothe and house their families; to educate their children. They wanted to become responsible, contributing members of a healthy, democratic society. Many were immigrants – newly arrived in America in search of opportunity denied them in the old countries.

And so they dreamed—and they struggled. For decades. They tackled employers with the power to deny them a livelihood. They braved the cold fury of professional hoodlums.

And they won.

Today the label of the ILGWU is a symbol of achievement for both employees and employers. It stands as a testament to the fact that the clothing was made by skilled craftsmen in a shop reflecting the best American standards and traditions. It is also the signature of 450,000 men and women who, through their union, have achieved fair standards, the dignity of a voice in their own conditions of employment, a position of respect in their communities.

Now Christmas is more than a fringe benefit. It is a time when most families in America can enjoy their blessings. In many instances, the blessings unions have fought to achieve: decent wages, the seven-hour day, the five-day week, health funds, retirement benefits, paid vacations, etc.

Consider this story. And take the extra moment, not only to tell your children about it – but to look for the ILGWU label the next time you shop for women's and girls' clothing. You can feel proud when you wear or give clothing with the ILGWU label in it.

Set Examination For Caseworkers In State Welfare

A state-wide Civil Service examination will be held February 3, for caseworker, junior caseworker to establish an eligible list from which appointments may be made.

There are more than 200 full-time permanent positions open in the various jurisdictions of New York State. Starting salaries are up to $5,350.

The starting salary in Ulster County is $4,040. No vacancies exist in Ulster County at this time but the list will be used to make future appointments.

This examination affords opportunities for college seniors and graduates. Applications for the examination will be accepted up until January 2, 1962.

The list resulting from the February examination will not supersede the previous lists established of this title. The earlier lists will continue to be used for a period of two years from the dates that they are established unless they are exhausted prior to that time.

New York State residence is not required. The written examination will be given at convenient locations throughout the state as named on the application form. Further information may be obtained from the local Civil Service office, 32 Main Street. Completed applications are sent to the State Department of Civil Service, The State Campus, 1220 Washington Avenue, Albany 1.

Included in the duties is investigation of need for assistance and care at public expense, render case services to families and individuals in need and to children placed for care in foster homes or institutions, and do related work as required.

Appointments from the list may be made in other localities than the county of residence.

Dake Named President

The directors of Stewart's Ice Cream Co., Inc., at a board meeting Wednesday, announced the election of Charles S. Dake as president. Dake has been serving as general manager of Stewart's Ice Cream Co., Inc., for 13 years and under his stewardship it has achieved its present stature with 54 stores in New York State, Vermont and Massachusetts. Dake indicated there would be even greater growth an an even broader line of the quality dairy products and baked goods which Stewart's have been serving to their customers for over 16 years.

It's The Truth!

Harry B. Bullard, Gen. Mgr.

From the North Vernon Sun came this observation: "The guy who ought to be investigated is the disc jockey who played rock 'n roll records not for payola but because he liked them." You can get all shades of opinions on most subjects, but there's one on which all experienced people agree: "Your long-run economy depends mostly on the reliability of the firms with whom you deal." For mutual benefit, may we serve you, please?

Financial and Commercial

By ED MORSE
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)— Industrials moved forward in response to strong investment demand and gave the stock market a substantial gain despite some profit taking early this afternoon. Trading wss heavy.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.10 at 266.20 with industrials up 1.40, rails up .20 and utilities up .80.

Gains of fractions to a point among pivotal issues outnumbered losers in the same range.

Steels, motors and some oils were bought heavily, reflecting institutional interest. The leading tobaccos, some airlines and rails also improved.

The picture was spotty among chemicals, electrical equipments, nonferrous metals and drugs.

WOMEN HAS NARROW ESCAPE IN FIRE—A woman was treated for smoke poisoning as a result of a Franklin Street fire late Sunday morning, and the car of a downtown man was badly damaged in an earlier blaze. Elsie Brussack, 46, of 29 Franklin Street was taken from the second floor of the house there (above) and treated at Kingston Hospital. Firemen said the fire was discovered by Margaret Maloney a neighbor. William Tubby, of 37 Franklin Street, they said, forced open a door and Herbert Houghtaling, of 43 VanBuren Street, brought the woman from the building and she was taken to the hospital in a Fatum ambulance. The fire started in a mattress and spread to bed clothes. It caused heavy smoke in the building along with damage to the bedroom. Units from Central and Wiltwyck stations and the Wicks Company answered a call at 11:42 a. m. with Chief James M. Brett, and Deputy Chief George D. Matthews in charge. The house is owned by Peter Rosenkrans, of Clintondale. The inside of a car owned by Peter Miltner, of 257 West Chestnut Street, was badly damaged at that address earlier Sunday. A unit from Cornell Station responded and a hydrant stream was used on the blaze. A call at 7:44 p. m. Saturday was for a fire in a dryer in the laundromat at 9 East O'Reilly Street. It was checked by firemen from Central Station. The clothes, were owned by Mrs. J. Schoonmaker of 16 Mary's Avenue. (Freeman Photo)

Eight Are Injured In Auto Mishaps Occurring Here

Seven persons were injured in five weekend city traffic mishaps and another reported injuries after an accident early today.

Most of Sunday's collisions were attributed to skidding. They included several minor mishaps not included in the general report.

Four persons were reported injured in a three-car accident at North Front Street and Washington Avenue early Sunday afternoon.

Cars involved, police said, were driven by Robert Frankel, 20, Alden House, Larchmont; Ronald Lauppe, 23, of 72 Main Street, and Robert Allen Lasher, 23, of 188 Pine Street.

Reported injured were: Robert Frankel, head; Carl Fogerty, Malden-on-Hudson, head and possible internal injuries; Robert Lasher, back injury, and Ronald Lauppe, left hand and back.

The injured were taken to Kingston Hospital and all cars were towed from the scene. Officers Meyer Levy and Richard Scherer investigated.

Injured in a two-car collision attributed to skidding, as reported at 2:10 a. m. Sunday were Philip Bassett, 17, of 206 Albany Avenue Extension, back and head injuries, and Wilbur Mathews, 33, of Legion Court, Port Ewen, driver of a taxi, head injury. Bassett was admitted to Kingston Hospital. The cars collided at Broadway and Pine Grove Avenue.

The other car, police said, was operated by Anthony Coviello, 32, of 31 Cross Street, Beacon. Officers Thomas Kearney and Garvin Fisher investigated.

John Ponselle, 23, of 149-20 231st Street, Jamaica, suffered abrasions of the lips, a possible concussion and loss of a tooth, police said, when the car he drove skidded and struck a tree near Judie's Restaurant, Albany Avenue, shortly after 2 a. m. today. The car was towed from the scene and the fire department was called to flush away gasoline which had spilled near the curb. Sgt. Bernard Fowler with officers William Whalen and Gerald Every investigated.

Another report at 3 a. m. Sunday said a car driven by Carl Cline, 45, of Port Ewen, struck a pole on Hasbrouck Avenue near Delaware, when he pulled toward the curb to avoid a collision. The other vehicle did not stop, the report said.

A police report indicated no injuries after another three-car mishap Saturday night at Foxhall Avenue and Garden Streets. The cars involved, the report said were driven by Wilson Henry Clay, 43, of 95 Gage Street; Charles A. Ryan, 62, of 105 Foxhall Avenue, and Joseph P. Nini, 54, of 200 Wiltshire Avenue, Butler, Pa. It was reported at 7:30 p. m.

No injuries were reported after a two-car mishap early Sunday afternoon at Broadway and O'Neil St. Officers Joseph Kivlan and Richard Dempsey reported the one car was driven by Alfred Henry Nault, 23, of 263 Eugenia Avenue, Ft. Myers Lee, Fla. and the other was operated by John Charles Lepinski, 511 Lepisto Avenue, Wakefield, Mich.

Drivers Unhurt In Rt. 28 Crash

Two drivers escaped injury but their vehicles were damaged early Sunday morning in a skidding accident on Route 28 near the junction in the town of Kingston. According to the sheriff's department, an automobile, operated by Thomas Malone, 26, of Toronto, Canada, and owned by B. Zelmer of Tannery Brook Road, Woodstock, skidded left on snow as it headed west up grade at 2:30 a. m. Sunday. It was involved in a collision with a car operated by Frederick M. Besmer, 22 of RD 3, Box 440 Saugerties who was heading down grade east and was unable to stop because of the snow. The car operated by Malone received heavy damage to its left side.

Deputy Sheriffs Michael Stuper and Ernest Ahlberg investigated.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING...

Father and Son Require Separate Stock Accounts

Q) "I am 60 years old and my son is 23. He is now serving in the Army overseas and will be there for another two and one-half years. He sends his allotment checks home, and we have begun to buy common stocks together. Our holdings now include California Interstate Telephone, General Public Uilities, and some mutual fund shares. Only the first one has done much for us. Since we are many years apart in age, do you think we should forget about investing together and do it separately, buying growth stocks for him and higher yielding issues for me?" — H. U.

A) Yes, I do.

Under your present investment plan, you are constantly faced with the problem that a stock may be suitable for one of you to own but is not always good for both. Of course, you can compromise to some extent and try to buy middle-ground issues but, over a period, one of you is bound to fall short of his investment goals.

My advce is that you begin to use two separate accounts. Your son will then be able to concentrate on building up his capital while you can stress the more conservative, income-producing situations.

In making the changeover, I suggest that you transfer California Interstate Telephone to your son and that you take ownership of General Puble Utilities and the mutual fund. Later, I believe you'll find investment decisions far easier to make and that the move has been of distinct benefit to each of you.

Q) "I am a widow, 55. My father left me some stocks which pay dividends of about $1,400 a year. Should I pay Social Security tax on this $1,400? If I sell any of my shares, would I have to pay Social Security tax on the profits made?"—E. R.

A) The answer to both your questions is no. The Social Security program levies a tax on wages but does not tax dividend income or capital gains resulting from ordinary security transactions.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail but will answer all questions possible in his column.

YouthFaces Two Traffic Charges In Auto Mishap

A 17-year-old Port Ewen youth was arrested on a charge of being an unlicensed operator and failure to keep to the right, as the aftermath of a two-car crash on Flatbush Road in the Town of Ulster Saturday at 8:45 p. m. Neither operator was hurt in the mishap, according to the sheriff's department.

John W. Ellis of 192 Sunset Drive, Port Ewen was operating a car owned by Cecil R. Ellis of the same address when, the sheriff's report said, he swung too wide to make a right turn and was in collision with a car operated by Anthony H. Jornov Jr., 37, of RFD, Tivoli. The left front of the Ellis car and the left side of the Jornov vehicle were damaged.

Deputy Sheriffs Jack Seaholm and John G. Daly summoned young Ellis to appear before Justice of Peace Robert Stedge on the charges. The justice will set a hearing date later in the week.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

Those who like to give books as holiday gifts perhaps would be interested in "The Story of Kingston" by Andrew S. Hickey, a selection in the American Heritage series, which came out in 1952 and still can be bought at local book stores. Another smaller book which I own is "Teacup Tales" a folklore of the Hudson Valley by Pauline Hommell which was published by Vantage Press in 1958.

Books of this kind can be bought while in their first printing, but once they are sold out, sometimes they are no longer obtainable in book stores. Presently also, I think these books can be autographed by the authors, both my copies are.

I have Henry Abbey's Poems dated 1885. My first copy was loaned to me by James Rigney Jr. of 2 South Washington Avenue. Later, Tom Walsh, of 37 Boulevard, dealer in Hudson River and Ulster County books gave me a copy in excellent condition. Another book I value is "Ulster County Under the Dutch" by Augustus H. Van Buren, which was given me by local historian and lecturer, Harry Rigby Jr.

I have a lovely leather copy of "My Mother's Girlhood" by Sara A. Van Deusen Merritt (Mrs. James O. Merritt) of Kingston, published in 1904 which was given me by Fred A. Gerhardt, of 161 East Chester Street. These all cover the history of Kingston by Kingstonians. Another is Rachel DuMont, by Mary Westbrook, originally written for private distribution. My copy is the fourth of an illustrated edition published in 1890. "A true story of the burning of Kingston by the British in 1776, for girls and boys and older people."

There are many other books written by local historians, perhaps about their own families. Some of these stories were handed down from generation to generation, and full of facts and dates taken from old documents and letters. There is another fine little book called "The Beginnings of New York—Kingston the First State Capital" by Mary Isabella Forsyth. So, if you wish to give a gift to someone who already has a good library, and appreciates interesting books on local history, perhaps some of these books are still obtainable. There is something fascinating about a book to one who loves to read.

Modern books which are coming out each day, and can be had in paper covers, can be bought at any time and most anywhere. I find value and pleasure in these books to which I can refer and check one aginst the other. There are many excellent paper cover books on science, art, history and languages which are reasonable and necessary on a book shelf. The paper covered art books are remarkable for often they contain reproductions in color. Perhaps in time, they will have one out on Vanderlyn's paintings.

I felt that the Hudson-Fulton celebration brought out a tremendous number of fine books and booklets on the history of the Hudson River. I do not think the recent celebration did as well. There are so many Hudson River histories that one runs across and they all seemed to be dated around 1909. There is even a book out on the "Ulster County Gazette" of Jan. 4, 1880, which several years ago could be bought through the 5th Avenue and 42nd Street Public Library in New York City. In my school days I do not remember such books on local history.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—It was painfully apparent again Sunday night that a good old movie does not necessarily convert into a good new television program.

The most recent in a long string of demonstrations of this thesis was "Notorious," in NBC's disappointing "Theatre-62" series of movie adaptations. The live and lavish remake was a pedestrian, often boring spy thriller in which there was practically no character development.

Even the fact that our heroine had a past—that was the basis for the title—was quickly glossed over and all that was left was a lot of rushing around in big, beautiful sets and hunting for microfilm in champagne bottles.

It is said that the one-hour TV format is hard to work in, but it seemed that during about one half of the hour, Barbara Rush (who looks and acts a lot like Loretta Young) and George Grizzard just necked on camera. Joseph Cotton too, had little to do.

The program came shortly after a two-hour repeat of "The Wizard of Oz" on CBS, an old, old movie that seems to gain rather than lose charm with annual repetition.

One only hopes that they don't decide to make that one again with some new kid taking Judy Garland's place.

Robert Crean's "Come Again to Carthage," on CBS Friday night was an original drama, well produced and well acted. It was the story of a young nun, played by Piper Laurie, who returns to her family after six years to find her father dying, her mother an alcoholic and her sister's marriage on the rocks.

At the hour's end, the father died, the mother made a step toward sobriety and the girl went back to the convent, all having learned lessons of some sort. But just exactly what Crean, one of the few Catholic dramatists writing in TV, was trying to point out was obscure—at least it has eluded this puzzled viewer.

Gary Morton, Lucille Ball's new husband, made his TV debut on Ed Sullivan's show Sunday night. He told some mildly amusing jokes, did some imitations (including James Cagney, of course), and sang a bit. His style of comedy is something like that of Jack Carter.

Recommended tonight: "Bing Crosby Show," ABC, 9-10 (EST).

VARIOUS FORCES KEEP PRICES HIGH

Hemmed in by many economic and psychological forces, hundreds of the best common stocks are selling at high prices. These forces make the stock market vulnerable, and a dangerous one for inexperienced investors.

The capital gains' tax is one of the leading forces. And the higher stock prices go, the more reluctant are investors to cash in profits. Here, for example, is an investor with 1,200 shares of United States Steel. Originally, he bought 200 shares for $10,000. Split-ups in the stock have given him 1,200 shares and at $80 a share (he thought of selling at $90 several times this year), he has cashable profits of about $85,000. His tax bill (state and Federal) of about $25,000 stops him from selling.

Closely coupled with this decision is his firm belief that inflation is going on and on. The public consciousness that the buying power of the dollar is to deteriorate in the future further affirms his action not to sell.

Taxes and inflation are strong forces putting common-stock prices higher. Both have important psychological bases.

Economic growth is a third factor forcing stock prices higher. Again, to illustrate: Years ago, the trustees of a religious society bought 500 shares of Consolidated Edison common stock with $10,000 in inherited money. Very recently they came into another $10,000 inheritance.

Consolidated Edison was selling at $85 a share and the original inheritance had grown to a value of more than $42,000. The society pays no taxes. The trustees believe that the power, light and heat requirements of the New York City community will continue to grow and they decided to buy another 100 shares, even at present advanced prices.

There was some discussion at the meeting about taking some non-taxable profits but the economic-growth factor was the decisive argument in buying more shares.

The unbalanced budgets in Washington create more debt in many important social and economic circles, and—when this is monetized—great quantities of dollars enter the markets to force prices higher, influencing investment decisions.

The quality of the American dollar is declining and the quantity is steadily increasing. A 70-year-old retired business executive has just bought $100,000 of high-grade common stocks yielding less than 3 per cent a year in the aggregate with money from a matured endowment insurance policy.

Every force mentioned in this article went into his calculations before he decided to buy these common stocks.

Rising standards of living are another factor on causing investors to buy common stocks. Most of the capital goods industries and consumers' goods enterprises are devoting much time, energy and money to giving America higher living standards.

National income grows from decade to decade, and with families all over the land stand to improve their social and economic conditions. The way to share in such prosperity is to buy the common stocks of the enterprises that will be in the center of these activities.

Yes, the stock market is high. But it will go higher.

Bill Introduced About Seat Belts

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Small school buses, taxis and rented automobiles used in the state would be required to have seat belts, under a bill introduced in the 1962 Legislature.

The Joint Legislative Committee on Motor Vehicles and Traffic Safety prefiled the measure Saturday.

It filed another bill that would empower the State Motor Vehicle Department to test seat belts and reject those that did not meet committee specifications.

Sen. Edward J. Speno, R-Nassau, committee chairman, said:

"Seat belts will safeguard children in the widely used station-wagon type of school bus, which, because of smaller size, greater speed and proximity of doors to occupants, offers less protection in case of accidents than the large school bus."

The bill would mandate the belts on school buses that seat 12 or fewer pupils.

Speno maintains that seat belts reduce by more than 35 per cent the chance of death or serious injury in an automobile accident.

Vote of Confidence

Ulster Park, New York
December 7, 1961

Editor, The Freeman:

I read in the December 2nd issue of The Kingston Daily Freeman a letter written by Mrs. Dorothy Galitzky, 203 Lucas Avenue, relative to the new schools being constructed in the Kingston Consolidated District. I took Mrs. Galitzky's advice and stopped at 403 Broadway to obtain a copy of the October, 1961, Focus.

I am anxious to state that I am happy to see our Board of Education moving forward with the school construction program. We remember that the taxpayers voted $6,000,000 for new schools in May, 1959. Our Board of Education members have, in my opinion, fulfilled their responsiblities for the best interest of the children.

I am always amused when people object to children receiving a broad program of education. Where can we expect the school to provide speech service, instrumental music service, space for the psychologist and a room for health activities, including those of the nurse and the dental hygienist, unless space is provided. I am glad to see that we have these special services provided to most children these days and it is encouraging to know that these teachers have a place to take the children for such instruction.

Most parents today realize that plans are carefully checked by the New York State Education Department and boards of education are required to provide adequate educational servces. I am advised that our Board has counseled wisely on such matters with the Bureau of Buildings and Grounds. I do, however, agree with Mrs. Galitzky on one point. The new plans will indeed, be an "eye-opener" for many and, as one interested citizen, I would like to extend a "vote of confidence" to our Board of Education for service rendered in behalf of the children of the district for the construction of schools which provide many educational services.

Sincerely,
REUPEN GULLIAN

Paratroopers Are Resuming Plans For Tuesday Jump

CAMP DRUM, N.Y. (AP)—The 1,800 men of the 82nd Airborne Division, after overnight passes, resumed preparations today for Tuesday's airborne assault, the climax of Exercise Trailbreak.

The men are receiving cold-weather combat training at this Northern New York base. They were given the passes Saturday after a week in the field.

Tuesday, 1,260 men will stage a practice airborne assault against an aggressor force on the ground.

The soldiers of the parachute force are members of the First Airborne Battle Group of the 325th Infantry, Fort Bragg, N.C. The aggressor force is made up of soldiers from the First Battle Group of the 4th infantry, Fort Devins, Mass.

The paratroops are part of the recently formed Strike Command, a force organized to be sent to any trouble spot in the world on short notice.

Guard Conducts Annual Events

The 12th annual dinner dance of the 1st Howitzer Battalion, 156th Artillery of the New York Army National Guard was held Friday evening at the Oddo House in Clintondale with some sixty officers and guests attending.

Honored guests included Mayor-elect John J. Schwenk of Kingston, Mayor and Mrs. Victor C. Waryas of Poughkeepsie and Supervisor-elect Joseph Martorana of the town of Plattekill.

Major Frank Fabbie of Kingston, battalion executive officer acted as toastmaster and CWO Thomas W. Miller of Kingston, battalion personnel officer acted as chaplain and gave the invocation.

Lieut. Colonel Arthur H. Marx, commanding officer and the guests of honor spoke briefly.

Peter Ferraro's "Red Legs" of Kingston played for dancing.

The committee on arrangements included Capt. Otto Schaedlich of Poughkeepsie, CWO John G. Reynolds of Port Ewen and 1st Lieut. John V. G. Kemble Jr. of Hurley.

Leaves on Cruise

Harold J. Setera, boilerman third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Setera of 80 Jervis Street, Kingston, is en route to the North Atlantic aboard a destroyer. The ship, whose Naval Reserve crew was mobilized in October, will visit Portsmouth, England, and spend the Christmas holidays in Rotterdam. Later stops will be made in France and Portugal during the cruise.

3 Mt. Marion Scouts Receive Religious Awards

The presentation of the God and Country Awards to three communicant members of the Plattekill Reformed Church was made by the Rev. Henry L. Reinewald, pastor, at the Sunday morning worship service, as a climax of a program of religious study and service fulfilled over a period of a year by the First Class Boy Scouts.

George Aplustill, son of Mrs. Dora Aplustill of Route 2, Saugerties, Alan Larsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Larsen of Route 4, and D. Ronald MacRae, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas MacRae of Route 5, exemplified their abilities in churchmanship, church attendance, church history, a study of the Bible, a Christian witness, understanding of the mission of the church and a thorough understanding of their responsibilities of church, home and country, to qualify for the awards.

In addition to the coveted award the boys will receive a personal letter from the Rev. D. J. VanderHaar, director of the department of young people's work in the Reformed Church in America, in which it is noted that of the 378 Scouting units sponsored by the Reformed Churches in America, only 67 Scouts had completed the God and Country requirements for the award in 1960.

They will also receive a copy of the presentation service by the Rev. Mr. Reinwald as a gift from the church.

MacRae is a member of Boy Scout Troop 138, sponsored by the Mt. Marion-Ruby Fire Company. Aplustill and Larsen are members of Troop 32 of the Atonement Lutheran Church in Saugerties. Each boy was examined by the consistory of the church and the Protestant committee on scouting of the Rip VanWinkle Council upon completion of their requirements and prior to the presentation of the awards.

Morse Expresses View on Fitness

The Physical Education Newsletter of Nov. 27, 1961, published by Croft Educational Services of New London, Conn., carries the following statement:

"PHYSICAL FITNESS—We had an interesting letter from Grant D. Morse, superintendent of schools in Saugerties, New York, not long ago. In commenting on the renewed emphasis on physical fitness, he pointed out most school systems were not going to hire any great additional numbers of PE instructors, for practical reasons. He says, very sensibly, it seems to us:

'Americans, young and old, are not likely to become good physical specimens through exercises, callithenics or games directed by teachers or other hired personnel. If we are to become good physical specimens, it will be through the personal efforts that we make, using the programs in our schools and in other places as springboards from which to take off. It would seem to me that if we can encourage directors and teachers of physical education to encourage and stimulate the individual to take upon himself the responsibility for making himself a good physical speciment, we may achieve some improvement; but if we depend upon directed physical exercise, we shall fail. Actually, the situation in this area is not far different from what it is in other subject areas such as English or modern foreign languages. Almost no one becomes highly proficient in English or modern foreign language unless he exerts himself positively and aggressively outside the classroom and the school situation.'"

Schedule Announced For Holiday Programs

Dates for the Christmas programs to be held in the seven elementary schools and the junior-senior high school of the Saugerties Central School District have been announced. Parents and friends may attend.

The schedule is as follows: Main Street School, Dec. 18, Grades 1 and 2, 9 a. m.; grades 3 and 4, 10 a. m.; Glasco School, Dec. 19, grades 1-4, 9:30 a. m.; Mt. Marion, Dec. 20, grades 1-4, 9 a. m.; Cedar Grove, Dec. 20, grades 1-6, 7:30 p. m.; Katsbaaan, Dec. 21, grades 1-6, 9:30 a. m.; Malden, Dec. 21, 10:30 a. m.; Flatbush, Dec. 19, grade 1, 1 p. m.; Grades 4 and 5, Dec. 20, 1 p. m.; junior-senior high school, Dec. 21, grade 7, 11:50-12:34; grades 8-12, 10:47-11:38.

Malden-W.CampGroup Plans Yule Activities

The Malden-West Camp Fire Department Ladies Auxiliary will hold its Christmas party Tuesday, Dec. 19, 8 p. m. at the West Camp Station.

Dec. 23 they will join with the firemen in the annual family Christmas party beginning with a covered dish supper at 5 p. m. During the afternoon of Dec. 23, Santa Claus will be present at both the Malden Station and the West Camp Station to welcome the children of the area and give them candy and fruit.

Parasite

Today's friendly, romantic mistletoe, which hangs as a Christmas decoration, is a far cry from its forest cousin, a dwarf species which is a parasite that stunts and weakens pine and fir trees, ultimately killing its victims.

39 Yule Lights Stolen

Each year about this time, a few mixed up individuals lacking in common decency spoil the spirit of Christmas and its general feeling of good will toward men, by stealing bulbs from Christmas trees installed by well-meaning people to celebrate the birth of the Christ Child. Saugerties Village police received reports that 18 bulbs were taken from the tree at the municipal building and 21 were reported missing from the huge tree at Main and Market Streets sponsored by Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce.

Cornell Accepts Truman Letters

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP)—A collection of former President Harry S. Truman's letters and other papers has been given to Cornell University's Olin Research Library.

The letters and papers were donated by Arthur W. Wilson of Westport, Conn., a Cornell alumnus who became acquainted with Truman in military service during World War I. The collection includes letters from Truman to Wilson.

The earliest letter, dated Jan. 8, 1919, was written while Capt. Truman was stationed near Verdun, France. Truman wrote that the place was a "muddy little old camp."

He noted in the letter that rumors said one day that his division would go to Germany and the next day that the division would go home. "We don't do either," Truman wrote.

Making Restitution

MEADVILLE, Pa. (AP)—An 11-year-old grade school youth approached the football ticket booth at Meadville High School and handed the ticket seller $2.50. "That's too much money," the ticket seller said. "You only have to pay 50 cents." "No," the youth replied. "The 50 cents is for tonight's game. The $2 is for the other times I crawled under the fence."

Beds for Addicts Opened at Utica

UTICA, N.Y. (AP)—The state, in a move to help cure narcotics addicts in the Upstate area, today opened a 20-bed unit for their treatment and rehabilitation at Utica State Hospital.

The unit, which will occupy the fourth floor of the hospital's medical - surgical building, will be staffed by a psychiatrist, head nurse, occupational therapist, recreation therapist and 16 attendants.

It will be open for addicts referred by the courts or who enter voluntarily, Gov. Rockefeller said Sunday.

Is That Daring, Imaginative Leadership There?

Men Around Him Praise Kennedy, GOP Says New Frontier Failing

EDITOR'S NOTE—No President ever took office with more precise ideas of what kind of a President he wanted to be. How has John F. Kennedy measured up to his own vision? This is the first of five articles appraising the Kennedy record, by a seasoned Washington reporter who covered his 1960 campaign.

By ARTHUR EDSON
AP Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — How is John F. Kennedy doing as President?

It has been a year since his election, and 11 months since his move into the White House.

Has Kennedy gone forward with the daring, imaginative leadership he said this country so desperately needed?

Or, as some disenchanted Kennedy enthusiasts of 1960 now suggest, has his administration compromised so frequently it has, in their view out - Eisenhowered Dwight D. Eisenhower's?

Latching on to any political fact can be as difficult as picking up a wet watermelon seed.

But here the problem is tougher.

Talk to the men around Kennedy—as this reporter has—and the answer is almost always the same: He is doing exceptionally well.

Except for Cuba, an obvious and admitted disaster, few mistakes are confessed, publicly or privately. If one even dares to suggest that an alternative course might have produced better results, the rebuttal is instantaneous and it is smooth, like a salesman's speech that has been tailored in advance to meet each objection.

See New Frontier Failing

Talk to men far removed from Kennedy, politically and literally, and the standard Republican response is exactly the opposite: The New Frontier is floundering; Kennedy already is a failure.

If one dares to mention that the administration pushed considerable legislation through Congress, the answer comes quickly: These bills have been kicking around for years, and any Democrat, moving into the White House, supported by a Democratic Congress, would have gotten as much.

The very vehemence of their replies suggests that neither side is too sure of its ground, that each fears there's some truth in the other's argument.

Anyone judging Kennedy's progress has to keep in mind that it is an ingrained political habit to see everything as all good or all evil.

Went Way Out

But some confusion can be traced directly to Kennedy and the type of campaign he waged.

For he not only made the usual promises — accurately called "campaign oratory" by Wendell Wilkie—but he also went far beyond. Repeatedly, almost constantly, he talked of the ideal president.

Few men ever pursued the presidency so openly and persistently. None ever entered the White House with a clearer concept of what the presidency should be, or with a firmer vision of the president he wanted to become.

Those of us who followed Kennedy through the enthusiastic months leading up to his dramatic victory over Richard M. Nixon saw the image laboriously hammered out: on a cold, windy airstrip in Presque Isle, Maine. At a huge auditorium in Oakland, Calif. Before a street crowd that filled Penn Square in Reading, Pa.

Wherever he went, and sometimes it seemed he went everywhere, Kennedy tried to add a new dimension of presidential campaigning.

Draws Own Picture

Earnestly and impressively, Kennedy pictured an alert, aggressive, positive leadership that would move this country forward again and gain the admiration of the whole non-Communist world.

Only two days before the election, his thoughts now firmly crystalized, he spoke at the Coliseum in New York City.

"I want to be a president," Kennedy said, "who has the confidence of the people—and who takes the people into his confidence—who lets them know what he is doing and where we are going, who is for his program and who is against. I hope to set before the people our unfinished agenda—to indicate their obligations—and not simply follow their every whim and pleasure. . . .

"I want to be a president who is the chief executive in every sense of the word."

Far-Reaching Promise

Here Kennedy came up with one of the most far-reaching promises ever made in a business renowned for over-reaching itself.

"I am not promising action in the first 100 days alone," he said. "I am promising you 1,000 days of exacting presidential leadership."

Well, he started out as if he meant every word of it.

His eloquent inaugural speech—"let the word go forth . . . that the torch has been passed to a new generation of Americans"—was a fervent plea for peace that brought almost universal praise. Even Republicans were impressed.

Kennedy and the eager young men around him set such a pace in those early weeks that Washington, always an exciting place when a new administration takes over, seemed in a ferment that would stir it to the bottom of its bureaucracy.

Beset by World Trouble

But fate was unkind to Kennedy. Whereas foreign affairs caused Eisenhower comparatively little difficulty during his first year, Kennedy was beset from the start with literally a world of trouble.

Even then, before his administration had a chance to get shaken down properly, came April 17 and the Cuban invasion—a shocking, humiliating failure that was heard, and denounced, around the world.

"If I am elected next Tuesday," Kennedy had said in his New York speech, "I want to be a president known—at the end of four years—as one who not only held back the Communist tide but advanced the course of freedom and rebuilt American prestige—not by words but by doing great deeds as a good neighbor—not by tours and conferences abroad, but by vitality and direction at home."

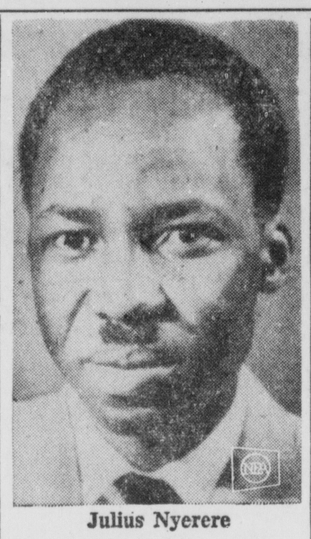
Maybe Too High

A mighty high standard, maybe too high for these clamorous, uncertain times.

Disillusionment was bound to come.

Yet Kennedy judged the Eisenhower administration by these standards, and he asked that he be judged by them, too.

And so, as in subsequent stories we examine where he has failed and where he has succeeded, we'll have Kennedy's own high view of the office to guide us.



Julius Nyerere

TANGANYIKA CHIEF—When Tanganyika achieves independent nation status soon, direction of its course will be charted by Prime Minister Julius Nyerere. He is 38, a former school teacher.

Trail Sweepers Meet Thursday

The Trail Sweepers Ski Club of Kingston meets Thursday night at Williams Lake Hotel. A buffet supper, dancing and ice skating will be the features of this Christmas party. The admission fee may be paid anytime before the party by contacting Bill Langenstein.

No meetings will be held on the 21st or 28th of December. The first regular meeting of the club in the New Year will be held January 4 at the Moose Lodge hall on Prince Street.

On Friday, Jan. 5, the club will embark on a three-day trip to Whiteface. The bus will leave the IBM parking lot between 5 and 6 p. m. Less than a dozen reservations are still available and reservations should be made with Bob Beberwyck or Giles Rittenberry.

$25 Billion Invested In Atomic Energy Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has invested over $25 billion in its atomic energy program, including development of the atomic bomb, since 1940, der the War Department, wasp-reported Sunday.

The cost of developing the bomb, which was handled then under the war department, was approximately $2.23 billion.

The commission said the $2.61 billion required for 1961 fiscal year operations was divided thusly: $733 million for production of nuclear materials, $637 million for procurement of raw materials, $516 million for weapons development and fabrication, $437 million for reactor development, $154 million for physical research, $54 million on biology and medicine and $81 million for miscellaneous projects.

First formal track and field meet held in the U. S. was staged indoors by the New York Athletic Club on Nov. 11, 1868.

Bound to Be In for Some Trouble

Kennedy Hopes Business, Labor to Keep Costs Down

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) —President Kennedy tiptoed around asking business and labor to keep prices and wages down.

He probably feels things will be tough enough for him next year without starting any extra fires, at least this soon.

He is in for a scalding battle when he asks Congress for authority to lower tariffs on imported goods.

What he said on Thursday was: Some sections of business, probably some sections of labor, are bound to fight him.

Lower tariffs on imports would mean hardship competition for some American-made goods in their own home market.

Kennedy hopes to offset that while retaining and broadening overseas markets for American goods.

With lower tariffs here, he could ask other countries to reciprocate by lowering their tariffs on American goods.

Not New Idea

In itself this is not new. It has been the philosophy behind the Reciprocal Trade Agreement Act for 28 years.

This act ends June 30 unless Congress renews it.

This time Kennedy wants more than just renewal. He wants far broader authority than the act contains now for chopping tariffs.

American allies in Europe are joining in a common market to increase their trade by knocking out their tariffs on each other's goods.

This will give them a broad free trade area similar to that in this country where commerce between states has no barriers.

Kennedy is not suggesting that the United States join this European Common Market. This is what he has in mind: American goods could be frozen out of Europe if the allies, freely trading with one another, shut out American products which are protected at home by tariffs against European competition.

So, lowering American tariffs on their goods would be in return for lower tariffs by them on imports from this country.

Separate Approaches

Last week he pitched for the idea to American business and labor in separate speeches to the National Association of Manufacturers and the AFL-CIO.

Since all of them knew competition from European goods might hurt some, he asked them to take a long-range view and suggested they could compete better through more efficiency and lower production costs.

The key, of coure, to American competition with foreign goods will be the price and quality.

Kennedy urged the NAM—but only in a very general way—to keep costs and prices down through better productivity. That was on Thursday.

He told the NAM "labor, too, has its responsibilities for price stability and I shall stress this tomorrow in addressing the AFL-CIO."

But if labor was afraid he was going to ask unions not to look for higher wages, he didn't.

What he said on Friday was: "I am hopeful that those of you who are in the area of wage negotiations will recognize the desirability of maintaining as stable prices as possible."

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg, trying to explain what the administration had in mind, was just as mild.

All this was hardly more than a nudge to business and labor. Maybe later Kennedy will give them a push.

Relief for 400,000

CHATTANOOGA (AP)—Federal bankruptcy referee Byron Pope recently granted judicial relief to 400,000 hungry baby chicks. A Chattanooga firm listed the chicks as "perishable assets" in a bankruptcy petition filed in U. S. District Court—and Pope appointed a temporary trustee to feed them.

During Enemy Nuclear Attack in New York

Thinks Solons May Have to Vote On Rocky's Stay-in-School Plan

ALBANY N.Y. (AP) — Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney has indicated that legislative approval may be necessary for the Rockefeller administration's plan to require that children remain in schools in the event of a nuclear-attack warning.

Mahoney said Friday he was attempting to determine if approval for such a plan was needed because "I don't know if it can be accomplished by executive order."

Mahoney said he was not necessarily opposed to the "stay-where-you-are" policy announced by Gov. Rockefeller this week but was examining its legal aspects.

He said he was not sure whether the Republican-controlled Legislature would give such permission.

The new plan would mean discontinuance of the present "go-home" policy under which schools would send children to their respective homes if an attack threatened, an administration spokesman said.

The policy of keeping children on school premises under threat of attack will be made mandatory by directives from the State Civil Defense Commission that are relayed to schools by the State Education Department, the spokesman said.

Voluntary Plan

It would appear that, if this procedure was followed, the school districts would have to build fallout shelters under the new, $100 - million program of state aid for such construction.

The program was described as voluntary when it was presented last month to a special session of the Legislature.

On other subjects, Mahoney had these comments at a news conference:

Carlino--He said charges that Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlino profited personally from fallout-shelter legislation were "ludicrous, smearing allegations." He said he had the utmost confidence in Carlino, and he suggested that Democratic Assemblyman Mark Lane, who brought the charges, should himself perhaps be censured for making what Mahoney called groundless accusations.

Still Hopes for Rebate

Taxes—He has not given up hope for a continuation of the 10 per cent rebate in state income taxes voted this year, but he seems to be leaning toward Rockefeller's view there will be no continuation.

Education—State aid to schools would again be the chief issue of the 1962 Legislature as it has been in recent sessions. Proposals for locally - imposed sales taxes for schools probably would have "rough sledding" in an election year.

Rent Control—He said he felt administration of New York City's rent - control program should be turned over to the city government to end charges from that city's Democratic administration that the law favored landlords.

Would Restore Dating

Milk Dating—He favored legislation to restore to New York City its authority to require that the date of pasteurization appear on all containers sold at retail. The Legislature withdrew such authority from the city at the request of dairy interests.

Literacy Tests—A proposal to allow persons to establish literacy in any one of 27 languages in order to register as voters was "the most ludicrous thing I ever heard of." Persons must now pass literacy tests in English to be eligible to register.

Fiscal Independence — Prospects are uncertain for a change in the general attitude of opposition to granting fiscal independence to school boards in the state's six largest cities. Money is apportioned to these school boards by the city government.

DR. NEAL BOWMAN

Speaker Listed For IMC Dinner Tuesday Night

The Kingston Industrial Management Club, sponsored by the YMCA, will hold its regular meeting Tuesday night at the Hotel Stuyvesant starting with dinner at 6:30. Dr. Neal Bowman, a member of the staff of the National Association of Manufacturers will be the speaker.

Dr. Bowman will speak on the subject Inside With the Boss. This depicts ideas of top management getting to his supervisory staff personally and then on to the general overall employe in industry. This idea in management was derived at many years ago and set aside, but today it is regarded right up front and paying off for business and the employe as well.

The speaker was in attendance at the meeting of the National Association of Management last week when President John F. Kennedy was the main speaker. Club president Alfred Guerdon will ask Dr. Bowman to relate some of the ideas that the President expressed.

Dr. Bowman has had a rich and varied background as an educator, author, lecturer and sales psychologist. He became a member of the staff of NAM in 1944 and has traveled from coast to coast speaking on the latest ideas and techniques used in management and industry. He has also made many radio and television appearances.

IMC members are asked to bring a guest, so that others besides club members may get first hand information on the latest faucets in industrial education, particularly what it means to know top management intimately.

Charlotte Amalie is the capital of the Virgin Islands; from 1921 to 1937, the city was known as Saint Thomas.

Buses Due Back Tuesday, Strike Over at Rochester

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Rochester's five-week-long bus strike was over today, but the Rochester Transit Corp., said it would be Tuesday at the earliest before the buses would be back on the streets.

The company's drivers and mechanics Sunday ratified by a 349-148 vote a two-year contract providing a 15-cent hourly wage increase and extended fringe benefits. They had asked a 19-cent hourly raise.

This city of 380,000 and its suburbs have been without public transportation since Nov. 1, when the old contract expired. Rochester's longest previous bus strike, in 1952, lasted 23 days.

The tentative contract presented to the drivers and mechanics was agreed to on Saturday, after the state said it might set up a board of inquiry if the strike was not settled quickly.

The company had originally told the union, Local 282 of the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes, that it couldn't afford any wage raise.

However, the city granted the company a $300,000 subsidy based on tax relief and reimbursement for student fares.

The old contract gave drivers $2.31 an hour and mechanics $2.09-$2.43.

Santa Claus Cited On Blue Law Count

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Police waited until a long line of children finished telling Santa Claus their Christmas wishes before citing him for violating a Pennsylvania Sunday blue law.

Santa, better known as Charles Staeger, Cornwell Heights, and four other workers were cited in a suburban discount store for violating a law forbidding "gainful employment" on Sunday.

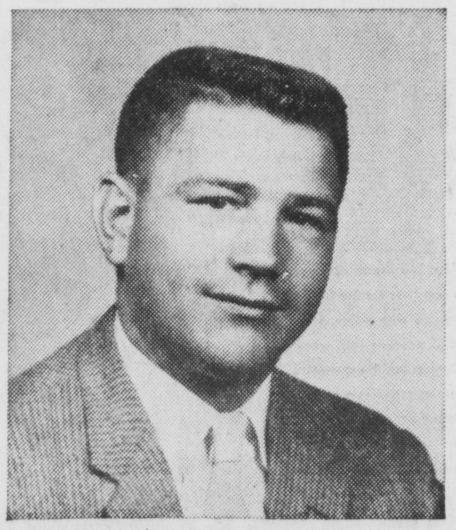
New York Telephone man awarded

Vail Medal for Initiative and Courage

The highest telephone honor employees can receive is the Vail Medal. It is given only for outstanding acts of initiative and courage performed in connection with their work, or in which their training as telephone people is an important factor.

Recently the New York Telephone Company awarded the Vail Medal to Thomas R. Woodford. His story is unusual. But his "spirit of service" is typical of telephone people everywhere, who every day use their training and skills to make telephone service helpful in every possible way.



Thomas R. Woodford
SYRACUSE INSTALLER-REPAIRMAN

At 1 a.m., April 14, 1961, fire erupted in the Apulia Station Hotel, near Syracuse. When Thomas Woodford and the other volunteer firemen arrived, the three-story, 100-year-old hotel was in flames. Woodford helped rescue the owner's wife from a second-story room and went back for the owner. Forced out by smoke and heat he made a second attempt, also unsuccessful. Woodford's brother went in but was unable to reach the unconscious man. Then Woodford made a final try and managed to find the owner and get him out through a window. Once outside he forced oxygen into the man's lungs until breathing was restored. Shortly after the rescue, the building caved in and crashed to the street.

Coach House Will Meet on Tuesday

The regular meeting of Coach House Players will be held Tuesday, 8:30 p. m., at Coach House, 12 Augusta Street. It will be a short meeting and Christmas party.

Hap Clauss and her workshop committee, Barbara Bight, Pet Millikin, Eloise Gardner, Doris Urell, Joan Peters and June Boyle, will provide the entertainment consisting of readings of Christmas stories and poems, interspersed with Christmas carols by some of the music pupils of Terry Roberts. Scott Fosse Helen Mellert, Ceil Birmingham and Jo Jolivette are in charge of refreshments. Each member is asked to bring a gift or two suitable for a boy or a girl.

President Caddy has announced that readings will be held Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, Dec. 19 and 20 at 8 p. m. for "The Unexpected Guest." Rehearsals will start the first week in January. Readings are open to the public and anyone who wishes to take part in this play is invited to come either evening.

On Thursday evening, Dec. 21, Coach House members are scheduled to decorate at Ulster County Infirmary.

Scaasi Features Lower Necklines In Fashion Show

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—How deep can a neckline creep?

Costumes created by couturier Arnold Scaasi have gone about as far as they can go, short of eliminating the bodice altogether.

In what seems to be an unofficial contest among American designers to see whose decolletage designs can outstrip the other's, Scaasi's dresses top them all.

Or, as some of the buyers who saw his spring collection today expressed it, they don't quite top enough.

Designer Rudi Gernreich probably started the race earlier this year by making much of his caveman type, one-shoulder dresses.

Later Ceil Chapman did him one shoulder strap better—or less—by concentrating on strapless fashion. Then Jacques Tiffeau of Monte Santo-Prusan drew a deep breath and dropped the decolletage some more.

Now Scaasi's strapless dresses are worn by models who seem to have outgrown them. But his publicity director assured an inquirer that they were intended to stop where they did. "Very feminine," she explained, a reply which no one could debate.

Mrs. James A. Hurn Has 80th Birthday

A surprise party was given Saturday night for Mrs. James A. Hurn of 282 Washington Avenue, this city, on the occasion of her 80th birthday. She received many congratulatory wishes from relatives and friends.

Wife of the late Methodist minister, James A. Hurn, Mrs. Hurn has a daughter, Mrs. Chauncy Fenton who resides in Wells, Vt. She also has three grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

The elder citizen has resided with her sister, Mrs. Edith Winne at the Washington Avenue address for approximately 25 years.

Ahavath Israel

Sisterhood Ahavath Israel will meet Wednesday at 8:30 p. m. in the Vestry Hall, 72 Wurts Street. Mrs. Bernard Cohen, book chairman, has announced a special program, dedicated to Jewish Book Month, has been planned. An entertaining skit "Books Around the Clock" will feature Sisterhood members in the cast. The program will give capsule summaries and reviews of many popular books. Aiding Mrs. Cohen with the presentation will be Mrs. Josph Colen and Mrs. Jacob Rubenstein.

Also on the agenda for the evening will be a cake sale with Mrs. Al Horowitz and Mrs. Carl Lipton as chairmen.

Program of CYO Activities Are Announced Here

The Ulster County Office of the Catholic Youth Organization has announced that the annual elementary oratorical contest will be held on Saturday, Jan. 6 at St. Mary's School in Kingston. Entries must be made at the CYO Office, 23 West Pierpont Street, this city, no later than January 2, 1962. "Our Role in Influencing the World," is the topic of the oration. Archdiocesan finals are slated for January 14 in New York City.

Since the Archdiocesan competition in the religious quiz has been set for Friday, Jan. 26, 1962, the CYO office here has announced the following dates here for its contests: elementary school on Saturday, Jan. 13, at St. Mary's School; high school division on Saturday, Jan. 20 at St. Joseph's School. General religious knowledge will be the topics for the quiz.

The CYO Christmas dance will be held at St. Peter's Hall in Rosendale on Wednesday, Dec. 27 from 8-11 p. m. No admission will be charged. All teenagers are invited to attend.

Facilities have been made available at the St. Francis de Sales parish in Phoenicia and St. Mary's of the Snows in Saugerties for skating parties. Detailed information may be obtained from the Rev. John Gorman at St. Francis or Andrew Vozdik of Saugerties.

County doll shows have been scheduled for Sunday, Jan. 7 at St. Mary's of the Snows, Saugerties, and Saturday, Jan. 27 at St. Peter's in Kingston. Information and entry forms may be obtained at all parochial schools and from CYO moderators.

Contest Requirements

The second annual oratorical contest, as announced above, is open to students who are attending elementary school and who had not reached their 15th birthday before September 1, 1961.

Prepared orations of not less than five minutes and not more than six minutes in length must be delivered on "Our Role in Influencing the World Today."

Contestants may not use notes when delivering prepared orations. Orations must be original. All quotations must be indicated and where they are more than ten words in length, the author's name must be given, orally, as well as indicated in the manuscript. A copy of the manuscript must be forwarded to the county director prior to the contest.

In the county contest, forensic keys, gold, silver and bronze, will be awarded to the first, second and third place winners. In the archdiocesan contest, cups will be awarded to the winners.

Judging will be based on the following points: stage presence, poise, character, personality, 25 points; content of oration—accuracy and literary effectiveness, 50 points; power to thrill, quicken and compel, 25 points.

For the religious quiz contest, a parish may enter only one team. The team shall be made up of two boys, two girls or a boy and a girl. No substitutions will be allowed. Only the winners of the county contest may compete in the Archdiocesan contest.

The quiz will be based on questions in general religious knowledge and will be oral. Each team will be asked the same number of questions. The number of rounds will be determined before the start of the contest. If the contest is tied it will be continued until one team ends a round with more points than its competitors. Seating will be arranged by lot.

CYO plaques will be awarded in the country contest. In the Archdiocesan, cups will be awarded to the winners and appropriate prizes to members of the winning team.

All entries on the official CYO entry blank must be in the CYO office on January 5.

Christmas Cribs

The Ulster County CYO will also sponsor a Christmas Crib contest. For the elementary division, entrants must not have reached their 15th birthday before September 1, 1961. Appropriate prizes will be presented to first, second and third places. Judges will be assigned by the CYO Committee. The basis in awarding prizes will be: creativeness and originality, 50 per cent; setting and crib, 50 per cent.

All entries must be recorded with the CYO office by December 24. The time, place and date when the crib will be on exhibition must be indicated on the entry blank.

Cribs in the elementary division must be erected at home, either in a large window of the residence near the street or in front of the home outside on a porch, lawn, or other location. All entries must be displayed in a place of prominence where they may be viewed by everyone.

Judging will be done between December 26 and January 5. Winners will be notified.

In the junior division, entrants must not have reached their 19th birthday before September 1, 1961. Entries must be displayed in a public place, store window, post office, village square, town hall, or other suitable locations. Dates when the crib will be on display and the site where it is located must be indicated on the entry blank.

Judging, awards and other pertinent information is the same as outlined for the elementary division.

Witnesses Will Hold Conclave Here in January

Kingston will again be host city to a Bible study conference to be held early next month by Jehovah's Witnesses. Delegates from portions of a three state area have been invited to attend.

"Extensive Bible study is a prevailing feature of the activity of Jehovah's Witnesses," Earnest Kidd Jr. presiding minister of the Kingston congregation, said. "Therefore, the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society is sponsoring the conference to augment its training program for volunteer Bible instructors."

Kidd also announced that the principal speaker for the conference will be Bruce Giffin, district director of the Witnesses in the Atlantic Seaboard states. The entire program of lectures as well as the management of all the departments of the convention will be under the supervision of the Circuit Director for this area, Arlen H. Meier.

Approximately 1200 Witnesses from Ulster and eight surrounding counties are expecting to join in the convention activities.

Business for Himself

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) —Jobless and the father of 16 children, Theodore E. Lovejoy, 45, was near the top of the list for aid under an emergency public works program set up to combat unemployment in West Virginia. But officials took another look at Lovejoy's status when they found he had apparently launched his own recovery program. Federal authorities have charged him with possession of a copper still and 150 gallons of raw material for making moonshine whisky.

Miss Betsy Milliken Is Engaged to Wed

BETSY W. MILLIKEN

Mrs. Phyllis Myer Milliken of Sycamore Farm, Kingston, announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Betsy Witherbee Milliken, to Peter Erb Giustra, son of Dr. and Mrs. Frank X. Giustra of Brooklyn. A June wedding is planned.

Miss Milliken is also the daughter of Albert E. Milliken of Accord. She is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Howard Myer of Kingston and of Mrs. Milley Adams Witherbee Milliken and the late Albert E. Milliken of Jackson Heights. Miss Milliken is a graduate of Green Mountain College, attended Colorado State University and was graduated from the Berkeley Institute.

Mr. Giustra, who received his bachelor's degree from Union College, Schenectady, where he was a member of Phi Delta Theta Fraternity, is a student at the State University of New York Down State Medical Center.

Bride in Service

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Archie Mitchell says "things have been mighty quiet around here" since his bride was called to active duty.

Mitchell, a stock broker, and the former Thelma Walker, a member of the Army Reserve Nurses Corps, were married Aug. 22. Her reserve unit was called up and sent to Ft. Polk, La., Oct. 15.

"She'll be coming home for Christmas," Mitchell said happily.

Boy Scout News

Troop 19 Holds Court of Honor

Boy Scout Troop 19, sponsored by VFW Joyce-Schrick Post 1386 held a Court of Honor Wednesday at the Post Hall, Delaware Avenue.

A tenderfoot investiture was held for candidates William Reynolds and Raymond Reynolds. They were presented with their Tenderfoot Badges and the miniature pins for their mothers.

Boy Scout Ronald Carney was awarded his first Class Badge. Also the miniature pin for his mother. Scoutmaster J. Zahorsky announced that Senior Patrol Leader John Quick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew R. McDermott was to be elevated to the rank of Eagle Scout which is the highest rank that can be achieved in Boy Scouting. Scout Quick is the first Eagle Scout of Troop 19.

The Scout letter from National Boy Scout Council was read by Neighborhood Commissioner John Clark. The wall certificate and card was presented by District Advancement Committeeman Richard Gendrau. The miniature pin was presented by Institutional Representative Andrew Edge. The Eagle Medal was presented by VFW Post Commander Thomas Hughes, to Scout Quick's mother and father who pinned it on their son's uniform. The Eagle Knot was presented by Advancement Committeeman John Marks.

Scoutmaster Zahorsky presented the Eagle necklace to be worn by the mother. The Eagle Badge was presented by Assistant Scoutmaster Gerhard Klemm.

Scoutmaster Zahorsky introduced Henry Eighmey and Mrs. John Sahloff who were John Quick's Cubmaster and Den mother when he started Cub Scouting seven years ago.

Also presented to the meeting were Scout Committeemen Francis Costa, Hubert Richter, Martin Sabin, John Marks, Andrew Edge and Committee Chairman Andrew R. McDermott.

Port Ewen Cubs

Cub Pack 26 will hold its December meeting Wednesday, 6:45 p. m., at the Port Ewen School Cafeteria. There will be a Christmas party, singing of carols and a visit from Santa Claus.

Use egg yolks, stored in the refrigerator after whites have been used, within two or three days.

Good Taste Today

BEFORE HIS DIVORCE IS FINAL

Q. I am going with a man who is married and has two children. His wife has started suit for divorce and, after this becomes final, we are marrying. May I accept a ring from him before the time has passed? Everyone knows she has left him and is suing for divorce, and as long as we have definite plans I'd like my family to announce them. Would this be in good taste?

A. It would be in very bad taste for your family, or you, to make a public announcement before your fiance-to-be is legally free. I certainly do not think it wise to accept his ring or consider yourself engaged while he is still the husband of another.

Getting Out of a Car

Q. Will you please tell me what is proper in the following situation. A husband and wife double date with an unmarried couple. The husband drives their car, a two-door car where the front seats have to be pushed forward in order for those in the back to get out, with his wife seated beside him. The other woman sits in the rear seat behind the driver, her date beside her. What is the proper thing for the husband to do: Get out of the car and assist the woman behind him, his wife getting out unassisted, or get out of the car, close the door and go around to assist his wife, letting the girl's date out, with the girl sliding across the seat to be assisted out by her date?

A. If the car is stopped in a parking lot or on a street where there is little traffic, the husband gets out, assists the woman behind him and then goes around to assist his wife if she has not already gotten out.

Walking Hand in Hand

Q. Will you please tell me if it is in bad taste for a young couple to walk on the street holding hands?

A. On a country road they might, but they certainly should not on a city street.

YM Groups Vote for Many Newburgh Welfare Changes

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Youths representing YMCA groups throughout the state have approved many of the provisions of Newburgh's controversial welfare code.

The youths voted 82-5 in favor of the welfare restrictions during the mock legislative session of the New York State Hi-Y Assembly Sunday at the state capitol.

The bill provides that relief payments be limited to three months a year to persons other than the aged, blind or disabled, and that unwed mothers who continue to bear illegitimate children be denied welfare.

The Hi-Y measure also would required that able-bodied men be cut from welfare rolls if they refused a legitimate job offer or quit a job for no reason.

The provisions are similar to those approved in Newburgh. A court order has prevented the city from putting the restrictions into practice.

The Hi-Y assembly also approved bills that would tighten state laws against discrimination, require seat belts on all new cars sold in the state, legalize off-track pari-mutuel betting on horse races, and require periodic reexamination of holders of operator's licenses.

The teen-agers defeated a bill that would have abolished the death penalty and another that would have exempted fallout shelters in private homes from tax assessment.

[illegible] Strand, 16, of White Plains was elected president of [illegible]-Y council for 1962. He succeeded Thomas Cheney of Jamest[illegible].

Other officers elected Saturday were:

David C. Schaack of Gowanda, vice president; Deirdre Glenn, of Newburgh, secretary; Allen Cerasani of Rochester, treasurer, and Betty Paull of Buffalo, chaplain.

The mock assembly was the final event in the three-day, 26th annual youth and government program. Approximately 500 attended.

Two Youths Jailed On Tarffic Count; 2 Charges Pending

Two Massachusetts youths apprehended Saturday afternoon by Saugerties village police in a car reported stolen from Quincy, Mass., were sentenced to 15 days in Ulster County Jail for driving without a license, when they appeared before Village Police Justice G. Thomas Rea Jr. Two other charges are pending, it was reported.

Arrested were Arthur Horton, 20, of 177 Broad Street, Weymouth, Mass., and Thomas Sheehan, 16, of 65 Cedar Street, East Weymouth, Mass.

JPatrolman Gordon Keeley reported the two youths and Fred Engels of Saugerties, a passenger, were driving in a 1958 brown station wagon owned by Melvin F. Piors of Quincy, Mass. The owner of the car told police the station wagon had been parked in his yard without plates and was unregistered. The arrest was made at 2:15 p. m.

Kingston BCI Investigator Joseph Ventriglia aided in the investigation.

Bears Are Transferred

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Black bears are destructive nuisances in tree farms by causing bark to peel from young trees, but a humane way of controlling them has been developed by trapper Jack Aldrich.

He has devised a light-weight foot snare that holds the animal unharmed until the trapper comes along and transfers it to another section of forest where young trees are not being nutured.

Hollywood News, Views

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) —News item: Sandra Church, Broadway star of "Gypsy," will make her film debut opposite Marlon Brando in "The Ugly American."

Correction: Sandra made her film debut at an early age. This is her comeback.

It's true that Sandra's early career wasn't as impressive as her adult one. But in the interests of accuracy, I pinned her down on the facts, which are these:

"I was born in San Francisco. My father died when I was 2. When I was 5, my mother and I moved to Hollywood because she was certain that I was going to be a great big movie star.

"I wasn't. But it wasn't because we didn't try. I can remember being trotted around to interview after interview, standing out in the rain in Culver City and all that.

"My film career consisted of five pictures. One was a musical with Alice Faye. I can remember her singing 'My Alice Blue Gown' while I was dancing with some boy, lots of other girls were dancing with boys, and the mothers of all of them were fighting among themselves.

"In another picture I had polio. Gale Storm asked me how I was feeling, and I said cheerfully, 'I feel like a million.' That was my part."

That was about the extent of her career as a child actress, a career that strangely parallels that of the young Gypsy Rose Lee she played on Broadway. The difference is that Sandra was allowed to retire at an early age and attend convent schools.

Even in school she kept up her acting training. One of her coaches was West Coast representative of the Theater Guild and recommended her to replace Janice Rule in "Picnic."

Sandra went on to other glories on and off Broadway, finally landing as Ethel Merman's daughter in "Gypsy." She learned the stripper's strut from a Greenwich Village peeler at $10 an hour, auditioned four times before getting the role. Sandra passed up movie offers to remain on Broadway for "Under the Yum-Yum Tree" with Gig Young.

"I'm glad I waited," she said glowingly. "Imagine making your first movie as Marlon Brando's wife!"

Her first adult movie, that is.

Vehicle Hits Horse

A 38-year-old Kingston man escaped injury early today when his car struck and injured a horse on Route 32 about four miles north of New Paltz. Highland troopers said Kurt Upright, of 14 Brown Avenue, this city, was the operator of the vehicle. The horse, which troopers said strayed from a pasture onto the highway, was owned by Albert Ackerman, Rosendale.

Cornell Musical Troupe to Tour South America

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP)—The Cornell University Theater will tour South American Universities next summer under State Department sponsorship.

The university said Sunday a troupe of 20 graduate and undergraduate students would present a musical production. Prof George McCalmon, university theater director, will head the company.

The tour, arranged by the American National Theatre and Academy, will begin in mid-June and end in late August, Cornell said. The production the troupe will present was not announced.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Business on the upgrade again and a stock speculation bubble that burst vied for the headlines in 1961 with a gathering trade and tariff storm and the jump in defense spending. And here, in one man's opinion, are the 10 top business stories of a turbulent year.

1. Recovery from recession. Industry dragged along the bottom in the first three months of the year, made an impressive if short comeback, took a late summer and early fall siesta, and then started forward again briskly at the end of the year. Each turn, or failure to turn, made news.

Rush to Buy Stocks

2. The stock market. The spring saw the public clamoring to buy stocks they thought glamorous, many of almost unknown companies. The speculative spree soon brought a rough hangover for many get-rich-quick artists. In the final weeks of the year many of the blue chips climbed to new highs.

3. The Common Market. Europe's experiment in trading blocs paid off big. Americans began to debate bitterly how the United States should meet the challenge—by lowering tariffs to get in step, or by raising tariffs to protect home industries from invasion of cheaper foreign goods.

Industries Affected

4. The war of nerves. The Berlin crisis, President Kennedy's ordering a big jump in defense spending, Russia's nuclear bombs, all made headlines on financial as well as front pages. The spending affected prospects in many industries, the mounting Treasury deficit stirred talk of more inflation to come, and business as well as individuals joined in the big debate: To build shelters or not to build shelters, to share them or not to share them.

5. The price-fixing scandal. Business news spilled all over the front pages when 29 electrical equipment makers, including some of the nation's top corporations, were fined $2 million after pleading guilty or no contest to charges of price-fixing and bid-rigging. Seven of their officials were sent to jail. At year end, civil suits seeking damages that some said could run into billions of dollars were being filed by the utilities and other corporations that had bought the electrical equipment.

Recovery in Business

6. Unemployment. Depressed areas, swelling welfare rolls, long lines at the unemployment benefit payment windows persisted through most of 1961. In the closing weeks the business recovery was helping some, but still not as much as hoped. Variously blamed: Automation, a fast growing labor force, a less than booming growth in the economy.

7. Government vs. business. Some businessmen began saying that the number of antitrust suits and roadblocks against mergers showed an antibusiness bias in Washington, especially distrust of bigness in itself. The administration denied it. The charges and disavowals and later the reconciliation moves, all made news.

8. Du Pont's GM stock. The big chemical company's efforts to find the least painful way of obeying a court order to get rid of 63 million General Motors shares made this a cliffhanging item.

9. Texas vs. Wall St. The Murchison brothers of Texas won the year's roughest proxy fight. They took control of Alleghany, an investment holding company, away from Woolworth heir Allen P. Kirby.

10. The cost of living. The year's sleeper—prices didn't drop during the recession, nor rise sharply during the recovery. Instead, the cost of living just kept rolling along, slowly rising much of the time to make successive new highs—the one thing in 1961 you could always count on.

Paltz Seminar On Eocnomics Set for Dec. 16

Next Saturday morning, Dec. 16, the senior high school students participating in the seminar series will hear a lecture on economics entitled "Study of Man—Behavior in the Marketplace." The seminar will take place at 10 a. m. at the State University College, New Paltz.

The guest-lecturer for this session will be Robert Greenman, academic dean of the Orange County Community College at Middletown. Greenman has received his degrees from the City College of New York and Brooklyn College majoring in political science and history. Currently, he is working on his doctoral work with emphasis on economic attitudes and behavior. He has also studied at the University of Glasgow and Cornell University.

His work experiences include being instructor and assistant professor of history and political science at Sampson College. He has also been director of the day division until promoted to academic dean of the Orange County Community College. During the Korean Conflict he was psychological warfare interrogation officer for the 8th U. S. Army in Korea.

During the session, the students will be involved in certain written exercises dealing with the forces in economics. They will be responding to hypothetical and economical problems.

There are approximately 50 senior students representing the seven central schools of Ulster County.

This academic enrichment program is being jointly sponsored by the Ulster County Board of Cooperative Educational Services, and the State University College, New Paltz. The entire project is under the direct guidance of the secondary principals of the central schools of Ellenville, Highland, Marlboro, New Paltz, Onteora, Rondout Valley and Wallkill.

Empty Seats Save Money

NEW YORK (AP)—A reduction in the number of seats sold at each performance is saving money for the musical, "Irma La Douce." The show, which recently transferred to the Alvin Theater from the Plymouth, has been in the 1,100-seat category under contracts with the musicians' union. The Alvin has 1,324 seats, but 234 are being kept vacant. If they were put on sale, the show would be required to add several musicians to the pit band, hiking the weekly payroll by $1,600.

Salty Shelter

GENESEO, N. Y. (AP)—Civil defense officials in this Western New York area have suggested using the Retsof salt mines a few miles away as a city-sized fallout shelter. The mines, between 900 and 1,200 feet underground, cover an area about the size of Manhattan Island.

Today's hand from this book shows a percentage safety play. If South were in seven spades, he would lead a low spade from dummy and finesse the queen. If that worked, he would lay down the ace and hope to drop the king. If that did not work he would be set.

Fortunately, South is in the proper six spade contract and while he has no objection to making seven, his main concern is to make the small slam.

He does make it if he lays down the ace of trumps and drops the singleton king.

Why does he make the play?

Because it is correct. If trumps break 3-2, he is going to make his contract. If trumps break 4-1, he can only make it if the king is singleton and he drops it.

If our "affluent society" keeps expanding as it did in the first half of this century, soon it'll be hard to find a poor man. Some sociologists say our working class is on its way out—or rather, up. By the year 2000, at present growth rates, the working class of today will move to middleclass living standards. The suburbs will boom and, with luck, the slums will vanish.

Tackle Shop and Red Hook Score Rec League Victories

Ray's Tackle Shop and Adolph's of Red Hook opened the Recreation Cage league with victories last night at the Municipal Auditorium.

Five players hit in double figures as the Tackle Shop beat the Trailways Cafe, 73-65, in a thriller. A big first period enabled Ward Dunham's cagers to remain on top all the way, though the losers closed with a rush.

Bob Bondar, Chick Boice, Leo Armstead, Joe Klonowski and Champ Holstein were tops for the well-balanced winners. Marty Kaye and Al Byrne, a pair of good sharpshooters, were high for the Trailways.

Ron Miller netted 20 points in leading the Dutchess County team to a 52-44 win over Carroll's Bait Box. The visitors pulled ahead in the third period after trailing, 20-19, at halftime.

Andy Juhl rimmed 15 points for the losers but he didn't receive much in the way of scoring help. The others combined for only 29 markers.

Sports Talk

By CHARLES J. TIANO

Freeman Sports Editor

Leon Randall's record shattering 33-30-63 on Wiltwyck Country Club's par 36-36-72 layout in the City playoff last September was just following the pattern set by the nation's golfers during the spectacular 1962 season.

Mrs. A. J. (Wiggie) de Lisio's all-time women's record of 66 at Woodstock was also part of the package.

More all-time records for unusual and difficult golfing feats were established in 1961 than in any of the past 30 years, according to the Golf Digest annual.

Among the new records reported this year:

1. Joe Kirkwood, Sr., at age 63, turned in a phenomenal 62 at Deland, Fla. C.C. to become the youngest man in history to shoot his age. He actually performed the feat on Christmas Day a year ago, but it was reported in the 1961 record year.

Shooting your age is the toughest trick in golf. In 1961, for example, only 21 age-shooters were recorded, compared to almost 12,000 holes-in-one.

2. Joe Morozan, assistant pro at Rockrimmon C.C. in Stamford, Conn, on Oct. 19 for the longest double eagle. On the 547-yard 14, Morozan used a 3-wood to belt his second shot 260 yards into the hole. The most famous double eagle in all golf history, of course, was made by Gene Sarazen on the 520-yard 15th hole at the Augusta National in 1935 Masters. A double eagle, a score of three under on a single hole, ranks as golf's second most difficult feat.

• 427-Yard Hole-In-One

3. Lou Kretlow, former major league baseball pitcher, set a new all-time, hole-in-one distance record March 26. Playing at Lake Hefner C.C. in Oklahoma City, Kretlow stepped up to the 16th tee and, with a 45 MPH wind at his back, walloped his ball 427 yards into the cup, breaking the 425-yard record which has stood since 1939. Kretlow's was one of almost 12,000 known holes in one during 1961.

4. Bob Goalby, touring professional, got eight birdies in a row to set a new PGA record for number of consecutive birdies. (The area record is 6 straight set by Armand Farina of Schenectady in the Woodstock Open a few years back).

5. Sam Snead became the oldest tournament winner when, 20 days short of his 49th birthday, he won the Tournament of Champions.

6. Kathy Cornelius set an all-time Ladies PGA scoring record for a 54-hole event by shooting a 204 to win the Lake Tippecanoe Open at Leesburg, Ind.

7. Mickey Wright tied Betsy Rawls' 1959 Ladies PGA record of ten tournament victories in one season.

8. Kudy Kimball set a new LPGA record by using only 21 putts in the fourth round of the American Women's Open.

Thus 1961 has been the best "record year" since 1931, when three marks were set which still stand. In that year pro Claude Harmon made eight birdies and an eagle in a casual round to set a record for the most under-par holes in succession. South African track star Len Richardson played the fastest round in history, completing 18 holes in 33 minutes, 22 seconds, and a gentleman by the name of R. W. Bridges got his ball 196 yards from tee to cup with one swing of his putter, surely the longest "putt" in the history of golf.

A statistical "first" cropped up at Woodstock Country Club where Herb Waterous defeated Eric Knutsen, 8 and 7, to become the third member of his family to win the club championship. Pere Allen was the first and brother, Bill, was the second. The amateur course record at Woodstock is 63 and is shared by George Hughes of Twaalfskill nd Judson Phillips, Woodstock author and artist who set it in the early days of the layout.

Cincinnati Will Battle Drake In Basketball Headliner

Cincinnati, one of the Giants of college basketball, faces its first major obstacle tonight in a tough Drake team that has showed a big scoring punch in winning two games.

Cincinnati, defending NCAA champion and ranked second in the season preview Associated Press poll, chalked up its 25th straight victory with an 86-67 romp over Wiscinsin Saturday.

Coach Ed Jucker then hustled from the afternoon game to personally scout the impressive Drake team that crushed Illinois College 110-48. It was the second straight for Drake and pushed its average to an even 100 points per game.

Ohio State, led by All-America Jerry Lucas, skipped by its first two major challengers, Wichita and Wake Forest, and now takes a week off.

The Buckeyes (4-0) crushed Wake Forest's third-ranked Deacons 84-62 at the top of the weekend schedule. Against Wake Forest, Ohio State held only a 37-31 halftime lead, but broke it open with 13 straight points soon after intermission. Lucas scored 23 points in part-time service.

All other ranked teams in action came through on schedule, though Seattle, No. 10, got a scare from Idaho before pulling out a 69-68 decision.

Providence, ranked fifth, got another good performance from its two giants, 6-10 Jimmy Hadnot and 6-11 John Thompson, in a 75-51 breeze past St. Francis of Brooklyn. Hadnot had 28 points and 17 rebounds, Thompson 21 points and 18 rebounds.

All-America Terry Dischinger threw in 23 points and Mel Garland scored 26 in Purdue's (no. 6) 91-66 triumph over Detroit. Kansas State (no. 8) got its third straight in an 88-78 verdict over Indiana.

Strong West Virginia added impetus to its drive for a national ranking with a 96-79 thumping of previously unbeaten Furman. Rod Thorn got 30 points as West Virginia took its fourth in a row.

Three Canadian Cities Considered by NY-Penn

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Three cities, Hamilton, Ont., and Bradford and Warren, Pa., are being considered for the eighth franchise in the New York - Penn Class D Baseball League.

The league lost its eighth team when Elmira joined the Class A Eastern League recently.

Hamilton, a former member of the league, would be its largest member, with 240,000 population. Bradford's population is 15,061 and Warren, 14,505.

League president Vince McNamara said Sunday Hamilton was trying to secure a working agreement with a major league club.

Other clubs in the league are Wellsville, Erie, Pa., Batavia, Geneva, Olean, Jamestown and Auburn.

Plan Special Deer Season in Westchester

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Some hunters who failed to bag deer during the regular season will get another try during a special, 10-day season in 11 Westchester County towns next month.

The season, Jan. 15-19 and 22-26, was called to reduce the size of deer herds in the county and thus prevent damage to crops and shrub nurseries by foraging deer, the conservation department said Saturday.

The season is open by permit to hunters holding a state big-game license who have not taken a deer during the regular season.

The shotgun hunters are limited to one deer of either sex and may hunt only in the towns where discharge of firearms is not prohibited.

The towns and their permit quotas:

Ray's Defeats Hub, 94-46; Yellow Jackets Get Decision

Hub Delicatessen was better than Rays's Tackle Shop—for one period—in the game Saturday night at the YMCA court. From that point on, it was all Ray's as the unbeaten quintet outscored the Hub, 30-3, in the second quarter and went on to a 94-46 decision.

In the other tilt on the Winter league slate, the Yellow Jackets trimmed Dick's Barber Shop, 61-52.

As usual ,it was team balance which turned the trick for the Tackle Shop. Bob Bondar rimmed 26 points and Chick Boice had 24 to show the way. But Joe Klonowski and Roy Havens were also in double figures. Moe Kamosa and Al Short topped the losers, who were outscored, 49-22, in the second half.

John Burris tallied 29 points for the Yellow Jackets, getting nine baskets and 11 free throws. Bob Smith aided with 18. Joe Spada (17) and Bill Tomaseski (10) led the losers. The Yellow Jackets moved in front with a second period rally.

Jones Captures Match From Three Brothers

Despite a pair of strong efforts by Charlie Manfro and Bill Lawrence, the slumping Three Brothers Egg Farm team couldn't halt a red hot Jones Dairy and the defending Hudson Valley league champs swept their position match Saturday at the Bowlero.

The Brothers have now lost six straight games, all to the Dairymen, and are now in a third place tie with Miron Lumber. Miron swept three games from the Middletown Merchants to advance up the ladder.

Charles Ramsey, another local five, managed to win a pair from Bowling Time of Newburgh and the pair of victories gave the team second place, one game behind Jones.

Here's how the top five clubs stand:

Team	Won	Lost
Jones Dairy	25	14
Charles Ramsey	24	15
Three Brothers	22	17
Miron Lumber	22	17
Bowling Time	20	19

Manfro slugged consistent efforts of 246-232-214 for 692 pins to pace Three Brothers. Lawrence added 197-246-219-662. Jones had four keglers above 600 with Buster Ferraro showing the way. Buster, who had 682 the previous week, "dipped" to 680 this time with 225-228-227. Jackie Ferraro padded his leading average with 192-210-225-627. Chris Gallo shot 199-212-201-612 and John Ferraro stroked 216-185-208-609. Larry Petersen just missed with a 598 triple.

The games were high scoring and close with Jones winning, 1022-1012; 1038-1031 and 1066-1014. It was a good match.

Miron received a 619 effort from Ken Joseph on games of 217, 225 and 147. Jerry Kaplan opened with 241 and finished with a 593 triple. The visitors weren't able to do much scoring and wound up with only 2405 sticks, an average of only slightly better than 800 a game.

Vince Carpino topped Charles Ramsey with 201-186-189-576 and his mates were all in the 500 circle. Charles Embler was a 596 hitter for Bowling Time. The Newburgh team won the second game by four sticks and lost the first by three.

Cannon Gets Four TDs Against N. Y. Titans

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

There was some question in early season whether Billy Cannon, the Louisiana State All-America who had been no ball of fire in his first year of pro football, would make the Houston team.

Cannon scored five touchdowns, rushed for 216 yards to break the league one-game record and caught passes for 114 yards Sunday as the Oilers beat New York 48-21 and held the lead in the Eastern Division of the American Football League.

As a result, Houston clinched no worse than a tie for the title and became prohibitive favorite to take it all since now only lowly Oakland remains to be played.

That would set up a repeat of last year's championship game in which Houston locked the Los Angeles Chargers, now San Diego. San Diego, which already has the Western Division championship, beat Buffalo 28-10 while Dallas bashed Denver 49-21 in other Sunday AFL games.

Boston, which whipped Oakland 35-21 Saturday night, remained a game back of Houston in the Eastern Division race and could tie for the championship if the Oilers falter next Sunday at Oakland and the Patriots nip San Diego.

It was something of a novelty to see somebody take the play away from busy George Blanda, the Houston quarterback.

But it so happened that Cannon had the finest individual day of the year. Cannon's 216 yards rushing wiped out the 158-yard record set by Abner Haynes of Dallas Nov. 26 against Oakland. The five touchdowns tied the record for one game hung up by Haynes on the same day.

San Diego had trouble with Buffalo but called on its defense to overcome a 10-point deficit, then had Jack Kemp come off the bench and pass it to safety.

The Dallas-Denver game was a so-what affair since neither club is going anywhere.

Green Bay Will Face New York or Eagles

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Selection of the opponent for the Green Bay Packers in the National Football League's title contest Dec. 31 had narrowed to two teams and two games today.

The teams are the New York Giants and the Philadelphia Eagles. They must win. And even that won't do them any good if the Giants win or tie.

The games are Sunday's Giants-Cleveland Browns encounter in New York's Yankee Stadium and the Eagles-Lions tussle in Detroit's Tiger Stadium in the season windups. A Giants' defeat and an Eagles victory would necessitate a playoff in New York Dec. 24.

The two-team situation in the Eastern Conference was set up Sunday when the Giants edged the Eagles 28-24 in a rip-snorter at Philadelphia to go out in front by one game. The Browns dropped out of the title chase when they were upset by the Chicago Bears 17-14.

Frisco Surprises

The Packers were surprised 22-21 by the San Francisco 49ers, who are battling the second-place Lions for the right to represent the Western Division in the Bert Bell Memorial Bowl for the conference runnerups at Miami, Fla., Jan. 6. The Lions hold a one-game margin over the 49ers, who wind up at home against Baltimore Saturday.

In other games Sunday, Pittsburgh defeated Washington 30-14 to run the Redskins' nonwinning streak to 23 games over two seasons (they tied three); St. Louis walloped Dallas 31-13 and Detroit got past Minnesota 13-7. Los Angeles beat Baltimore 34-17 Saturday.

Charlie Conerly was the key in the Giants' squeaker over the Eagles. The 40-year-old quarterback, a bench-warmer most of the season, replaced Y. A. Tittle when the Giants' attack bogged down in the second period and the Eagles leading 10-7. He threw three touchdown passes. Before he left the game, Tittle also hit Del Shofner with a 46-yard payoff aerial.

Sonny Jurgenson also tossed three touchdown passes for the Eagles, two to Tommy McDonald, and altogether picked up 367 yards in the air for an NFL single season record of 3,320 yards in passing. Johnny Unitas held the mark of 3,099 yards, made last year in 13 games.

Field Goal Decides

The Bears came from behind for their triumph with Roger LeClerc's nine-yard field goal with 3:30 left deciding the issue. Lou Groza kicked both the extra points for Cleveland to set an all-time career scoring record of 826 points.

Bobby Layne, Pittsburgh's veteran quarterback, got back into the good graces of the Steelers fans when he tied Sammy Baugh's all-time league record of 187 touchdown passes in a career. He fired four in the Steelers' easy triumph.

Chess Club Gets An Even Split

Other results:

Fred Stern defeated Carl Lundquist; John Meyer won over Leo Garel; Bill Weterer defeated Don Kent; Dr. David S. Gerbarg defeated Dr. Murray Fletcher, then won over Bill Wetterer.

Second round competition is scheduled Friday night at the Elks Lodge. The Kings Knight Chess Club is still accepting memberships and everyone is invited.

Divide Two Matches

The club's two teams in the Hudson Valley Chess League split matches at IBM in Poughkeepsie. The No. 1 squad blanked Carmel, 5-0, while No. 2 went down to a 3½-2½. defeat at the hands of Yorktown Heights and Carmel.

WORLD CHAMPIONS — Don Carter of St. Louis and Marge Merrick of Columbus pose with the trophy symbolic of the World's Invitational Tournament championship. In two of the closest finishes in history, Carter beat off the determined challenge of Ray Bluth and Miss Merrick edged two-time wold champion Marion Ladewig.

PRESENTATION — Saugerties High School coach Fred Seither presents a football autographed by the Syracuse University football team to Bill Vickery, who shattered his elbow in the season's second game against Arlington. Athletic director Bill Straub was also present at the presentation, made before the student body. The ball was given by the New York Chapter of the Eastern Assn. of Intercollegiate Football officials, who for the past 10 years have given footballs to young men who sustained crippling injuries while playing football. Vickery was a starting guard on the SHS team. (Lipgar Studio photo).

Joe Shier Takes Lead In Match Game Finals

Joe Shier of Newburgh is leading the finalists in the Hudson Valley Match Game bowling championship. In Sunday's six game head-to-head competition at the Dover Plains alleys, Shier won five of six games for a total of 1213 pins and 29.13 Peterson Points. Ron Mead of Newburgh is second and Jack Ferraro and Vince Carpino of Kingston trailing in third and fourth.

The twelve keglers will conclude the tourney this Sunday at the Touponse Bowling Center in Glenham. They will bowl six more games.

The standings:

EMPLOYMENT

NOTICE TO JOB APPLICANTS
The Kingston Daily Freeman does not knowingly accept help wanted advertisements from employers covered by the Federal Wage-Hour Law if they offer less than legal minimum wages. Beginning September 3, 1961, employees engaged in interstate or foreign commerce or in the production of goods for such commerce must be paid not less than $1.15 an hour and at least time and one-half for hours worked after 40 in a workweek, unless specifically exempt. Employees of certain large retail, service, construction, and other enterprises must be paid not less than $1.00 an hour after September 3, 1961, but no overtime for such employment is required until September 3, 1963. If you are offered less by covered employers, or if you have questions concerning this law or other activities of the U. S. Department of Labor, call or write the Department's local office at Bronx: Abraham Klainbard, Investigation Supr., 881 Gerard Ave., Bronx, N. Y. WYandotte 2-1235.

SUZANNE DE GROFF HYDE Plaintiff — against —

CASE NO. 32732

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale duly made and entered in the above entitled action and bearing date 30th day of November 1961, I, the undersigned, the Referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction at the front door of the County Court House in the City of Kingston, County of Ulster and State of New York, on the 27th day of December, 1961, at 11:00 in the forenoon of that day, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold and therein described as follows:—

"ALL THAT CERTAIN LOT situate in the City of Kingston, County of Ulster and State of New York, on the southerly side of O'Reilly Street, and being the westerly one-half of Lot 567, and the easterly one-half of lot 566 on the map of the property of John O'Reilly deceased, made by D. T. Van Buren in 1870, and bounded and described as follows:

BEGINNING on the southerly side of said O'Reilly Street at the corner of the lot of John and William Roach, and running thence westerly along said street fifty feet to the center of lot 566; thence southerly through the center of said lot one hundred feet to the rear thereof; thence easterly along the rear of parts of lots 566 and 567 to the center of lot 567; and thence northerly through the center of lot 567 one hundred feet to said O'Reilly Street, the place of beginning.

ALSO, ALL THAT TRACT OR PARCEL OF LAND situate in the City of Kingston, County of Ulster and State of New York, bounded and described as follows:

BEGINNING at a point on the southerly side of O'Reilly Street distant 325 feet from the intersection of the westerly side of Broadway (formerly Union Avenue) and the southerly side of O'Reilly Street, being the corner of lands of John Murphy and runs from said point of beginning about southerly along line of the lands of John Murphy 100 feet to land now or formerly of O'Reilly; thence in about a westerly course parallel to O'Reilly Street 50 feet along lands of said O'Reilly to the lands formerly of Timothy Donovan; thence in about a northerly course parallel with the first mentioned course along the line of lands formerly of Timothy Donovan 100 feet to O'Reilly Street; thence in about an easterly course 50 feet to the point or place of beginning.

EXCEPTING from and out of the last above described parcel all that part or portion thereof as conveyed by Edward T. Carol and wife to Sarah L. Crouse by Deed dated September 17, 1923 and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office in Deed Book 501 at page 196.

Being the same premises conveyed by William H. Crogan, as Executor of the Estate of John W. Sheehan to Suzanne De Groff Hyde by deed dated December 2, 1958, and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office.

Being the same premises conveyed by Suzanne De Groff Hyde by Christopher D. Morris, as Attorney-in-Fact, to Warren F. Mann and Juanita Mann, his wife, by deed dated Dec. 3rd, 1958 and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office on Dec. 4th, 1958 in Deed Book 1050 at Page 541.

Pender Refuses Fullmer's Offer

BOSTON (AP) — Former middleweight champion Paul Pender today flatly refused Gene Fullmer's offer of $15,000 to let Fullmer get first crack at Terry Downes of England.

"I won't have any part of it," Pender said. "This is the first I've heard of it and it can be the last. I won't listen to it.

"Where was Fullmer when I was looking for him to fight me? He wasn't interested then. I'm not interested now."

Downes is recognized as champion in Massachusetts and New York and by the European Boxing union. He dethroned Pender last September in London.

Fullmer knocked out Benny (Kid) Paret in 10 rounds Saturday night to keep his cherished National Boxing Association portion of the world middleweight championship. Fullmer reiterated then that he wanted to meet Downes to clear up the disputed title.

Pender is slated to meet Downes in a third match, probably in Boston next March. He beat Downs in the first fight after winning his fractional title from Sugar Ray Robinson.

Wilt 'Slumps' To 55 Points

You'll pardon Wilt Chamberlain if the pace of three National Basketball Association games in 48 hours began to show on him.

After scoring a record 78 points Friday night and coming back with 61 Saturday afternoon, Chamberlain managed only 35 in helping the Philadelphia Warriors to a 118-109 victory over the Chicago Packers Sunday night. It gave him a weekend total of 194.

Cincinnati toyed with New York's hapless Knicks, 134-94 in the other Sunday game.

Only a letdown in the first half Sunday night kept Wilt from getting over the 200 mark. The Packers, with Walt Bellamy and Si Green leading the way, bolted into a 34-17 lead after one period and with Chamberlain held to 20 points, still led 58-51 at the half.

Then Chamberlain and the Warriors' fast break, triggered by Guy Rodgers and Al Attles, got going and Wilt added 35 points after the intermission. By the time the third quarter was over, Philadelphia had a 10-point lead and it was easy after that.

Jack Twyman, Oscar Robertson and Arlen Bockhorn did the heavy scoring for Cincinnati, with Twyman high man with 38 points. Bockhorn and Robertson each had 27. Richie Guerin led New York with 22.

Toronto Leafs Defeat Rangers

The muscular Toronto Maple Leafs, now in solid possession of second place in the National Hockey League, have their sight set on leading Montreal. But catching the Canadiens may be something else again.

The Leafs gained one point on the perennial leaders over the weekend and are now three back. Montreal, meanwhile, extended its string to 12 without a loss.

But if they were frustrated in closing major ground on Montreal., Toronto's two weekend victories enabled them to stretch the margin over third place New York from two to five points.

The key was Toronto's 3-2 victory over the slipping Rangers Sunday night. In the others, Montreal got a 4-3 decision over Boston while Detroit beat Chicago for the second straight evening, 3-2.

Newburgh Scores Win, 77-35 Over Lourdes

Newburgh Free Academy scored 30 points in a first period basket barrage and went on to beat Our Lady of Lourdes, 77-35, Saturday at the NFA gym.

The talented Goldies had quarter margins of 30-6, 49-13, and 68-26 at the quarter stops. Reserves saw a lot of action.

Al Angelone led Newburgh with 17 points and John Sileno followed with 16.

Clemente Wins NL Bat Title

CINCINNATI (AP) —Roberto Clemente of the Pittsburgh Pirates, the 1961 National League batting champion, undoubtedly hopes he doesn't meet the same fate as teammate Dick Groat, the 1960 titleholder.

Clemente's league-leading .351 mark was confirmed Sunday with the release of the official averages. The final figures also showed that Groat slumped to .275 after winning the title with a .325 slate a year earlier.

Only 11 players hit .390 or higher among those eligible for the championship with 477 or more total appearances.

Vada Pinson of the pennant-winning Cincinnati Reds was second with .343. Then came Ken Boyer, St. Louis, .329; Wally Moon, Los Angeles, .328, Hank Aaron, Milwaukee, .327 and Frank Robinson, Cincinnati, .323.

Orlando Cepeda, San Francisco's big slugger, won the home run crown with 46. He also had the most runs batted in, 142. Willie Mays, also of the Giants, scored the most runs, 129.

Other leaders were: runs—Pinson, 208; doubles — Aaron, 39; Triples—George Altman, Chicago Cubs, 12; stolen bases — Maury Wills, Los Angeles, 35; sacrifice bunts—Wills 13; sacrifice flies — Robinson 10 and longest batting streak, Robinson 19 games.

FOUR HURT IN UPTOWN MISHAP — A three-car accident on wet pavement at Washington Avenue and North Street Sunday afternoon resulted in injuries to four persons, police said. The cars (above) came to rest near the entrance to Joy's Lane. The drivers were listed as Robert Frankel, 20, Alden House, Larchmont; Ronald Lauppe, 23, of 72 Main Street, and Robert Allen Lasher, 23, of 188 Pine Street. (Freeman photo)

Hyde Park Girl Perishes in Fire After Explosion

An eight year old Hyde Park girl, Cindy Lewis, perished early Sunday morning when a flash fire ignited by an explosion, destroyed the family home on Bircher Avenue. Her parents and two brothers and sisters escaped.

According to Sheriff Lawrence Quinlan of Dutchess County, Edward Lewis, 34, of Bircher Avenue told him he had just gone to sleep about 3:30 a. m., when he was awakened by a terrific explosion which appeared to have come from the stairwell to the cellar. Lewis said that the entire first floor of the two-story frame dwelling was afire and within seconds the flames had spread to the second floor.

Lewis, his wife, Amelia, 31, daughter, Karen, 14 and infant son, Jeffrey, aged nine months, were sleeping on the first floor. They were able to get out of doors to safety. Three other children, Edward Jr. 11, Judy, 7 and Cindy were asleep on the second floor. Edward Jr. and Judy managed to crawl out onto a porch roof and leap 12 feet to the ground, but Cindy was trapped and died in the flames.

The father said the flames spread so rapidly that he was unable to get upstairs. The house was virtually destroyed.

Edward Jr., Karen and Judy were taken to St. Francis' Hospital for treatment of burns and other injuries. Edward Jr. and Karen were discharged after first aid treatment, but Judy was admitted to the hospital for treatment of first and second degree burns. Her condition was reported as good today.

Sheriff Quinlan said today that his department and fire officials are conducting an investigation in an effort to determine the origin of the explosion and ensuing blaze.

OCS Classroom Problems Topic At P-TA Meeting

The problem of adequate classroom facilities in the Onteora Central Schools District, which has been of growing concern to all interested in adequate education for the district's children, will be discussed by District Principal Dr. George Sullivan at the Dec. 14 meeting of the Woodstock P-TA.

The meeting will be held at 8 p. m. in the auditorium of the Woodstock elementary school. All voters as well as parents are urged to attend:

In announcing the meeting, P-TA President Edgar C. Leaycraft said:

"There are, of course, many possible solutions depending on one's idea of an adequate education and the facilities thought necessary. But, in analyzing the specific problems in the Onteora school district we have been long on heat and short on facts."

What does the school population of the district actually amount to? Where are the children currently located? What are the best predictions of future population growth within the district and where is it most likely to take place?

"These and many similar questions concerning the school population of the Onteora School District will be answered at Thursday's meeting when Dr. Sullivan presents the facts gathered by a district study," said Leaycraft.

The program will begin with the children's vocal group and as many children as wish may join the chorus, for the more the merrier. Many of the youngsters will be glad to hear they need not wear any costumes this year for the specially designed surroundings will carry the Yuletide impression. The young singers are in for a surprise this year, as standing in the center of their close group will be Clemie Nessel, playing her accordian. As soon as the chosen four Christmas songs are over, the children may quickly disperse and join the crowd.

Santa is anxiously awaiting the drawing and painting of boys and girls depicting, "What I See When I Think of Christmas." All boys and girls from kindergarten to through the fourth grade are asked to leave their art work at Anderson's Hardware or the Woodstock Sport Shop. There will be $75 worth of gifts given for the most interesting drawings. A ten dollar gift for the most impressive painting in each grade and a five dollar gift for the second most outstanding in each grade. Deadline for paintings is Monday Dec. 18th. The children's works will be displayed in the various shop windows.

With the setting in place of the Christmas tree on the Village Green, old Woodstock residents are reminded of the first Christmas Eve program held about 25 years ago.

The history of the program, except for the past ten years, has been sporadic. The first three years were in connection with winter sports. Ned Thatcher was the first Santa Claus who arrived either by sleigh or buggy, depending upon the weather. Even now, the mode of Santa's transportation is anyone's guess from year to year.

The Dutch Reformed Church took over the program for three years. Next the Woodstock Fire Department took charge. The program was then dormant for years until "Pop" Franckling resurrected it practically singlehanded. In 1948, the American Legion put on the show. In 1949, Leon Carey and Joe Holdridge, with the help of John Pike, started what has now become the modern tradition with a format that has become the basis of the past ten years' programs.

Joe Holdridge has had a major part in the program ever since and has become the tradition himself by his unselfish efforts.

The program has grown to such an erormous task, that three years ago it became a community project.

Snow King, Queen Is Entourage For Santa Claus

Though the way in which Santa Claus will arrive on the Village Green for the traditional Christmas Eve program, and the exact time of arrival remains a secret, there is one surprise that can be divulged now.

Santa will have a Snow King and Queen at his side when he distributes stockings. The Royal Couple will be chosen in a secret manner from among the Woodstock township second grader. Of course, the rule that they must have been very good all year in school, as well as home, must be followed. The lucky boy and girl will wear golden crowns and be dressed in satin robes.

Winslow Show At LIU Gallery

An exhibition of paintings and drawings by Woodstock artist Earle B. Winslow opened last week at Long Island University, Brooklyn. The exhibition is open to the public without charge weekdays from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m.

Among the 35 works on display are paintings of people, wildlife, landscapes and machinery. Winslow employs a diversity of techniques ranging from realism and impression to semi-abstraction.

The show may be viewed through Dec. 22 in the 11th floor gallery of Long Island University's Metcalf Hall, 385 Flatbush Avenue extension, downtown Brooklyn.

This is Mr. Winslow's tenth one-man show. He has exhibited in group shows, illustrated many books, and his work has appeared in magazines. He studied at the School of Fine Arts in Detroit, the Art Institute in Chicago and the Art League in New York.

He and his wife live in Woodstock.

Education Workshop Is Planned by League

The Education Workshop of the League of Women Voters meets Wednesday at 8 p. m. at Florence Harrison's. The League board meeting has been set for Thursday at 7:30 p. m.

The workshop will discuss ideas presented to the League membership by Dr. George Sullivan, district principal of Onteora Central Schools District, at the December general meeting. He spoke on the topic: "A New Approach to School Finance."

The workshop is designed to ask and answer questions on how a simplified foundation program can help to focus attention on improving education for the pupil rather than on meeting costs; and to come nearer to stating what the League believes should be done to improve financing of education in New York State.

Rosary-Altar Society Dinner Set Wednesday

St. John's Rosary-Altar Society will hold its annual dinner meeting on Wednesday at 7 p. m. at Deanie's in Woodstock. Mrs. Theodore Rose is chairman.

Everyone attending is asked to bring a gift for exchanging, and also an article of food which will be used to make baskets for the needy at Christmas.

Immediately following the dinner, a short business meeting will be held at which time there will be nominations for new officers.

Mobs Rise Up Against Peace Overture to End Katanga Area Fighting

Big Three Meet on Peace Plan

Talk About Congo Then on Berlin

By TOM OCHILTREE

PARIS (AP)—The Western Big Three foreign ministers met today in hopes of settling serious policy differences and agreed to work for a united, peaceful Congo.

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk, British Foreign Secretary Lord Home and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville were joined at lunch by West German Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder. Later the discussion was to turn to Berlin.

The chief U.S.-British aim in the talks was to persuade the French government to drop its adamant opposition to negotiations with the Soviet Union for some sort of compromise on the future of West Berlin.

A French spokesman said the morning session was devoted only to the Congo and Southeast Asia.

Belgium Sends Cable

As the three ministers conferred, Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium sent a cable urging them to ask acting U.N. Secretary-General U Thant for an immediate cease-fire in Katanga, the Congo. He said the Belgian people were shocked by the U.N. military action in the former Belgian colony.

The issue of Katanga has arisen to plague the Western Allies just finding a common approach to the question of negotiating with the Soviet Union.

The United States has backed the use of U.N. force to restore order in Katanga with an airlift of military supplies. The British government has objected to the use of force, and France has no sympathy for the entire U.N. operation in the Congo.

No Settlement Indicated

There was no indication that differences over Katanga had been ironed out. Conference officials limited themselves to the statement that the three powers agreed on the broad aims for the Congo. They include the consolidation of the entire country under a stable government to prevent a slide into civil war and anarchy.

The reintegration of the breakaway Katanga province with the central Congolese government should be done by conciliation, the three Allies agreed.

The foreign ministers' conference will merge into the broader annual review of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Wednesday.

Eichmann Guilty, May Go to Gallows

JERUSALEM (AP)— Israel convicted Adolf Eichmann of "unsurpassed" crimes against the Jews and said his role in the Nazi pogrom would be remembered "until the end of time."

The special three-man tribunal, which for four months tried the 55-year-old Gestapo lieutenant colonel, handed down its judgment today, a judgment which may bring him death on the gallows.

Convicted on Four Counts

In a 300-page judgement which they began reading aloud in turn, the three judges determined that Eichmann was proved to be such an important cog in Hitler's machinery for destroying the Jews that he merited conviction on these major counts:

1. Crimes against the Jews.
2. Crimes against humanity.
3. War crimes.
4. Membership in the criminal Nazi SS (Elite Guard) and SD (security police) organizations.

Reading the verdict, with all its elaboration of the legal reasoning, will require several days. Sentencing is expected by Friday.

In his bullet-proof, glass-enclosed cage, Eichmann took the first blow of conviction on the major charges with aplomb. Through his hornrimmed spectacles, he fixed a steady stare on the judges.

The court delivered an exhaustive study of the "iniquities" of the Nazi Reich and said it later would describe in detail the role Eichmann played as chief of the Gestapo's Bureau fo rJewish Affairs, the man who shipped millions to their death in the extermination camps.

Goes to Great Length

The tribunal, headed by Justice Moshe Landau, went to considerable length to justify its right to try Eichmann.

Regarding Eichmann's complaint that he was kidnaped, the court described at length a case in Vermont In 1935 in which a man complained he was seized in Canada and brought to justice in the United States. The Vermont Supreme Court ruled that the method of bringing the man there was unimportant. That, in effect, was what the Israeli tribunal decided in Eichmann's case.

Eichmann had argued that he was only an underling who carried out orders. But the court said: "The laws of humanity are binding on individuals. The guilt of Germany as a state does not detract one iota from the personal responsibility of the accused."

Sentence Due Friday

Eichmann is expected to be sentenced Friday.

He was tried under Israel's Nazi and Nazi collaborators' law of 1950 which provides death as the maximum penalty. The death penalty never has been invoked.

The packed courtroom was deathly silent as the verdict of guilty was pronounced. Many of the 600 spectators had relatives who were victims of the Nazi pogrom were themselves survivors of the death camps.

There was not a sigh or a ripple at the abrupt one-sentence verdict which Judge Landau spoke

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A new snowstorm came out of the Rockies today as winter smote the nation with disagreeable weather that included record subzero temperatures, road-blocking snow, flooding rains and shattering winds.

The weather was a factor in the deaths of at least 55 persons since a previous snowstorm crossed the Midwest Friday night.

Two major roads in eastern Arizona were closed by snow drifts measuring up to 22 inches. The new storm forced schools to close today in San Juan County in northwestern New Mexico.

More Snow Expected

Snow depths in New Mexico ranged from 8 inches in Raton to 20 at the Nageezi trading post in San Juan County.

Snow fell from northern Arizona into Wyoming and the Dakotas and eastward. Heavy snow, with accumulations of 4 inches or more headed toward Kansas, Nebraska, northwest Oklahoma and the northern Texas Panhandle.

One to 6 inches of new snow was expected in southwestern Oklahoma.

Sleet and freezing rain moved from New Mexico, across northern Texas, eastern and southern Oklahoma toward southern Kansas and southern Missouri.

Traffic Is Snarled

Ice glazed major highways in the northern half of New Mexico, northern Texas and Oklahoma. Autos were lined up for 3 miles on the Turner turnpike east of Oklahoma City Sunday until trucks sanded the pavement.

Snow or snow flurries were in store for the upper Mississippi Valley, the northern Great Lakes region, parts of the Ohio Valley and New England.

Flooding rains fell on Louisiana, Alabama and Georgia.

A child drowned in a rain-swollen creek at Mobile, Ala., Sunday. Mobile reported 3.53 inches of rain in 12 hours Sunday. Small streams in the area were flooded Tombigbee River at Jackson, Ala. was expected to crest 2 feet above flood stage today.

An inch to 1½ inches of rain fell in Louisiana and Mississippi,

Two Youths Held Without Bail in Series of Breaks

Accused of committing 18 burglaries in Dutchess County since last March and taking loot valued at about $1,000, two Staatsburg youths will face grand jury action on charges of burglary third degree.

Rhinebeck state troopers identified the youths as Richard Charles Greene, 18, a garage serviceman, and Richard Raymond Banks, 16, unemployed.

Arraigned before Town of Hyde Park Justice of the Peace Hulet Silvernale, Saturday, Greene and Banks waived preliminary hearing. The case was referred to the grand jury. Both youths were sent to the Dutchess County jail. No bail was fixed.

A 14-year old East Park boy also was taken into custody in connection with the rash of burglaries. He will be petitioned into Children's Court.

Troopers said the youths were accused of stealing $500 from the Capitol Bakery, North Road, Poughkeepsie, last August; $65 from the Dairy Queen, Hyde Park, and undetermined amounts from the Staatsburg school, the Dinsmore Golf Club, the Red Hook-Rhinebeck Telephone Co., and Borner's Grocery store, Staatsburg.

Authorities said the places were entered and ransacked four times each.

Attlee Improves

LONDON (AP) — Doctors reported today that former British Premier Earl Attlee continues to improve after grave stomach trouble and a heart attack last week.

Ike Urges Better Voluntary Action

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower thinks the United States should do "more things voluntarily and in a business-like fashion."

The general told the American Heart Association's board of directors here Saturday there is a "great virtue in America of doing things in a voluntary fashion."

Eisenhower is honorary board chairman.

New Laws Would Compel Filing of Campaign Report

NEW YORK (AP)—Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz will recommend to the State Legislature a bill that would require election boards and the secretary of state to report political organizations that fail to file campaign expense statements.

Lefkowitz said Sunday the measure will be one of four amendments to the election law that he will propose. The changes, he said, are the result of investigations by the Election Frauds Bureau and studies conducted by his office.

Report in Writing

The election law now requires political committees and other such groups to file financial statements, but Lefkowitz said there is "no clear-cut direction" ordering the boards and the secretary of state to report failures to file to his office and to the district attorneys.

Another proposed change would prevent the disfranchisement of persons who move within the same election district 30 days before Election Day. The new bill would permit such persons to notify their boards in writing of the change of address and then sign an affidavit at the polls.

Must Use Machines

Under permanent personal registration, Lefkowitz said, many persons who had not registered from their new addresses were denied the right to vote.

Another measure suggested by the attorney general would make the use of voting machines mandatory in all contested primary elections for public or party office. A controversy arose in the recent Democratic primary over whether to use machines or paper ballots.

A fourth bill would require dis-

Merger Is Discussed By Banks, Purchase Of Store Is Denied

Two rumors regarding banking institutions gained wide circulation over the past weekend.

One of the reports, a possible merger of the Kingston Trust Company and the Rondout National Bank, was today called an "exploratory" move and the other, purchase of the premises at 269 Fair Street now occupied by Standard Furniture Company, by the Ulster County Savings Institution to use as a parking lot, was denied by both the Savings bank and the owners of the building.

Talk Is Informal

Irving L. Eyles, executive vice-president of the Rondout National Bank, stated that "informal talks" had been held to explore the possibilities of a merger of the Rondout National Bank with the Kingston Trust Company. "Nothing definite has been decided," Eyles told The Freeman.

Speaking for the Kingston Trust Company, Arthur A. Davis, chairman of the board, stated that "we have discussed rumors we have heard" but he stated that nothing definite has been done. The matter had been brought up "informally" at a trustees meeting, Davis said.

Not Involved Now

It was reported there has been discussion of a merger of the Kerhonkson National Bank which has a branch at Stone Ridge, but that merger is not involved at the present time with any merger of the Trust Company and the Rondout National.

The Rondout National Bank is a "national" banking institution while the Kingston Trust Company is a "state" institution. In order to merge, consent of both the Federal banking authorities and the New York State banking department would be necessary. A merger plan approved by the trustees of the Trust Company and the directors of the Rondout National Bank, as well as stockholder consent would have to be acquired before a merger could be effected.

Both Have Branches

The Kingston Trust Company has three banking houses, the Main office at Main and Fair Streets, the Central Branch at 518 Broadway and a branch bank in Phoenicia.

Rondout National Bank has two banking houses, the main bank on Broadway at Henry Street and a branch in Port Ewen.

Daniel Weisberg, vice president of the "269 Fair Street Corporation," owners of the building now occupied by Standard Furniture Company, said today there had been no negotiations for sale of the premises to the Ulster County Savings Institution and stated that the premises were under lease to Stand-

Gnome Blast Seen As 70 PC Success

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

CARLSBAD, N.M. (AP)—Scientists counted blessings of knowledge from the first underground atomic "peace bomb" explosion Sunday despite the escape of a cloud of radioactive gas.

They reported 70 per cent success in getting data on major scientific programs, but major mysteries remain.

They judged the steaming radioactive cloud hadn't hurt anybody or anything, although its unexpected fallout partially blockaded nearly 300 observers.

Quarter Mile Down

The specially designed five-kiloton atomic device was detonated a quarter-mile underground. It was in a chamber at the end of a buttonhook tunnel dug 1,100 feet through salt rock from a vertical mine shaft. This Project Gnome hole alone cost $1 million, the total drill nearly $6 million.

A main objective was to learn what happens when a nuclear blast, equivalent to 5,000 tons of TNT, occurs in salt rock. Scientists hoped it might form a cavity partly full of molten salt and steam, and wanted to see if enough steam could be brought up to operate turbines and generate electricity.

Moderate Quake

The earth shock produced a moderate earthquake in Carlsbad, 23 miles away, where a waitress saw "an itty-bitty Santa Claus shaking on a drug store counter." It didn't harm the Carlsbad Caverns, 34 miles west, or potash mines, kept empty of people when the blast detonated.

Seismic measurements obtained near and far may help show the difference between the "signature" of an earthquake and a se-

Highway Mishaps Kill 18 Persons; Five Die in Fire

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Eighteen persons were killed in traffic accidents in New York State over the cold and damp weekend, including six persons in three separate accidents.

Fire claimed five lives during the period from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday night and a 39-year - old man was killed in a hunting accident.

A two-car collision near Rochester Friday night claimed the lives of Mrs. Frances M. Kittleberger, 58, of suburban Webster and John D. Meyer, 22, of Webster. Meyer died Saturday night.

Near Eden, Thomas Simoncir, 20, of Hamburg, and Robert Sicilin, 22, of Eden, were killed when their automobile struck a tree Saturday.

Tshombe Is Losing His Grip: Note

By PETER GROSE

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Mobs raided the U.S. consulate in Elisabethville Sunday and stoned the U.S. embassy in Brussels as the United Nations threw out a peace overture to end the fighting in the secessionist Congo province now in its seventh day.

Gen. Sean McKeown, the Irish commander of the U.N. task force in the Congo, said Katanga President Moise Tshombe has lost control of his rich province and white mercenaries representing foreign interests are directing the fighting.

Gone Beyond Him

Gen. McKeown, on a flying visit to Elisabethville, told newsmen: "There are indications that Tshombe realizes the hopelessness of his position but we don't think he could stop the fighting even if he wanted to."

Acting U.N. Secretary-General U Thant said in New York he would welcome "any initiative that will enable us to achieve our aims as speedily and peacefully as possible." He said the U.N. aims were to restore law and order in Katanga and to "assure our freedom of movement."

Hope for Unification

Thant and Adlai E. Stevenson, chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations, insisted the U.N. forces were fighting a defensive action without political motive. Both made clear, however, they hoped for a unified Congo.

Britain's Foreign Minister Lord Home in London called for an immediate cease-fire and urged unity negotiations between Tshombe's regime and the central Congo government in Leopoldville.

Mob Consulate

A mob of 200 Katanga youth league members broke windows in the U.S. consulate in Elisabethville, forced their way into the building and stole all the cigarettes they could find. They were ejected by Tshombe's official guard. None of the consulate staff was hurt.

In Brussels, about 250 pro-Katanga demonstrators shouting "Kennedy to the gallows" stoned the U.S. Embassy and clashed with police, who drove them off.

Strike at Key Spots

Rocket-firing U.N. jets struck Sunday at two key Katanga installations in Elisabethville—the postoffice in the heart of the cap-

Two Men Escape Injury as Train Rams Their Car

Two Highland men leaped to safety from a car early Sunday morning moments before a locomotive on the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad crashed into the vehicle on the Mobray Road crossing at Ardonia. Both men later faced motor vehicle violations.

Trooper Harry Foster said the car was operated by Stanley Showell, 42, of Highland, who was driving along Mobray road when the vehicle stopped on the tracks. Showell and Richard Grant, of Highland, owner of the car heard a train approaching and they leaped from the car.

The 36-car freight train appeared and crashed into the vehicle which apparently had been stuck in snow. The car was demolished. Warner Teed, 64, of Maybrook, was engineer on the locomotive.

Trooper Wallace Mahan charged Showell with driving without a license, operating an unregistered motor vehicle, and failure to have proof of insurance. Grant was charged with permitting an unlicensed driver to operate the car.

Showell was taken before Justice of the Peace James Palen. He was fined $100 or 10 days in jail on the insurance violation and $25 or 10 days on each of the other two charges. In lieu of $150 he was confined in the Ulster County jail until the fines are paid.

Grant was fined $10 on the license violation. He paid the fine.

JFK Program on Aid For Latins Perks Up

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

President Kennedy heads for Venezuela and Colombia this weekend strengthened by a prospect that his Alliance for Progress can now begin to push ahead toward positive results in attacking a key Latin American problem.

The problem is housing. Virtually every big Latin American city is plagued by constantly growing and incredibly squalid slums.

These are in themselves breeding places for violence. They also generate resentment and anger among young people of other classes—intellectuals, university and secondary school students and others who are impatient for quick change.

When the $20-billion Alliance for Progress program was launched at Punta del Este, Uruguay, last August, Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon estimated that $9 billion of investment capital would be needed.

With little attendant publicity, Congress took steps to pave the way for attracting private investment. An amendment introduced by Sen. George Smathers, D-Fla., was adopted, providing FHA-type guarantees of up to 75 per cent of mortgage investment on request of U.S. investors in attacking South America's housing problems.

Meetings were held last week in Miami Fla., to discuss how to get a program on the rails and produce a showcase pilot project. Among those taking part were

Albania Break May Affect Red Alliance

WASHINGTON (AP)—The diplomatic break between Albania and the Soviet Union raised prospects today for further cracks appearing in the once seemingly solid Communist world.

U.S. experts figured a logical next step would be Albania's expulsion from the Warsaw Pact, the Moscow-directed military alliance of European Communist countries, and withdrawal of relations with Tirana by the Soviet Union's European satellities.

Especially awaited was the reaction of Communist China, hitherto Albania's patron, because the Soviet-Albanian rupture focused the spotlight on Peiping's rivalry with Moscow.

Whether the Red Chinese follow suit on the Soviet break with Albania or whether they openly flout Moscow by maintaining friendship with the tiny Balkan state, the omens of further friction in the Communist camp were pleasing from the Western view.

Undersecretary of State George W. Ball saw the Moscow-Tirana break as "evidence of a very considerable amount of discontent and disagreement in the Communist bloc."

U.S. authorities were not prepared to say that Albania has left the Soviet bloc, as Yugoslavia did when kicked out of the Cominform in 1948. In general, Washington counts as Soviet bloc members those whose foreign policy is Moscow-controlled.

Nor was any prediction avail-

Long Island Man Injured in Crash

A Long Island City driver was injured Sunday afternoon when he failed to negotiate a sharp left turn at the railroad underpass on Route 9W in Cementon and rammed the abutment.

State police of the Leeds substation said Michael Dowdell, 20, of Long Island City suffered a cut forehead, scalp abrasions and an injured right shoulder in the ensuing crash. His car was badly damaged. Dowdell's condition was reported as good today by hospital authorities who said he was undergoing X-ray treatment.

Troop J. A. Dyer investigated.

Albania Break

able that the United States would soon extend aid to Albania, as it has to Communist Yugoslavia and Poland—still a member of the Soviet bloc. Albania has been getting aid from Red China and Albania's Communist leader Enver Hoxha has said he would not accept assistance from the West.

Washington officials were careful to point out that the Soviet-Albanian withdrawal of diplomatic representatives, announced Sunday through the official Albanian news agency Ata, was just a further deterioration in a rift between the two countries which has been widening for some time.

From a strategic standpoint, Albania—a mountainous Mediterranean land about the size of Maryland with a 1.5 million population—is unique among European bloc countries in that it has no common border with the bloc. Its land neighbors are Yugoslavia and Greece.

Split Is Biggest Since Ousting of Yugoslavia in '48

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union has severed diplomatic ties with Albania in the biggest Communist bloc split since Stalin expelled Yugoslavia from the Cominform in 1948.

The break, disclosed in Tirana and confirmed by the Albanian Embassy here Sunday, had been expected since Premier Khrushchev at the October Soviet party congress denounced the Albanian leaders as Stalinist and accused them of trying to disrupt Communist unity.

Other Eastern bloc nations are expected to follow the Kremlin's lead, leaving tiny Albania supported only by Communist China and perhaps North Viet Nam and North Korea.

A spokesman for the Albanian Embassy said the Albanian ambassador went home several weeks ago. He said the rupture in relations came several days ago.

The Albanian news agency Ata said an exchange of notes beginning Nov. 25 concluded with one Saturday announcing the withdrawal of the Soviet embassy and commercial staff from Tirana. Ata said this note also demanded that Albanian personnel get out of Moscow.

By diplomatic accounts, the trouble between the two countries exploded in an angry exchange between Khrushchev and Albanian Communist chief Enver Hoxha at the Moscow conference of world Communist leaders in November 1960.

Albania boycotted the Soviet Communist party congress this fall at which Khrushchev attacked Albania and Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai in turn criticized Khrushchev for airing the dispute instead of trying to settle it privately.

Many Westerners here felt that when the Kremlin denounced Albania, it actually was attacking Peiping for not supporting Khrushchev's policy of peaceful coexistence.

Saugerties Police Car Damaged in Pole Crash

The newly purchased Saugerties police patrol car, in service less than a week, sustained front end damage early today when the officer in charge, while watching a car he was following, ran off the highway and struck a utility pole. The patrolman was reported uninjured, Chief Arthur W. Richter said this morning.

According to the report by Patrolman John J. Hopf, 28 of Saugerties, he was on patrol at about 4:20 a. m. today and proceeding south on West Bridge Street. At the bottom of the hill, he said he noticed a car approaching without lights and riding in the center of the two-lane street. He followed, Hopf said and as the car without lights rounded a turn, Hopf said he drove to the left side of the road to keep the car in sight. While watching the car, he lost control of the patrol car and struck a utility pole, Hopf reported. There were two people in the front seat of the car which continued on its way without stopping, Hopf said.

Sgt. Harold Mills said today the patrol car was out of service and was damaged on the left front fender, headlight, bumper and part of the grill, and the front door was sprung.

Bowlero Reports $800 Theft Today

Local police today began probing the theft of some $800 in cash, plus some checks, from the Bowlero, 20 Cedar Street, along with two other thefts which apparently occurred over the weekend and were reported this morning.

Entrance to the Bowlero, Lt. Lemuel Howard said, was gained through the breaking of a rear door. Other thefts from there were reported earlier in the year. About $350 in checks were reported missing along with the $800 reported today.

Roe Movers, Inc., of 519 Broadway reported the theft of a vacuum cleaner, and the Green Mountain Construction Co. of 672 Broadway reported concrete blocks and some lumber missing from a warehouse area.

Painless Method Of Slaughtering Proposed in Bill

A bill to require the use of painless methods for slaughtering meat animals was pre-filed Friday by Senator William T. Conklin of Brooklyn. The measure if enacted will extend protection from slaughterhouse cruelties to animals in New York State not covered by a federal humane slaughter law.

The federal law applies only to plants selling meat to the federal government.

The proposed state law would require packing plants to render meat animals insensible to pain before they are shackled, hoisted, knifed, bled, scalded or skinned. The bill declares the Jewish slaughter ritual to be one of two humane methods and thus would prevent interference with it.

Senator Conklin's bill was introduced at the request of The National Catholic Society for Animal Welfare, Washington, D. C., and humane organizations in New York State. The Conklin bill is substantially in the form drafted and recommended by the Council of State Governments.

The campaign that led to enactment of the Federal law in 1958 resulted in more mail than ever before received by Congress on an issue, according to a survey made at the time.

Under humane slaughter laws, packers may use captive bolt pistols, carbon dioxide or electric stunning for rendering meat animals unconscious before they are shackled, hoisted, knifed or bled.

50 Area Farmers Enroll for 1962 Wheat Programs

Through December 1, growers of a total of 50 farms in Ulster county had signed up to take part in the 1962 winter wheat stabilization program, according to E. M. Wood, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. The deadline was December 1. Another signup will be held next spring for growers of the spring-planted crop.

Chairman Wood said the farms signed up for inclusion in the program represent about 35 per cent of the total farms in the county which produce winter wheat.

Applications filed through the deadline call for the diversion of 463 acres from the production of wheat on these farms. The acreage so divested must be devoted to an approved conservation use as one requirement in qualifying for the special program payments. Participation in the program also is required in order to qualify for price support on the 1962 wheat crop.

For Ulster county farms signed up, $4,738.86 has been paid to participants as advance payments during the signup period.

Carpet Firm Reports Heavy Losses in '61

NEW YORK (AP) — A proxy fight by a group of Firth Carpet Co. stockholders loomed today as a threat to proposed merger of Firth into Mohasco Industries Inc., the nation's largest producer of rugs and carpets.

It was disclosed over the weekend that four stockholders controlling more than 10 per cent of Firth's 563,575 outstanding shares have filed notice with the Securities and Exchange Commission of intent to challenge the plan.

Should the opposition group succeed in blocking the merger, A. M. Sonnabend, Boston financier and chairman of Botany Industries Inc., was reported interested in taking an active hand in management of Firth.

Firth suffered heavy losses in 1960 and 1961.

Public Aid Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Welfare Abraham A. Ribicoff announced today 10 administrative changes in the federal-state public assistance program. He said they are aimed at eliminating abuses, helping people get off relief, and strengthening family life.

Ribicoff told a news conference the changes, approved by President Kennedy, are the first steps in a broad program for welfare revision.

Legislative changes will be proposed to Congress next year, he said, and further administrative changes are also under study, but he did not detail these.

Driver Arrested, One Hurt in 3-Car Saugerties Crash

One operator was arrested for reckless driving and one person was reported injured in a three-car crash on Route 9W near the intersection of Route 32 at Barclay Heights early Sunday morning, Kingston state police reported.

Edward Hanna, 54, of Partition Street, Saugerties, was issued a summons for reckless driving and is scheduled to appear before Saugerties Police Justice Ernest E. Schirmer at 4 p. m. today.

Rosalie Cecala, 25, of Barclay Heights, a passenger in the car of Charles Scrodanus, 23, of Barclay Heights, complained of a sprained neck and said she would see her own physician, troopers said.

The third car was operated by Lloyd Loop Jr., 23, of 127 Ulster Avenue.

Troopers Thomas J. Crowley and Robert Mackey reported Hanna was traveling south on Route 9W, crossed into the northbound lane and was in collision with the Schrodanus vehicle. Loop traveling north skidded on the wet pavement into the rear of the Schrodanus car, troopers said. The mishap occurred at 2:30 a. m.

Gnome Blast

cret nuclear underground bomb test.

Go Up Shaft

Somehow, the leak sent radioactive gasses up the mine shaft, a white steam turning into an invisible but quickly dying cloud of radioactive gas. A filter in the shaft head apparently stopped solid particles, said Dr. Randolph.

Atomic Energy Commission officials said the gas swept away over essentially unpopulated areas. But for more than three hours they blockaded the direct road to Carlsbad until radioactivity across the road died down. And "for good housekeeping," the AEC washed seven cars caught between blockade points.

The highest radiation rating inside any car was 15 milliroentgens (thousandths of a roentgen) per hour and declining, said AEC's Dr. Gordon Dunning. He said a person could live the rest of his life in the car and get a total dose of only 75 milliroentgens. A thoroughly safe lifetime exposure to radiation has been set at 35 roentgens, not milliroentgens.

No Injuries Reported

Test director James Reeves said "to the best of my knowledge at the present time, no one was injured."

While the dissipating gaseous radioactivity was small, radiation in the mine shaft was terrific — 1 million roentgens at the bottom an hour after blast, Dr. Randolph estimated. Five hours after the blast, it was about 40,000 roentgens. A lethal human dose is 1,000 roentgens.

This will delay attempts to recover a special wheel, near the bottom of the shaft, which measured neutrons flying from the blast chamber through a 22-inch wide vacuum pipe.

The wheel is apparently intact, and that experiment apparently worked, Dr. Randolph said.

Will Test for Cavity

In a day or two, a drilling rig will start boring to learn if a cavity was actually formed.

An experiment to capture radioisotopes flying up the vacuum pipe, which peered into the blast chamber from the surface, also apparently worked. But a three-foot thick concrete slab on which instruments stood, was tilted over, and the ground above the chamber apparently heaved up a few feet.

The nuclear device, using new principles to make peace time explosives cheaper, also apparently worked quite well, said Dr. Randolph. Observers 4½ miles away could feel its power from the rolling earth tremors.

He said the experiment definitely advanced ultimate peaceful uses of nuclear explosives.

New Laws Would

trict and associate district leaders to be chosen by direct election at the primary. At present, political organizations may adopt rules for direct election if they wish.

Still under study is a fifth suggested change that would broaden the responsibility for the printing of campaign literature. Under existing law, only the printer can be held liable for the publication of scurrilous campaign literature.

55 Perish After with minor floods in some places after weekend totals of 10 inches of rain.

Twelve persons were injured Sunday by a tornado that struck the southern Alabama town of Brewton, destroying seven houses and damaging 12 others.

Colgate Receives $500,000 Bequest

HAMILTON, N.Y. (AP) — Herman Wendt Jr., a retired insurance executive, has given Colgate University more than $500,000 of a $1-million contribution.

Wendt, of New York City, is expected to turn over the remainder of the money next year, the university said Sunday.

Orrin C. Judd, chairman of the bequest committee of the Colgate board of trustees, said the money would "help in large measure to insure the future of Colgate as a leading liberal arts college."

Under the agreement, the university pays the donor an annual income and when the last beneficiary dies, the university has full use of the money, the university explained.

JFK Program

Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., a ranking Senate Foreign Relations Committee member; Frank P. Gatteri, vice president of the Chamber of Commerce of the Americas, and William Q. Winsborough, founder of an international nonprofit foundation known as the "Economic Plan for Freedom."

Winsborough described himself as shocked by the frequently expressed notion that U.S. businessmen do not care about the plight of American policy. He proposed an "economic peace corps," recruited from American business and working but for private enterprise. This corps, among other things, would seek out sources of private venture capital and try to interest it in investing in areas like Latin America.

Winsborough represents, himself, about $2.5 billion of private investment capital which he says he wants to get into projects at home and abroad to earn good returns and "where the principals are willing to reinvest some of these profits in humans and their individual aspirations."

"Others have already shown an interest in doing the same thing," he added. "An American group came to me to help them finance a $20-million housing project in Venezuela and they are willing to turn back 25 per cent of their profits into a revolving scholarships fund for students in the area where they are to invest their money."

There is no atmosphere of charity in this approach, but an appeal to Latin Americans' own self-respect.

rapidly before beginning to outline the court's detailed reasoning.

The reading of the judgement will continue through today and Tuesday. Atty. Gen. Gideon Hausner—who prosecuted the case, presented tons of captured documents and 112 witnesses—will then advise the court on the penalty.

Will Have Own Say

Defense counsel Robert Servatius of West Germany, will make his final plea and Eichmann will be allowed to speak in his own behalf.

The court rejected Eichmann's defense plea that Israel had no right to try him for crimes committed elsewhere and under a law passed years after the crimes.

"The court finds the law in the best tradition of international law," the judgment found. The court said international crimes were tried as far back as the Middle Ages in areas where the guilty were caught. Piracy cases were so conducted on the theory that "all mankind must declare war against" such violations. The Israeli judges said this reasoning applies to Eichmann as well.

"A person guilty of piracy has placed himself beyond the protection of any state," the court said.

Eichmann, as chief of the Gestapo's bureau for Jewish affairs, was no better than a pirate, the tribunal concluded.

It was Eichmann's job to round up the Jews, arrange transport to the death camps and see that the human cargo was delivered. Out of that master Nazi plan to wipe out the Jewish race, six million died, more than half of all of Europe's Jewish population.

If Eichmann is sentenced to death, his counsel can appeal to the state Supreme Court. If the high court rejects the appeal, Eichmann can ask clemency from President Izhak Ben-Zvi.

ital and the main Katanga military camp.

A Katanga official spokesman in Elisabethville charged a U.N. jet killed several African women and children in a strafing attack on Lukafu village, near Jadotville. The spokesman also said Christophe Mwamba, a Katanga deputy, his wife and two children were killed—possibly the same jet—while traveling by car in the Jadotville area.

To Scatter Leaflets

The United Nations prepared leaflets to tell the people of Katanga that it "has no wish to interfere in Congolese politics."

U.N. planes will scatter the leaflets—printed in French and Swahili—over the province telling the Katangans "the United Nations is your true friend."

They said the U.N. force had come to the Congo, "at the request of your legitimate government (in Leopoldville) to help your country preserve its independence and unity," to keep law and order and "to save you from chaos, famine, ruin and civil war."

Saud Is Better

Dr. Trygve Gundersen performed the 35-minute operation at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital and termed it a success.

The king arrived in Boston three weeks ago for treatment for a stomach disorder.

33 Die in Mishaps

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At least 33 persons died over the weekend in multiple-fatality accidents on the nation's highways.

Two crashes in Texas and North Carolina each took five lives. Two accidents in Illinos left a total of eight dead—including the drownings of a mother and her four children when their car skidded on a snowy bridge approach and plunged into a lake.

Failure to Report Weaknesses Bad For School System

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—"The frequent reluctance of school people to publicize school weaknesses ...results in a public impression that schools are adequate and real improvement is not possible," a spokesman said today.

Dr. William Firman, chief of the department's bureau of edu-Vcational finance research, said:

"This failure to communicate has shifted responsibility for the maintenance an dimprovement of the school from the people, where it belongs, to school authorities who often do not have the powe who often do not have the power to bring about significant change."

Firman commented in a speech prepared for delivery at a convention of secondary school principals.

About 800 junior and senior high school principals are attending the 77th annual conference of the New York State Association of School Administrators. The conference ends Tuesday.

The principals were told Sunday night that a high school principal "worth his salt" would have a better school if he created controlled unhappiness within the institution.

"A school on the move is a place where people disagree. It lives with tensions between those who want things as they always have been and those who would change them," Dr. Harold Howe II, superintendent of schools at Scarsdale, said.

Howe cautioned the principals "to note this tension and to keep it from erupting into a destructive element."

Four Area Schools Seek Evaluation Report of State

The State Education Department today announced that 84 school districts in New York State, including four in this area have applied to the Department for a Cooperative Review Service to evaluate the quality and effectiveness of local school systems.

The 84 districts include Central School District 2, Ellenville; Hyde Park Central School District 1, Hyde Park; Rhinebeck Central School District and Poughkeepsie City School District.

Dr. Walter Crewson, associate commissioner for elementary, secondary and adult educatiion, is in charge of the new state-sponsored program. The review is made available to school districts upon request of the local boards of education. Under this program a team of education specialists from the Education Department will visit the school district and, in cooperation with local officials, appraise the adequacy and quality of the educational program.

In some instances, Dr. Crewson reports, the department team will be augmented by specialists from colleges and universities and from other school systems. Priority is being given this year to requests from large city school systems.

Sectors Upstate Raise $58 Million Aside Realty Tax

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Counties, cities and city school districts in Upstate New York raised a total of $58 million through non-property taxes during 1960, the state comptroller said today.

Of the total, $46 million was obtained through sales taxes levied by five counties, five cities and the portion of the Niagara Falls City School District located outside the city, Comptroller Arthur Levitt said.

Watertown and Broome and Monroe Counties raised more revenue through sales taxes than from real estate taxes, Levitt said.

The 60 Upstate cities levying a gross income tax on utility companies received a total of $5 million, while eight cities and six school districts imposing a consumers' utility tax were paid $4 million.

The tax on admissions to harness races, imposed by seven counties and three cities, totaled $2.4 million.

Buffalo Artistic Opinion Divided On Womanhood

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The woman in Larry Griffis' statute, "The Spirit of Womanhood," is built along the lines of a blade of grass.

Her arms and legs are elongated, toothpick-like.

She wears a tattered dress and extends a large hoop in front of her, as it there was somebody on the other end waiting to throw a ball through it.

This is modern sculpture, fraught with controversy, and because a 12-foot bronze version of this creation is scheduled to go up on a city plot at a Northside intersection, persons have been asked how they like it.

"Reminds me of my first wife's mother," remarked one citizen, when pictures of a 2-foot wax model were displayed in the local newspapers.

"She's in the terminal stage of some dreadful and wasting disease," said a woman.

Others like it, including George Martin, city parks commissioner, who found it "exciting."

Even the opinion of Buffalo's artistic community is divided.

One sculptor in effect said it was junk. Another called its selection an astute decision."

Plans to erect the statute have bogged down in the controversy. Nobody knows what's going to happen next, including the City Planning Board, which must rule on the suitability of the proposed site. As to the statute, they don't have a n official opinion and don't plan to give one.

But the City Council may move in. Council President Chester Gorski said the council may not "want a statute such as that erected on city property."

Griffis, a sculptor and art teacher, was one of four artists who submitted designs to the local Zonta Club, a women's organization behind the project.

Griffis, $9,000 commission would come from funds left for the development of Wilkes circle by the late business and political leader Kneeland Wilkes, for whom the circle was named. The statue is planned for the circle.

But Wilkes' widow says the statue would not be "compatible" with the area.

Griffis himself like the uproar. He said:

"If we put up a figure everybody understands and likes, people would just look at it and say, 'uh-huh, they got the statute up, that's nice.' But if you put up a controversial piece, you've got people thinking."

HOLIDAY FIRE DANGERS

Fire dangers increase during the Christmas holidays because of traditional customs of trees, decorations, lights, wrappings and logs in the fireplace. In view of these fire hazards, which endanger the lives of children and parents, the National Fire Protection Association offers the following suggestions for a fire-safe Christmas:

Obtain a fresh-cut tree whose needles don't shed freely. Keep it in water from the time it is bought until it is thrown out; support it well, and never set where it can block escape in the event of fire. And remove it as soon as possible after Christmas.

Check tree lights carefully for frayed wires, loose connections and broken sockets.

Keep candles away from the tree and use extreme care in smoking when you are near a tree.

Make sure tree lights are turned off before you go to bed or before you leave the house.

Keep power shut off while you set up outdoor lighting and use only weatherproof equipment and cords.

Use only noncombustible or flameproofed decorations.

Dispose of gift wrappings promptly.

Think ahead about what you would do for the safety of your family if fire does start.

COURT REORGANIZATION

The official canvass of New York State's general election held last November reveals that the people overwhelmingly approved amendment number one to the state constitution which called for the reorganization of the state's court system.

Figures released by the State Board of Canvassers show that on a state-wide basis the vote was 2,303,446 for the proposed amendment and 507,211 against.

Voters in Ulster County were similarly emphatic in their endorsement with 17,816 voting for reorganization and 4,906 against.

The figures for the state as a whole and for Ulster County, however, disclose that over 50 per cent of the people who went to the polls on the state and local county basis were not aware of the importance of the amendment and did not vote.

Now that the court system will undergo reorganization, the people can look forward to a clean-up of old cases going back as far as five years and speedier disposition of the new cases.

The fair, full and swift administration of justice is one of the cornerstones of the freedom we enjoy.

TONIC FOR MIDDLE AGE

Whatever else is proved by the forthcoming oribtal flight of an American astronaut, it will provide a healthy boost for the ego of the nation's middle-aged men. They will be able to claim (the definition of middle age being rather flexible) that the astronaut chosen for this daring adventure is one of them

This may be stretching a point. Still, Lieut. Col. John H. Glenn, Jr., has passed his 40th birthday. He is an uncommonly vigorous, lively 40-year-old, true. But others in their fifth decade have a right to consider him one of the fraternity.

This, as was noted above, is a gratifying shot in the arm for men inclined to wonder if they have not passed their peak. Now they will be justified in pointing out that another of about their age is undertaking a feat that will make extreme demands on physical and mental capabilities. His glory will reflect to some extent on everyone else in the fraternity of the middle-aged.

There is a general truth behind all this. It is that, as man's adventures become increasingly complex, they will be undertaken by men of sober years and long experience rather than by brash youths. The trained mind is gaining the ascendancy.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

SHOT AND SHELL!

Opening an address at Wilson College, Clare Booth Luce said:

"Today the two strongest nations in the world are drawn up in full battle array, facing one another across half the world. Their bombs testing in air, their rockets' red glare, seem proof to the world that war may be near."

It is not only the Great Powers that shoot at each other, but the little, new states, even parts of states like Katanga, fight for what they believe is freedom. The world is at war not only one country with another but each country within itself. Mrs. Luce states the American Case brilliantly:

"Morality in respect of force consisted in not striking the first military blow. Conversely, any nation who struck the first military blow against America, ipso facto established its own immorality.

"Consequently, the only moral casus bellum, or cause of war, which the Public Will has fully supported is the initiation of war on the United States. For almost a century, statesmanship has been constrained, diplomacy has been confined, and patriotism itself has been defined, by the moral necessity of waiting for Pearl Harbors."

But we are no longer living in a moral world. Perhaps the most significant achievement of the middle of the 20th Century was the overthrow of morality, the renunciation of Moral Law and the acceptance again of the rule of the jungle, namely, that he is right who has the will to declare himself to be right and to impose that will upon the Earth. Soviet Russia gathers the forces of strength and power from its doctrine of historic inevitability.

Against that, the President has to establish a renewed moral concept among the American people. Already he has spoken of physical fitness, but to be truly effective, he must become a moral leader. He must be a high priest of principle. He must be one who not only serves but who leads.

Clare Luce put it this way:

"Let me give you an elegant historical example of wise American statesmanship: the proclamation of the Monroe Doctrine, on December 2nd, 1823. This was a clearly stated political and diplomatic warning to all the nations of the world that the United States would rapidly raise armies to fight any nation which, for any reason good or bad, sought any conquest in this hemisphere. We said, in effect, that we would not wait until a conflict situation, involving a European power, developed in South America to determine whether our interests were affected. And we certainly would not wait until we ourselves were hit. We would, on the contrary, act at the first sign of European aggression in our hemisphere."

This is precisely what our President faces. Dares he to say that no Communist state will be established on the American continent and that if any European or Asiatic power attempts to establish such a state, we will fight?

The leader among us who will have the courage to meet this issue straight-forward and without fear will not only be respected but loved by our people who hate war but do not fear death.

Again Mrs. Luce warns the enemy:

"Our attitude in 1945 that it was immoral to alert the Russians to the fact that we might strike first unless a real peace could be negotiated, our long refusal even to warn an avowed enemy, an enemy whose intention to bury us and the free world had been clear from the beginning, had paralyzed our diplomacy, saw 600 millions of people dragged into slavery behind the Iron Curtain, intensified the cold war throughout the world, neutralized many countries, brought Russian power to our very own shores in Cuba, left us inert and humiliated before Castro — and now has at long last carried the whole suffering world to Armageddon."

In a word, if there must be a challenge, let us make the challenge fearlessly and positively. We cannot wait to be challenged because we cannot afford always to respond to another's initiative. We have to move forward on our own, strong and sure and utterly fearless.

It is interesting that it should be a woman who speaks out boldly in these days when men count their pennies and the consequences of conduct. Women are more courageous when they face realistic dangers and this nation has never before encountered a danger as great and as threatening as that which we face today — a danger not only to our political existence but to our civilization.

Pinworm Infection Can Recur But It Need Not

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Pinworm is the worm infestation of childhood which occurs most frequently. Many mothers who write to me seem to think that its presence in their household is a reflection on the care they give their youngsters and their home.

Others regard it as a drain on the child's health and attribute to it almost every complaint that puts in an appearance, such as rings under the eyes, sallow complexion, listlessness and backwardness in school.

Still others request the name of a curative drug, saying that their own doctor or doctors have prescribed unsuccessfully on previous occasions.

Let me try to deal with these disturbing problems in a single package:

The presence of pinworm is no reflection on the conscientiousness or capabilities of the housewife. She may be a perfectionist as mother and housekeeper and still be unable to prevent or get rid of the annoyance.

Except for itching and the resultant effects of restlessness and scratching, pinworm infestation is of no consequence to the affected youngster. If the infested child has any other complaint or manifestation of ill health, some other explanation must be sought and almost surely will be found.

Several safe and effective drugs are available to rid the child of pinworms. For obvious reasons, I cannot give the names of these drugs nor instructions for their use. Every effective drug has side reactions.

It also has toxic effects if given or taken in excessive dosage. Hence both the particular drug and the particular dose must be suited to the individual who is to take the drug according to specific instructions.

That's why you must get the prescription and the instructions for its use from your doctor who has put in years of study and experience so as to equip himself with the information needed to write you the prescription and give you the necessary instructions.

These several drugs do, in fact, "cure" pinworm infestations. But they can't and don't prevent recurrences.

They're not like a vaccine that helps you build up a more or less permanent immunity to the infecting organism.

The prevention of reinfection is primarily your job. And here's how you go about it: (1) under your doctor's direction, give the worm medicine to every member of the household whose specimen contains worms or eggs and to every domestic pet you permit to share your home; (2) scrub the toilet seat with any strong household disinfectant; (3) until you get an "all clear" from your doctor, trim the nails of all the infested until they're too short to pick up the eggs when they scratch and (4) keep the youngsters in snug sleeping garments so they can't get their nails in the crotch areas in which eggs are deposited.

Then, if re-infection still occurs, don't think it's a reflection on you or your doctor. Just go through the de-worming process all over again with no more fuss than you make about regular housecleaning.

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The mystery of "Mister Z" who planted a think piece proposing complete unification of 18 U. S. government agencies for four departments into a new cabinet-level "Department of Natural Resources" is puzzling Washington.

Appearance of this article in the relatively small circulation "Natural Resources Journal" published by University of New Mexico Law School in Albuquerque caused some people to downgrade the idea as being old stuff to file and forget.

BUT NEW MEXICO IS A BIG STATE in water, conservation, power, mining, reclamation, public lands and Indian affairs. And the Journal is a respected intellectual type publication throughout the Southwest.

Its editor, Jack L. Kroner, while not endorsing the merger idea, says only that, "Mister Z desires to remain anonymous to stimulate discussion."

Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall, who comes from neighboring Arizona and whose department would have most to gain from any merger with natural resource agencies of Agriculture, Army Corps of Engineers and Department of Health, professed to know nothing of it.

WHEN SHOWN PROOFS OF THE ARTICLE, Udall did not repudiate the idea. He gave this comment:

"How to more effectively coordinate the various conservation activities of government has been a subject that has long attracted the attenion of thoughtful men both in and out of government. Certainly the author of the journal article could so qualify.

"Under this administration we feel we have made significant gains by obtaining a unity of purpose between various departments — a unity that should produce in this century the greatest gains in the conservation field. We will continue lending our efforts in that direction."

THE FACT THAT SEN. CLINTON P. ANERSON of New Mexico is chairman of the Senate's committee on Interior and a former secretary of agriculture made him a natural for questioning on the "Mister Z" natural resources unification idea. Reached in Albuquerque he made this comment:

"I did not have anything to do with publication of the article in the New Mexico State University Resources Journal and I am not Mister Z.

"My hope would be that planning for natural resources would be far more unified and harmonious among agencies than now is the case. But I have never proposed and do not favor transferring the Forest Service, REA, (Rural Electrification Administration), Soil Conservation and Corps of Engineers to the Department of Interior. This, in my opinion, is completely unnecessary no matter how sincerely we want a co-ordinated and unified program.

"I cannot answer whether there is or is not a plan to present such proposal to the coming session of Congress. But I have no such plan, know of no such plan and would not favor such plan."

THE IDEA OF MERGER has, of course, been kicked around Washington from time to time. The late Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes stubbed his toe trying to take over the Forest Service from Agriculture.

Minority reports from task forces on natural resources for ex-President Hoover's commission on reorganization recommended merger in 1949 and 1954, to no avail.

President Eisenhower appointed a cabinet committee on water resources to co-ordinate conflicting interests. It adopted some broad policy principles which left every agency just where it was, with nothing taken away.

THE CLASSIC RIVALRIES in this field are Forest Service vs. National Park Service over recreation facilities, Soil Conservation Service vs. Fish and Wildlife Service, Agriculture vs. Interior vs. Army engineers over upstream watershed development.

The biggest feud of all is Army Engineers vs. Bureau of Reclamation.

It was supposedly settled by the Pick-Sloan plan, which left downstream development to Army and upstream to Reclamation. But last October, Maj. Gen. William F. Cassidy, director of civil works for Army Engineers, made a hot speech before National Reclamation Assn. in Billings, Mont.

He boasted that the Army fathered the Reclamation Service and discovered Central Valley of California nearly 100 years ago. Also, Cassidy cited 160 authorized Corps. of Engineers reservoirs in 17 Western states, with a $400-million appropriation for this year in what is Reclamation territory.

NAM Said to Feel Let Down By Kennedy Bow to Labor

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy may wonder at times why his Administration is so frequently referred to as "anti-business." He need wonder no longer. For while the President promised the National Association of Manufacturers last Wednesday in a speech at New York City that the next day in talking to the AFL-CIO convention he would "stress" the importance of holding down wage costs as a factor in price stability, he failed to do so. Indeed, his own Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg, later "interpreted" Mr. Kennedy's brief and incidental remarks before the AFL-CIO as meaning that demands for increased wages—and even strikes—were justified if based on "productivity."

"Productivity" Key

Now moct business men know from experience in labor negotiations that "productivity" is not really based very much on any increase in individual efficiency but is conveniently calculated nevertheless by labor-union economics to include substantially all savings made by new machinery and equipment. Theoretically some of the economics due to better machinery should be divided three ways—to the consumer in lower prices, to the stockholders in the form of earnings, and to labor in the form of increased wages. But customarily the labor unions demand almost all of the savings, and that's what they mean by "wage increases based on increased productivity."

The President's failure to keep his promise to the NAM and Secretary Goldberg's speech before the AFL-CIO may prove to be a turning point in Mr. Kennedy's political fortunes. Unfortunately, the President did not come to grips with the extremism of labor-union leaders at a crucial moment in the economic history of the United States when a serious maladjustment in the form of a recession or depression next year could retard America's growth and increase unemployment.

Raised NAM Hopes

The President raised high hopes at first when he talked severely to the business men at the NAM about restraints in prices and promised to speak as forthrightly to the labor unions. Here is what he said to the NAM convention last Wednesday:

"Labor, too, has its responsibilities for price stability, and I shall stress this tomorrow in addressing the AFL-CIO."

But the next day Mr. Kennedy, in the course of a long speech at Miami before the labor union convention, discussed largely what his administration had done for labor and would continue to do. He made only a brief reference to the subject of price stability and he directed this to both labor and management. A stenographic record of what he said—as given out by the White House—follows:

"I am hopeful that management and labor will recognize their responsibility to permit us to compete, that those of you who are in the area of wage negotiation will recognize the desirability of us maintaining as stable prices as possible, and that the area of productivity and stable prices—that your negatiations will take adequate calculation and account of this need for us to maintain a balance of trade in our favor. In the long run it's in the interests of your own workers."

But this comment puzzled the unions, and hence Secretary of Labor Goldberg the next day in his speech to the same convention undertook to amplify it as follows:

"If we are going to keep the economy going on a sound non-inflationary basis, wage increases over-all should be earned by increasing productivity."

Mr. Goldberg then immediately declared that this did not mean wages should necessarily be stabilized. He pointed out that the formula provides "plenty of room for advance in this highly productive country."

Now it so happens that in his prepared speech Mr. Goldberg urged labor to abandon "make-work" practices and he also deplored "a squeeze on business profits," but he omitted all this on delivery. He later explained to inquiring reporters that he did so just because he "didn't have time." But Bernard Rossiter, staff reporter of the Washington Post, telegraphed afterward from the Florida convention hall these observations:

"But however careful the Secretary was of the touchy union leaders' sensibilities, his remarks added muscle to the softer version of the wage restraint message that President Kennedy carried here yesterday. . . .

To Ignore Plea

"Organized labor is preparing to ignore President Kennedy's plea for wage restraint and declare that substantial pay increases are needed to quicken the pace of economic growth."

Perhaps the best summing up of the damage done by the President's failure to speak out forcefully on the wage issue is contained in the following paragraph in a New York Times editorial on Sunday:

"If the end effect of the President's campaign for voluntary holding of the price line is to throw all the responsibility on industry, Mr. Kennedy will undo all the efforts he has been making to persuade the business community that he does not apply a double standard to business and to labor."

When, it may be asked, is America going to be blessed with a national leadership that eschews the politics of pressure groups and really champions the national interest? When, moreover, are recessions and depressions going to be nipped in the bud? A President some day who learns how to get across the doctrine that in America "there is enough for everybody's need but not enough for everybody's greed" could find himself an easy winner of re-election.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Although President Kennedy appears to have rid himself of Chester Bowles at last, it is difficult to understand why Bowles was taken into the Administration even as a probationer in view of his association with Leigh Danenberg, the publisher of a radical weekly paper called the Bridgeport Herald. The House Committee on Un-American Activities once tried to learn whether Sam Carp owned any interest in this paper or wielded any influence on its contents by reason of his status as Molotov's brother-in-law and his authority to spend either $100,000,000 or $200,000,000 in the United States for the Russian government. Because he was "subject to forgeting," Carp was not sure of the amount.

The committee examined Carp twice, in 1939 and again in 1945. The second inquiry was stifled by an urgent request from the State Department. It represented that relations between the White House and the Kremlin would be embarrassed by further questioning of Sam Carp. Although Roosevelt was dead and relations with Moscow were badly clabbered, nevertheless the committee went into secret session and the information which trickled out was sketchy. However, Carp readily admitted that he had received authority in Moscow to spend $100,00,000 to $200,000,000 for the Soviet government for various articles. He could not recall whether his commission was to be one or two per cent. One trinket was a battleship of 35,000 or more tons which had the fatal defect that it could not possibly float. Therefore it was not pursued beyond the stage of sketches by a New York firm of naval architects.

But Sam denied that he had anything to do with the Bridgeport Herald. There he drew the line. He volunteered the astonishing comment, for a Russian agent, that he would not have it in his house to expose his children to such reading.

The Bridgeport Herald reigned throughout the New Deal and war periods and Danenberg was held in fear by Republicans and socially supercilious snobs who resolutely refused to have any truck with him. His wife somehow qualified for a wartime journey to England and Soviet Russia, though Roy Howard and Col. R. R. McCormick were denied credentials to visit any war zone on the grounds that they were well represented by employes.

But when Bowles was sent to India and Nepal as Harry Truman's ambassador in 1952-1953, he picked Danenberg to personify, to the benighted scribes of that purview, Bowles's concept of the dignity, honor and ethics of the American press. This may have been a delicate aspersion on his intimate friend and neighbor, China-boy Henry Luce, of the Time-Life, jerked-English axis of American journalism. Chester and China-boy were closely commingled in a grotesque association which included also Robert Hutchins, formerly of the University of Chicago but latterly of the Fund for the Republic; ex-Senator William Benton and the ambidextrous Paul Hoffman, who "administered" abundant "foreign aid" under Truman and landed in the United Nations under the equally ambidextrous Eisenhower, who thought Hoffman was a Republican. All were more or less associated with the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Bowles has lavish patience with sovereignties friendlier to Moscow than to us. His choice of Mr. Danenberg as an exemplar of American journalism perplexed a few purists who had persued the Herald at arm's length and with instinctive puckers of the proboscis. But Bowles did not have to explain to anyone and the question whether the pair of them contributed to the "image" of the ugly American and, if so, to what extent is imponderable.

Sam Carp's brother-in-law recently returned to Moscow for a session in the woodshed, if not at the execution wall, as an unregenerate exponent of Stalinism. Mrs. Molotov is Sam's sister.

Sam got rich on his own efforts in the oil business in Bridgeport, but details of his traffic with the Soviet government were veiled by the Department of State.

MODENA NEWS

Mrs. Glennie M. Wager—Telephone TU 3-7136

MODENA—A daughter, Darlene Isabel, was born Thursday, Dec. 7, to Mr. and Mrs. Ronald A. Wager of this place, at the Kingston Hospital. Mrs. Wager is the former Patricia Pink of Modena.

The Womans Society of Christian Service of Modena Methodist Church met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Anna Tonnesen, instead of at Mrs. Charles Cooper's as previously announced. The meeting place was changed, owing to the death of Mrs. Cooper's mother, Mrs. Eldred Smith conducted the business meeting in the absence of the vice president, Mrs. Lester I. Arnold, who is touring the western states. Others present were Miss Emma Behm, Mrs. Joseph F. Hasbrouck, Mrs. Ira Hyatt, Mrs. Joseph Simmons, Mrs. Floyd B. Wells, the Rev. and Mrs. George T. Johnson. The annual Christmas party was planned, to be held at the home of Mrs. Wells Tuesday, Dec. 19, commencing at 11 a. m. A covered dish luncheon will be served, and gifts exchanged. Christmas gifts and clothing were sent to the Ethel Harris Home in the south, an annual custom, and poinsettias will be placed on the altar of Modena Methodist Church and given to shut-ins during the holiday season. The next meeting of the society, on Thursday, Jan. 4, will be held at the home of Mrs. Wells, unless otherwise announced.

Mrs. Roy H. DuBois accompanied Mrs. Anthony Wild to Poughkeepsie, on Wednesday.

Beatrice Ann Weaver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Weaver of Newburgh, formerly of Modena, celebrated her 13th birthday on Dec. 1, with a party at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse McHugh Jr., and children, of Weedsport, have been spending the past months in Oklahoma where Mr. McHugh has completed training in the National Guard Officers Training course. Mr. McHugh is formerly from Wallkill, and Mrs. McHugh is the former Elizabeth Wells of Modena.

A satisfactory sum was realized by members of the Public Health Nursing Committee of the Town of Plattekill, from their card party held Friday evening, Dec. 1, at the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall.

Meetings will be omitted during January, to be resumed in February.

Modena unit of Ulster County Home Demonstration Service, will hold its annual Christmas party Tuesday, Dec. 19, at 7:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Alice Lofink.

Christmas gifts, will be exchanged and the annual Christmas auction conducted to provide funds for the unit's treasury during the coming year.

Miss Shirley Courter of Walden, niece of Mrs. Louis Hyatt of this place, was one of two student nurses, recipients of scholarships from the Orange County Medical Auxiliary, attending the auxiliary's 25th anniversary dinner at Bradley's Restaurant in Middletown, recently. Miss Courter is student nurse at the Middletown State Hospital.

On Its Own

SPRING VALLEY, Minn. (AP) —Mrs. John Kenning wonders if she could have done as well in the car. After she fell out on a turn, the car: crossed a highway, skimmed through a lot without touching some 1962 models, slipped between a pole and guy wire and went down an alley. Only blotch on its record—the car crashed into a garage at the end of its run.

OLEANDER'S CHRISTMAS EVE

By JAY HEAVILIN

Set Dec. 15 Deadline ForSchoolTaxPayment

Mrs. Edna S. Morgan, collector-treasurer of the City School District of Kingston (Consolidated) said Friday, Dec. 15, is the final day on which payments of 1961-62 school taxes may be paid at her office.

Payments received by mail which bear a postmark after December 15 will have to be returned to the sender. Mrs. Morgan respectfully suggests early mailing to avoid the possibility of delay in the large volume of Christmas mail.

During the period from Decem 16 to January 7, no payments of these taxes may be made, since during this interval the list of delinquent taxes must be prepared for submission to the city and county treasurers.

After January 8, 1962 delinquent taxes on property situated in the City of Kingston may be paid at the office of the City Treasurer, City Hall, Kingston, and that on properties located in the townships at the office of the County Treasurer, 285 Wall Street, Kingston.

All of these delinquent taxes will be subject to an additional penalty of five per cent and interest of one-half of one per cent per month from December 16.

Open Bids Wednesday On Two Area Projects

Bids on 11 projects including State University College, New Paltz and Highland Training School for Boys for construction, repairs and alterations to various state-owned facilities will be opened at the State Office Building, Albany at 2 p. m. Wednesday, J. Burch McMorran, superintendent of public orks said today.

The work at Highland Training School for Boys includes electric installation of new service and appurtenant work. The job at New Paltz will include grounds lighting at Dormitory Building No. 9.

PLATTEKILL NEWS

PLATTEKILL — The annual Christmas entertainment will be presented in Plattekill Methodist Church Thursday, Dec. 21, at 7:30 p. m., with recitations, singing and distribution of gifts.

Sunday evening, Dec. 24, the annual candlelighting service will be presented, and members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship will enact a holiday play.

Sunday, Dec. 17, members of the Womans Society of Christian Service of Rossville Methodist Church, associate parish of Plattekill, and the combined choirs of the two churches, will present a Christmas program.

Members of Plattekill Grange will meet Saturday, Dec. 16, at 7:30 p. m. A candlelight service entitled "Ten Commandments of Christmas," will be held.

Members of the Parent's Club, will hold their annual Christmas party Tuesday, at 8 p. m. at Plattekill Elementary School.

A literary program is also planned, featuring colored slides on the Canadian Rockies, narrated by Miss Dorothy Olree, teacher in the Plattekill Elementary School, and scenes of Hawaii, narrated by George Daley of Ireland Corners.

Hosts and hostesses will be Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Williams, Mr. and Mr. Edard Collard, Mr. and Mrs. Jacques Bauman, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barth, Mrs. Segrid Pedersen, Clarence Dunn, Fred Loetscher and Charles Schoonmaker.

Plattekill unit of Ulster County Demonstration Service will hold its annual Christmas party Tuesday, Dec. 19, at 8 p. m. at Plattekill Elementary School.

Gifts will be exchanged and refreshments served.

The Rev. Herbert W. Hahn, of Middletown, former pastor of Plattekill and Rossville Methodist Churches, and a retired Methodist minister, has written a booklet "The Marks of a Christian," to be published during the Lenten season.

The Rev. Mr. Hahn wrote "Basic Belief's of the Christian Faith," which was published previously, pertaining to evangelic literature.

Lcal Man Attends Education Conference

John Glennon of 28 South Wilbur Avenue, Kingston, a Fifth Grade teacher at James S. Evans School, Wappingers Falls recently returned from Washington, D. C. after spending four days of study and discussiion with other teachers at a National Education Association conference.

He attended with some of the nation's top scholars and research specialists, with a fresh store of information on how to do a better job of teaching.

These teachers have literally "gone back to school" while attending the regional conference on instructions sponsored by the National Education Association.

They were invited by the NEA, along with approximately 400 other teachers from an eight-state area and the District of Columbia, to take part in conference sessions at NEA headquarters.

1,895 Licenses Suspended for No Inspection

ALBANY — Registrations and plates of 1,895 motorists were suspended during October for infractions of the state's periodic motor vehicle law, the Department of Motor Vehicles announced today.

Vehicles owned by 1,705 failed to pass the safety check; 93 other owners were convicted for operating an uninspected vehicle; and 97 more were suspended when they appeared at road test lines with uninspected cars.

The 8,870 licensed inspection stations in the state reported 362,000 examinations conducted during the month of 1955 model vehicles and those of lesser age that had changed ownership.

Commissioner William S. Hults also pointed out that during November, seven inspection stations —none in Ulster County—were penalized by revocation of their licenses to conduct the checks for various violations of the regulations.

The commissioner reminded owners of 1957 model vehicles that, although their cars will not be more than four years old and therefore not subject to the inspection law until January 1, they must pass inspection before they may be driven on or after January 1.

Owners may obtain 1962 number plates during December without having their vehicles inspected but may not do so in January unless the renewal stub bears an inspection approval stamp.

Christened With a Bang

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Republicans in suburban Amherst hope their campaign fares better than the 16-foot balloon they launched to christen the campaign headquarters. The balloon exploded when it was poked by the radio aerial of a passing car.

matter of Fact

Next to roses, forget-me-nots are probably the most popular flower with poets. Ever wonder how this delicate flower got such a wistful name? According to an old German legend, "forget me not" were the last words of a knight who was drowned in the attempt to get the flower for his lady.

What is a

HIEROGLYPH?

A hieroglyph is a character in the picture writing of ancient Egyptians and other ancient peoples.

The study of hieroglyphics is one part of the study of archaeology, a science that not only helps us to understand the development of past civilizations but, in so doing, helps us to a better understanding of modern civilization. Unfortunately many potential archaeologists may never study this important science because they may never go to college. Already some of our colleges are overcrowded and in 10 years applications will double. We will need more and better college laboratories and thousands more of the highest quality professors.

Who Can Say No To Them At Christmas?

It's their time of the year. And we parents measure our joy by the width of their smiles. Of all the gifts little girls receive, perhaps none evoke the delight of crisp, colorful, rustling new clothing. This year, when you select your children's clothing, look for a small label inside. It's a special label – one that says this garment was made by members of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union.

There's a Christmas story in the ILGWU label. A story of human values, of brotherhood, of the faith and hopes of men of good will. It starts over a half century ago when people in the garment trades worked in dark, dirty, crowded sweatshops; when the 60 and 70 hour week was the standard. And vacations, holidays with pay, lunch hours – were the subject of bitter jokes. Christmas –humbug!

But these workers had a vision. They dreamed of a life that would enable them to decently feed, clothe and house their families; to educate their children. They wanted to become responsible, contributing members of a healthy, democratic society. Many were immigrants – newly arrived in America in search of opportunity denied them in the old countries.

And so they dreamed—and they struggled. For decades. They tackled employers with the power to deny them a livelihood. They braved the cold fury of professional hoodlums.

And they won.

Today the label of the ILGWU is a symbol of achievement for both employees and employers. It stands as a testament to the fact that the clothing was made by skilled craftsmen in a shop reflecting the best American standards and traditions. It is also the signature of 450,000 men and women who, through their union, have achieved fair standards, the dignity of a voice in their own conditions of employment, a position of respect in their communities.

Now Christmas is more than a fringe benefit. It is a time when most families in America can enjoy their blessings. In many instances, the blessings unions have fought to achieve: decent wages, the seven-hour day, the five-day week, health funds, retirement benefits, paid vacations, etc.

Consider this story. And take the extra moment, not only to tell your children about it – but to look for the ILGWU label the next time you shop for women's and girls' clothing. You can feel proud when you wear or give clothing with the ILGWU label in it.

Set Examination For Caseworkers In State Welfare

A state-wide Civil Service examination will be held February 3, for caseworker, junior caseworker to establish an eligible list from which appointments may be made.

There are more than 200 full-time permanent positions open in the various jurisdictions of New York State. Starting salaries are up to $5,350.

The starting salary in Ulster County is $4,040. No vacancies exist in Ulster County at this time but the list will be used to make future appointments.

This examination affords opportunities for college seniors and graduates. Applications for the examination will be accepted up until January 2, 1962.

The list resulting from the February examination will not supersede the previous lists established of this title. The earlier lists will continue to be used for a period of two years from the dates that they are established unless they are exhausted prior to that time.

New York State residence is not required. The written examination will be given at convenient locations throughout the state as named on the application form. Further information may be obtained from the local Civil Service office, 32 Main Street. Completed applications are sent to the State Department of Civil Service, The State Campus, 1220 Washington Avenue, Albany 1.

Included in the duties is investigation of need for assistance and care at public expense, render case services to families and individuals in need and to children placed for care in foster homes or institutions, and do related work as required.

Appointments from the list may be made in other localities than the county of residence.

Dake Named President

The directors of Stewart's Ice Cream Co., Inc., at a board meeting Wednesday, announced the election of Charles S. Dake as president. Dake has been serving as general manager of Stewart's Ice Cream Co., Inc., for 13 years and under his stewardship it has achieved its present stature with 54 stores in New York State, Vermont and Massachusetts. Dake indicated there would be even greater growth an an even broader line of the quality dairy products and baked goods which Stewart's have been serving to their customers for over 16 years.

Financial and Commercial

By ED MORSE

NEW YORK (AP)— Industrials moved forward in response to strong investment demand and gave the stock market a substantial gain despite some profit taking early this afternoon. Trading wss heavy.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.10 at 266.20 with industrials up 1.40, rails up .20 and utilities up .80.

Gains of fractions to a point among pivotal issues outnumbered losers in the same range.

Steels, motors and some oils were bought heavily, reflecting institutional interest. The leading tobaccos, some airlines and rails also improved.

The picture was spotty among chemicals, electrical equipments, nonferrous metals and drugs.

WOMEN HAS NARROW ESCAPE IN FIRE—A woman was treated for smoke poisoning as a result of a Franklin Street fire late Sunday morning, and the car of a downtown man was badly damaged in an earlier blaze. Elsie Brussack, 46, of 29 Franklin Street was taken from the second floor of the house there (above) and treated at Kingston Hospital. Firemen said the fire was discovered by Margaret Maloney a neighbor. William Tubby, of 37 Franklin Street, they said, forced open a door and Herbert Houghtaling, of 43 VanBuren Street, brought the woman from the building and she was taken to the hospital in a Fatum ambulance. The fire started in a mattress and spread to bed clothes. It caused heavy smoke in the building along with damage to the bedroom. Units from Central and Wiltwyck stations and the Wicks Company answered a call at 11:42 a. m. with Chief James M. Brett, and Deputy Chief George D. Matthews in charge. The house is owned by Peter Rosenkrans, of Clintondale. The inside of a car owned by Peter Miltner, of 257 West Chestnut Street, was badly damaged at that address earlier Sunday. A unit from Cornell Station responded and a hydrant stream was used on the blaze. A call at 7:44 p. m. Saturday was for a fire in a dryer in the laundromat at 9 East O'Reilly Street. It was checked by firemen from Central Station. The clothes, were owned by Mrs. J. Schoonmaker of 16 Mary's Avenue. (Freeman Photo)

Eight Are Injured In Auto Mishaps Occurring Here

Seven persons were injured in five weekend city traffic mishaps and another reported injuries after an accident early today.

Most of Sunday's collisions were attributed to skidding. They included several minor mishaps not included in the general report.

Four persons were reported injured in a three-car accident at North Front Street and Washington Avenue early Sunday afternoon.

Cars involved, police said, were driven by Robert Frankel, 20, Alden House, Larchmont; Ronald Lauppe, 23, of 72 Main Street, and Robert Allen Lasher, 23, of 188 Pine Street.

Reported injured were: Robert Frankel, head; Carl Fogerty, Malden-on-Hudson, head and possible internal injuries; Robert Lasher, back injury, and Ronald Lauppe, left hand and back.

The injured were taken to Kingston Hospital and all cars were towed from the scene. Officers Meyer Levy and Richard Scherer investigated.

Injured in a two-car collision attributed to skidding, as reported at 2:10 a. m. Sunday were Philip Bassett, 17, of 206 Albany Avenue Extension, back and head injuries, and Wilbur Mathews, 33, of Legion Court, Port Ewen, driver of a taxi, head injury. Bassett was admitted to Kingston Hospital. The cars collided at Broadway and Pine Grove Avenue.

The other car, police said, was operated by Anthony Coviello, 32, of 31 Cross Street, Beacon. Officers Thomas Kearney and Garvin Fisher investigated.

John Ponselle, 23, of 149-20 231st Street, Jamaica, suffered abrasions of the lips, a possible concussion and loss of a tooth, police said, when the car he drove skidded and struck a tree near Judie's Restaurant, Albany Avenue, shortly after 2 a. m. today. The car was towed from the scene and the fire department was called to flush away gasoline which had spilled near the curb. Sgt. Bernard Fowler with officers William Whalen and Gerald Every investigated.

Another report at 3 a. m. Sunday said a car driven by Carl Cline, 45, of Port Ewen, struck a pole on Hasbrouck Avenue near Delaware, when he pulled toward the curb to avoid a collision. The other vehicle did not stop, the report said.

A police report indicated no injuries after another three-car mishap Saturday night at Foxhall Avenue and Garden Streets. The cars involved, the report said were driven by Wilson Henry Clay, 43, of 95 Gage Street; Charles A. Ryan, 62, of 105 Foxhall Avenue, and Joseph P. Nini, 54, of 200 Wiltshire Avenue, Butler, Pa. It was reported at 7:30 p. m.

No injuries were reported after a two-car mishap early Sunday afternoon at Broadway and O'Neil St. Officers Joseph Kivlan and Richard Dempsey reported the one car was driven by Alfred Henry Nault, 23, of 263 Eugenia Avenue, Ft. Myers Lee, Fla. and the other was operated by John Charles Lepinski, 511 Lepisto Avenue, Wakefield, Mich.

Drivers Unhurt In Rt. 28 Crash

Two drivers escaped injury but their vehicles were damaged early Sunday morning in a skidding accident on Route 28 near the junction in the town of Kingston. According to the sheriff's department, an automobile, operated by Thomas Malone, 26, of Toronto, Canada, and owned by B. Zelmer of Tannery Brook Road, Woodstock, skidded left on snow as it headed west up grade at 2:30 a. m. Sunday. It was involved in a collision with a car operated by Frederick M. Besmer, 22 of RD 3, Box 440 Saugerties who was heading down grade east and was unable to stop because of the snow. The car operated by Malone received heavy damage to its left side.

Deputy Sheriffs Michael Stuper and Ernest Ahlberg investigated.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING...

Father and Son Require Separate Stock Accounts

Q) "I am 60 years old and my son is 23. He is now serving in the Army overseas and will be there for another two and one-half years. He sends his allotment checks home, and we have begun to buy common stocks together. Our holdings now include California Interstate Telephone, General Public Uilities, and some mutual fund shares. Only the first one has done much for us. Since we are many years apart in age, do you think we should forget about investing together and do it separately, buying growth stocks for him and higher yielding issues for me?" — H. U.

A) Yes, I do.

Under your present investment plan, you are constantly faced with the problem that a stock may be suitable for one of you to own but is not always good for both. Of course, you can compromise to some extent and try to buy middle-ground issues but, over a period, one of you is bound to fall short of his investment goals.

My advce is that you begin to use two separate accounts. Your son will then be able to concentrate on building up his capital while you can stress the more conservative, income-producing situations.

In making the changeover, I suggest that you transfer California Interstate Telephone to your son and that you take ownership of General Puble Utilities and the mutual fund. Later, I believe you'll find investment decisions far easier to make and that the move has been of distinct benefit to each of you.

Q) "I am a widow, 55. My father left me some stocks which pay dividends of about $1,400 a year. Should I pay Social Security tax on this $1,400? If I sell any of my shares, would I have to pay Social Security tax on the profits made?"—E. R.

A) The answer to both your questions is no. The Social Security program levies a tax on wages but does not tax dividend income or capital gains resulting from ordinary security transactions.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail but will answer all questions possible in his column.

YouthFaces Two Traffic Charges In Auto Mishap

A 17-year-old Port Ewen youth was arrested on a charge of being an unlicensed operator and failure to keep to the right, as the aftermath of a two-car crash on Flatbush Road in the Town of Ulster Saturday at 8:45 p. m. Neither operator was hurt in the mishap, according to the sheriff's department.

John W. Ellis of 192 Sunset Drive, Port Ewen was operating a car owned by Cecil R. Ellis of the same address when, the sheriff's report said, he swung too wide to make a right turn and was in collision with a car operated by Anthony H. Jornov Jr., 37, of RFD, Tivoli. The left front of the Ellis car and the left side of the Jornov vehicle were damaged.

Deputy Sheriffs Jack Seaholm and John G. Daly summoned young Ellis to appear before Justice of Peace Robert Stedge on the charges. The justice will set a hearing date later in the week.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

Those who like to give books as holiday gifts perhaps would be interested in "The Story of Kingston" by Andrew S. Hickey, a selection in the American Heritage series, which came out in 1952 and still can be bought at local book stores. Another smaller book which I own is "Teacup Tales" a folklore of the Hudson Valley by Pauline Hommell which was published by Vantage Press in 1958.

Books of this kind can be bought while in their first printing, but once they are sold out, sometimes they are no longer obtainable in book stores. Presently also, I think these books can be autographed by the authors, both my copies are.

I have Henry Abbey's Poems dated 1885. My first copy was loaned to me by James Rigney Jr. of 2 South Washington Avenue. Later, Tom Walsh, of 37 Boulevard, dealer in Hudson River and Ulster County books gave me a copy in excellent condition. Another book I value is "Ulster County Under the Dutch" by Augustus H. Van Buren, which was given me by local historian and lecturer, Harry Rigby Jr.

I have a lovely leather copy of "My Mother's Girlhood" by Sara A. Van Deusen Merritt (Mrs. James O. Merritt) of Kingston, published in 1904 which was given me by Fred A. Gerhardt, of 161 East Chester Street. These all cover the history of Kingston by Kingstonians. Another is Rachel DuMont, by Mary Westbrook, originally written for private distribution. My copy is the fourth of an illustrated edition published in 1890. "A true story of the burning of Kingston by the British in 1776, for girls and boys and older people."

There are many other books written by local historians, perhaps about their own families. Some of these stories were handed down from generation to generation, and full of facts and dates taken from old documents and letters. There is another fine little book called "The Beginnings of New York—Kingston the First State Capital" by Mary Isabella Forsyth. So, if you wish to give a gift to someone who already has a good library, and appreciates interesting books on local history, perhaps some of these books are still obtainable. There is something fascinating about a book to one who loves to read.

Modern books which are coming out each day, and can be had in paper covers, can be bought at any time and most anywhere. I find value and pleasure in these books to which I can refer and check one aginst the other. There are many excellent paper cover books on science, art, history and languages which are reasonable and necessary on a book shelf. The paper covered art books are remarkable for often they contain reproductions in color. Perhaps in time, they will have one out on Vanderlyn's paintings.

I felt that the Hudson-Fulton celebration brought out a tremendous number of fine books and booklets on the history of the Hudson River. I do not think the recent celebration did as well. There are so many Hudson River histories that one runs across and they all seemed to be dated around 1909. There is even a book out on the "Ulster County Gazette" of Jan. 4, 1880, which several years ago could be bought through the 5th Avenue and 42nd Street Public Library in New York City. In my school days I do not remember such books on local history.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—It was painfully apparent again Sunday night that a good old movie does not necessarily convert into a good new television program.

The most recent in a long string of demonstrations of this thesis was "Notorious," in NBC's disappointing "Theatre-62" series of movie adaptations. The live and lavish remake was a pedestrian, often boring spy thriller in which there was practically no character development.

Even the fact that our heroine had a past—that was the basis for the title—was quickly glossed over and all that was left was a lot of rushing around in big, beautiful sets and hunting for microfilm in champagne bottles.

It is said that the one-hour TV format is hard to work in, but it seemed that during about one half of the hour, Barbara Rush (who looks and acts a lot like Loretta Young) and George Grizzard just necked on camera. Joseph Cotton too, had little to do.

The program came shortly after a two-hour repeat of "The Wizard of Oz" on CBS, an old, old movie that seems to gain rather than lose charm with annual repetition.

One only hopes that they don't decide to make that one again with some new kid taking Judy Garland's place.

Robert Crean's "Come Again to Carthage," on CBS Friday night was an original drama, well produced and well acted. It was the story of a young nun, played by Piper Laurie, who returns to her family after six years to find her father dying, her mother an alcoholic and her sister's marriage on the rocks.

At the hour's end, the father died, the mother made a step toward sobriety and the girl went back to the convent, all having learned lessons of some sort. But just exactly what Crean, one of the few Catholic dramatists writing in TV, was trying to point out was obscure—at least it has eluded this puzzled viewer.

Gary Morton, Lucille Ball's new husband, made his TV debut on Ed Sullivan's show Sunday night. He told some mildly amusing jokes, did some imitations (including James Cagney, of course), and sang a bit. His style of comedy is something like that of Jack Carter.

Recommended tonight: "Bing Crosby Show," ABC, 9-10 (EST).

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute.

This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

VARIOUS FORCES KEEP PRICES HIGH

Hemmed in by many economic and psychological forces, hundreds of the best common stocks are selling at high prices. These forces make the stock market vulnerable, and a dangerous one for inexperienced investors.

The capital gains' tax is one of the leading forces. And the higher stock prices go, the more reluctant are investors to cash in profits. Here, for example, is an investor with 1,200 shares of United States Steel. Originally, he bought 200 shares for $10,000. Split-ups in the stock have given him 1,200 shares and at $80 a share (he thought of selling at $90 several times this year), he has cashable profits of about $85,000. His tax bill (state and Federal) of about $25,000 stops him from selling.

Closely coupled with this decision is his firm belief that inflation is going on and on. The public consciousness that the buying power of the dollar is to deteriorate in the future further affirms his action not to sell.

Taxes and inflation are strong forces putting common-stock prices higher. Both have important psychological bases.

Economic growth is a third factor forcing stock prices higher. Again, to illustrate: Years ago, the trustees of a religious society bought 500 shares of Consolidated Edison common stock with $10,000 in inherited money. Very recently they came into another $10,000 inheritance.

Consolidated Edison was selling at $85 a share and the original inheritance had grown to a value of more than $42,000. The society pays no taxes. The trustees believe that the power, light and heat requirements of the New York City community will continue to grow and they decided to buy another 100 shares, even at present advanced prices.

There was some discussion at the meeting about taking some non-taxable profits but the economic-growth factor was the decisive argument in buying more shares.

The unbalanced budgets in Washington create more debt in many important social and economic circles, and—when this is monetized—great quantities of dollars enter the markets to force prices higher, influencing investment decisions.

The quality of the American dollar is declining and the quantity is steadily increasing. A 70-year-old retired business executive has just bought $100,000 of high-grade common stocks yielding less than 3 per cent a year in the aggregate with money from a matured endowment insurance policy.

Every force mentioned in this article went into his calculations before he decided to buy these common stocks.

Rising standards of living are another factor on causing investors to buy common stocks. Most of the capital goods industries and consumers' goods enterprises are devoting much time, energy and money to giving America higher living standards.

National income grows from decade to decade, and with families all over the land stand to improve their social and economic conditions. The way to share in such prosperity is to buy the common stocks of the enterprises that will be in the center of these activities.

Yes, the stock market is high. But it will go higher.

Bill Introduced About Seat Belts

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Small school buses, taxis and rented automobiles used in the state would be required to have seat belts, under a bill introduced in the 1962 Legislature.

The Joint Legislative Committee on Motor Vehicles and Traffic Safety prefiled the measure Saturday.

It filed another bill that would empower the State Motor Vehicle Department to test seat belts and reject those that did not meet committee specifications.

Sen. Edward J. Speno, R-Nassau, committee chairman, said:

"Seat belts will safeguard children in the widely used station-wagon type of school bus, which, because of smaller size, greater speed and proximity of doors to occupants, offers less protection in case of accidents than the large school bus."

The bill would mandate the belts on school buses that seat 12 or fewer pupils.

Speno maintains that seat belts reduce by more than 35 per cent the chance of death or serious injury in an automobile accident.

Lawyer on Board

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller appointed Edmond H. Easter of Skaneateles today to the Advisory Board on Prevailing Rate of Wages on Public Work.

Easter, a Syracuse lawyer, succeeded Harris C. Warren of Syracuse who resigned March 15.

He will be paid $33.95 per day and expenses while on board business.

Vote of Confidence

Ulster Park, New York

Editor, The Freeman:

I read in the December 2nd issue of The Kingston Daily Freeman a letter written by Mrs. Dorothy Galitzky, 203 Lucas Avenue, relative to the new schools being constructed in the Kingston Consolidated District. I took Mrs. Galitzky's advice and stopped at 403 Broadway to obtain a copy of the October, 1961, Focus.

I am anxious to state that I am happy to see our Board of Education moving forward with the school construction program. We remember that the taxpayers voted $6,000,000 for new schools in May, 1959. Our Board of Education members have, in my opinion, fulfilled their responsiblities for the best interest of the children.

I am always amused when people object to children receiving a broad program of education. Where can we expect the school to provide speech service, instrumental music service, space for the psychologist and a room for health activities, including those of the nurse and the dental hygienist, unless space is provided. I am glad to see that we have these special services provided to most children these days and it is encouraging to know that these teachers have a place to take the children for such instruction.

Most parents today realize that plans are carefully checked by the New York State Education Department and boards of education are required to provide adequate educational servces. I am advised that our Board has counseled wisely on such matters with the Bureau of Buildings and Grounds. I do, however, agree with Mrs. Galitzky on one point. The new plans will indeed, be an "eye-opener" for many and, as one interested citizen, I would like to extend a "vote of confidence" to our Board of Education for service rendered in behalf of the children of the district for the construction of schools which provide many educational services.

Sincerely,
REUPEN GULLIAN

Absolutely!

Paratroopers Are Resuming Plans For Tuesday Jump

CAMP DRUM, N.Y. (AP)—The 1,800 men of the 82nd Airborne Division, after overnight passes, resumed preparations today for Tuesday's airborne assault, the climax of Exercise Trailbreak.

The men are receiving cold-weather combat training at this Northern New York base. They were given the passes Saturday after a week in the field.

Tuesday, 1,260 men will stage a practice airborne assault against an aggressor force on the ground.

The soldiers of the parachute force are members of the First Airborne Battle Group of the 325th Infantry, Fort Bragg, N.C. The aggressor force is made up of soldiers from the First Battle Group of the 4th infantry, Fort Devins, Mass.

The paratroops are part of the recently formed Strike Command, a force organized to be sent to any trouble spot in the world on short notice.

Dog Club Meets

Regular monthly meeting of the Mohawk-Hudson German Shepherd Dog Club will be held Tuesday at Artcraft Gallery, 694 Broadway at 8:30 p. m. An interesting program is planned. The public may attend.

3 Mt. Marion Scouts Receive Religious Awards

The presentation of the God and Country Awards to three communicant members of the Plattekill Reformed Church was made by the Rev. Henry L. Reinewald, pastor, at the Sunday morning worship service, as a climax of a program of religious study and service fulfilled over a period of a year by the First Class Boy Scouts.

George Aplustill, son of Mrs. Dora Aplustill of Route 2, Saugerties, Alan Larsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Larsen of Route 4, and D. Ronald MacRae, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas MacRae of Route 5, exemplified their abilities in churchmanship, church attendance, church history, a study of the Bible, a Christian witness, understanding of the mission of the church and a thorough understanding of their responsibilities of church, home and country, to qualify for the awards.

In addition to the coveted award the boys will receive a personal letter from the Rev. D. J. VanderHaar, director of the department of young people's work in the Reformed Church in America, in which it is noted that of the 378 Scouting units sponsored by the Reformed Churches in America, only 67 Scouts had completed the God and Country requirements for the award in 1960.

They will also receive a copy of the presentation service by the Rev. Mr. Reinwald as a gift from the church.

MacRae is a member of Boy Scout Troop 138, sponsored by the Mt. Marion-Ruby Fire Company. Aplustill and Larsen are members of Troop 32 of the Atonement Lutheran Church in Saugerties. Each boy was examined by the consistory of the church and the Protestant committee on scouting of the Rip VanWinkle Council upon completion of their requirements and prior to the presentation of the awards.

Morse Expresses View on Fitness

The Physical Education Newsletter of Nov. 27, 1961, published by Croft Educational Services of New London, Conn., carries the following statement:

"PHYSICAL FITNESS—We had an interesting letter from Grant D. Morse, superintendent of schools in Saugerties, New York, not long ago. In commenting on the renewed emphasis on physical fitness, he pointed out most school systems were not going to hire any great additional numbers of PE instructors, for practical reasons. He says, very sensibly, it seems to us:

'Americans, young and old, are not likely to become good physical specimens through exercises, callithenics or games directed by teachers or other hired personnel. If we are to become good physical specimens, it will be through the personal efforts that we make, using the programs in our schools and in other places as springboards from which to take off. It would seem to me that if we can encourage directors and teachers of physical education to encourage and stimulate the individual to take upon himself the responsibility for making himself a good physical specimen, we may achieve some improvement; but if we depend upon directed physical exercise, we shall fail. Actually, the situation in this area is not far different from what it is in other subject areas such as English or modern foreign languages. Almost no one becomes highly proficient in English or modern foreign language unless he exerts himself positively and aggressively outside the classroom and the school situation.'"

Schedule Announced For Holiday Programs

Dates for the Christmas programs to be held in the seven elementary schools and the junior-senior high school of the Saugerties Central School District have been announced. Parents and friends may attend.

The schedule is as follows: Main Street School, Dec. 18, Grades 1 and 2, 9 a. m.; grades 3 and 4, 10 a. m.; Glasco School, Dec. 19, grades 1-4, 9:30 a. m.; Mt. Marion, Dec. 20, grades 1-4, 9 a. m.; Cedar Grove, Dec. 20, grades 1-6, 7:30 p. m.; Katsbaaan, Dec. 21, grades 1-6, 9:30 a. m.; Malden, Dec. 21, 10:30 a. m.; Flatbush, Dec. 19, grade 1, 1 p. m.; Grades 4 and 5, Dec. 20, 1 p. m.; junior-senior high school, Dec. 21, grade 7, 11:50-12:34; grades 8-12, 10:47-11:38.

Malden-W.CampGroup Plans Yule Activities

The Malden-West Camp Fire Department Ladies Auxiliary will hold its Christmas party Tuesday, Dec. 19, 8 p. m. at the West Camp Station.

Dec. 23 they will join with the firemen in the annual family Christmas party beginning with a covered dish supper at 5 p. m. During the afternoon of Dec. 23, Santa Claus will be present at both the Malden Station and the West Camp Station to welcome the children of the area and give them candy and fruit.

Parasite

Today's friendly, romantic mistletoe, which hangs as a Christmas decoration, is a far cry from its forest cousin, a dwarf species which is a parasite that stunts and weakens pine and fir trees, ultimately killing its victims.

Missouri devotes more than three-fourth of its 44.3 million acres to farming.

39 Yule Lights Stolen

Each year about this time, a few mixed up individuals lacking in common decency spoil the spirit of Christmas and its general feeling of good will toward men, by stealing bulbs from Christmas trees installed by well-meaning people to celebrate the birth of the Christ Child. Saugerties Village police received reports that 18 bulbs were taken from the tree at the municipal building and 21 were reported missing from the huge tree at Main and Market Streets sponsored by Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce.

St. John's, Newfoundland, is closer to the British Isles than any other North American port.

Cornell Accepts Truman Letters

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP)—A collection of former President Harry S. Truman's letters and other papers has been given to Cornell University's Olin Research Library.

The letters and papers were donated by Arthur W. Wilson of Westport, Conn., a Cornell alumnus who became acquainted with Truman in military service during World War I. The collection includes letters from Truman to Wilson.

The earliest letter, dated Jan. 8, 1919, was written while Capt. Truman was stationed near Verdun, France. Truman wrote that the place was a "muddy little old camp."

He noted in the letter that rumors said one day that his division would go to Germany and the next day that the division would go home. "We don't do either," Truman wrote.

Making Restitution

MEADVILLE, Pa. (AP)—An 11-year-old grade school youth approached the football ticket booth at Meadville High School and handed the ticket seller $2.50. "That's too much money," the ticket seller said. "You only have to pay 50 cents." "No," the youth replied. "The 50 cents is for tonight's game. The $2 is for the other times I crawled under the fence."

Beds for Addicts Opened at Utica

UTICA, N.Y. (AP)—The state, in a move to help cure narcotics addicts in the Upstate area, today opened a 20-bed unit for their treatment and rehabilitation at Utica State Hospital.

The unit, which will occupy the fourth floor of the hospital's medical - surgical building, will be staffed by a psychiatrist, head nurse, occupational therapist, recreation therapist and 16 attendants.

It will be open for addicts referred by the courts or who enter voluntarily, Gov. Rockefeller said Sunday.

Is That Daring, Imaginative Leadership There?

Men Around Him Praise Kennedy, GOP Says New Frontier Failing

EDITOR'S NOTE—No President ever took office with more precise ideas of what kind of a President he wanted to be. How has John F. Kennedy measured up to his own vision? This is the first of five articles appraising the Kennedy record, by a seasoned Washington reporter who covered his 1960 campaign.

By ARTHUR EDSON
AP Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — How is John F. Kennedy doing as President?

It has been a year since his election, and 11 months since his move into the White House.

Has Kennedy gone forward with the daring, imaginative leadership he said this country so desperately needed?

Or, as some disenchanted Kennedy enthusiasts of 1960 now suggest, has his administration compromised so frequently it has, in their view out - Eisenhowered Dwight D. Eisenhower's?

Latching on to any political fact can be as difficult as picking up a wet watermelon seed.

But here the problem is tougher. Talk to the men around Kennedy—as this reporter has—and the answer is almost always the same: He is doing exceptionally well.

Except for Cuba, an obvious and admitted disaster, few mistakes are confessed, publicly or privately. If one even dares to suggest that an alternative course might have produced better results, the rebuttal is instantaneous and it is smooth, like a salesman's speech that has been tailored in advance to meet each objection.

See New Frontier Failing

Talk to men far removed from Kennedy, politically and literally, and the standard Republican response is exactly the opposite: The New Frontier is floundering; Kennedy already is a failure.

If one dares to mention that the administration pushed considerable legislation through Congress, the answer comes quickly: These bills have been kicking around for years, and any Democrat, moving into the White House, supported by a Democratic Congress, would have gotten as much.

The very vehemence of their replies suggests that neither side is too sure of its ground, that each fears there's some truth in the other's argument.

Anyone judging Kennedy's progress has to keep in mind that it is an ingrained political habit to see everything as all good or all evil.

Went Way Out

But some confusion can be traced directly to Kennedy and the type of campaign he waged.

For he not only made the usual promises — accurately called "campaign oratory" by Wendell Wilkie—but he also went far beyond. Repeatedly, almost constantly, he talked of the ideal president.

Few men ever pursued the presidency so openly and persistently. None ever entered the White House with a clearer concept of what the presidency should be, or with a firmer vision of the president he wanted to become.

Those of us who followed Kennedy through the enthusiastic months leading up to his dramatic victory over Richard M. Nixon saw the image laboriously hammered out: on a cold, windy airstrip in Presque Isle, Maine. At a huge auditorium in Oakland, Calif. Before a street crowd that filled Penn Square in Reading, Pa.

Wherever he went, and sometimes it seemed he went everywhere, Kennedy tried to add a new dimension of presidential campaigning.

Draws Own Picture

Earnestly and impressively, Kennedy pictured an alert, aggressive, positive leadership that would move this country forward again and gain the admiration of the whole non-Communist world.

Only two days before the election, his thoughts now firmly crystalized, he spoke at the Coliseum in New York City.

"I want to be a president," Kennedy said, "who has the confidence of the people—and who takes the people into his confidence—who lets them know what he is doing and where we are going, who is for his program and who is against. I hope to set before the people our unfinished agenda—to indicate their obligations—and not simply follow their every whim and pleasure. . . .

"I want to be a president who is the chief executive in every sense of the word."

Far-Reaching Promise

Here Kennedy came up with one of the most far-reaching promises ever made in a business renowned for over-reaching itself.

"I am not promising action in the first 100 days alone," he said. "I am promising you 1,000 days of exacting presidential leadership."

Well, he started out as if he meant every word of it.

His eloquent inaugural speech—"let the word go forth . . . that the torch has been passed to a new generation of Americans"—was a fervent plea for peace that brought almost universal praise. Even Republicans were impressed.

Kennedy and the eager young men around him set such a pace in those early weeks that Washington, always an exciting place when a new administration takes over, seemed in a ferment that would stir it to the bottom of its bureaucracy.

Beset by World Trouble

But fate was unkind to Kennedy. Whereas foreign affairs caused Eisenhower comparatively little difficulty during his first year, Kennedy was beset from the start with literally a world of trouble.

Even then, before his administration had a chance to get shaken down properly, came April 17 and the Cuban invasion—a shocking, humiliating failure that was heard, and denounced, around the world.

"If I am elected next Tuesday," Kennedy had said in his New York speech, "I want to be a president known—at the end of four years—as one who not only held back the Communist tide but advanced the course of freedom and rebuilt American prestige—not by words but by doing great deeds as a good neighbor—not by tours and conferences abroad, but by vitality and direction at home."

Maybe Too High

A mighty high standard, maybe too high for these clamorous, uncertain times.

Disillusionment was bound to come.

Yet Kennedy judged the Eisenhower administration by these standards, and he asked that he be judged by them, too.

And so, as in subsequent stories we examine where he has failed and where he has succeeded, we'll have Kennedy's own high view of the office to guide us.

Trail Sweepers Meet Thursday

The Trail Sweepers Ski Club of Kingston meets Thursday night at Williams Lake Hotel. A buffet supper, dancing and ice skating will be the features of this Christmas party. The admission fee may be paid anytime before the party by contacting Bill Langenstein.

No meetings will be held on the 21st or 28th of December. The first regular meeting of the club in the New Year will be held January 4 at the Moose Lodge hall on Prince Street.

On Friday, Jan. 5, the club will embark on a three-day trip to Whiteface. The bus will leave the IBM parking lot between 5 and 6 p. m. Less than a dozen reservations are still available and reservations should be made with Bob Beberwyck or Giles Rittenberry.

$25 Billion Invested In Atomic Energy Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has invested over $25 billion in its atomic energy program, including development of the atomic bomb, since 1940, der the War Department, wasp-reported Sunday.

The cost of developing the bomb, which was handled then under the war department, was approximately $2.23 billion.

The commission said the $2.61 billion required for 1961 fiscal year operations was divided thusly: $733 million for production of nuclear materials, $637 million for procurement of raw materials, $516 million for weapons development and fabrication, $437 million for reactor development, $154 million for physical research, $54 million on biology and medicine and $81 million for miscellaneous projects.

First formal track and field meet held in the U. S. was staged indoors by the New York Athletic Club on Nov. 11, 1868.

Bound to Be In for Some Trouble

Kennedy Hopes Business, Labor to Keep Costs Down

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) —President Kennedy tiptoed around asking business and labor to keep prices and wages down.

He probably feels things will be tough enough for him next year without starting any extra fires, at least this soon.

He is in for a scalding battle when he asks Congress for authority to lower tariffs on imported goods.

What he said on Thursday was: Some sections of business, probably some sections of labor, are bound to fight him.

Lower tariffs on imports would mean hardship competition for some American-made goods in their own home market.

Kennedy hopes to offset that while retaining and broadening overseas markets for American goods.

With lower tariffs here, he could ask other countries to reciprocale by lowering their tariffs on American goods.

Not New Idea

In itself this is not new. It has been the philosophy behind the Reciprocal Trade Agreement Act for 28 years.

This act ends June 30 unless Congress renews it.

This time Kennedy wants more than just renewal. He wants far broader authority than the act contains now for chopping tariffs.

American allies in Europe are joining in a common market to increase their trade by knocking out their tariffs on each other's goods.

This will give them a broad free trade area similar to that in this country where commerce between states has no barriers.

Kennedy is not suggesting that the United States join this European Common Market. This is what he has in mind: American goods could be frozen out of Europe if the allies, freely trading with one another, shut out American products which are protected at home by tariffs against European competition.

So, lowering American tariffs on their goods would be in return for lower tariffs by them on imports from this country.

Separate Approaches

Last week he pitched for the idea to American business and labor in separate speeches to the National Association of Manufacturers and the AFL-CIO.

Since all of them knew competition from European goods might hurt some, he asked them to take a long-range view and suggested they could compete better through more efficiency and lower production costs.

The key, of coure, to American competition with foreign goods will be the price and quality.

Kennedy urged the NAM—but only in a very general way—to keep costs and prices down through better productivity. That was on Thursday.

He told the NAM "labor, too, has its responsibilities for price stability and I shall stress this tomorrow in addressing the AFL-CIO."

But if labor was afraid he was going to ask unions not to look for higher wages, he didn't.

What he said on Friday was: "I am hopeful that those of you who are in the area of wage negotiations will recognize the desirability of maintaining as stable prices as possible."

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg, trying to explain what the administration had in mind, was just as mild.

All this was hardly more than a nudge to business and labor. Maybe later Kennedy will give them a push.

Relief for 400,000

CHATTANOOGA (AP)—Federal bankruptcy referee Byron Pope recently granted judicial relief to 400,000 hungry baby chicks. A Chattanooga firm listed the chicks as "perishable assets" in a bankruptcy petition filed in U. S. District Court—and Pope appointed a temporary trustee to feed them.

During Enemy Nuclear Attack in New York

Thinks Solons May Have to Vote On Rocky's Stay-in-School Plan

ALBANY N.Y. (AP) — Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney has indicated that legislative approval may be necessary for the Rockefeller administration's plan to require that children remain in schools in the event of a nuclear-attack warning.

Mahoney said Friday he was attempting to determine if approval for such a plan was needed because "I don't know if it can be accomplished by executive order."

Mahoney said he was not necessarily opposed to the "stay-where-you-are" policy announced by Gov. Rockefeller this week but was examining its legal aspects.

He said he was not sure whether the Republican-controlled Legislature would give such permission.

The new plan would mean discontinuance of the present "go-home" policy under which schools would send children to their respective homes if an attack threatened, an administration spokesman said.

The policy of keeping children on school premises under threat of attack will be made mandatory by directives from the State Civil Defense Commission that are relayed to schools by the State Education Department, the spokesman said.

Voluntary Plan

It would appear that, if this procedure was followed, the school districts would have to build fallout shelters under the new, $100 - million program of state aid for such construction.

The program was described as voluntary when it was presented last month to a special session of the Legislature.

On other subjects, Mahoney had these comments at a news conference:

Carlino--He said charges that Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlino profited personally from fallout-shelter legislation were "ludicrous, smearing allegations." He said he had the utmost confidence in Carlino, and he suggested that Democratic Assemblyman Mark Lane, who brought the charges, should himself perhaps be censured for making what Mahoney called groundless accusations.

Still Hopes for Rebate

Taxes—He has not given up hope for a continuation of the 10 per cent rebate in state income taxes voted this year, but he seems to be leaning toward Rockefeller's view there will be no continuation.

Education—State aid to schools would again be the chief issue of the 1962 Legislature as it has been in recent sessions. Proposals for locally - imposed sales taxes for schools probably would have "rough sledding" in an election year.

Rent Control—He said he felt administration of New York City's ren. - control program should be turned over to the city government to end charges from that city's Democratic administration that the law favored landlords.

Would Restore Dating

Milk Dating—He favored legislation to restore to New York City its authority to require that the date of pasteurization appear on all containers sold at retail. The Legislature withdrew such authority from the city at the request of dairy interests.

Literacy Tests—A proposal to allow persons to establish literacy in any one of 27 languages in order to register as voters was "the most ludicrous thing I ever heard of." Persons must now pass literacy tests in English to be eligible to register.

Fiscal Independence — Prospects are uncertain for a change in the general attitude of opposition to granting fiscal independence to school boards in the state's six largest cities. Money is apportioned to these school boards by the city government.

DR. NEAL BOWMAN

Speaker Listed For IMC Dinner Tuesday Night

The Kingston Industrial Management Club, sponsored by the YMCA, will hold its regular meeting Tuesday night at the Hotel Stuyvesant starting with dinner at 6:30. Dr. Neal Bowman, a member of the staff of the National Association of Manufacturers will be the speaker.

Dr. Bowman will speak on the subject Inside With the Boss. This depicts ideas of top management getting to his supervisory staff personally and then on to the general overall employe in industry. This idea in management was derived at many years ago and set aside, but today it is regarded right up front and paying off for business and the employe as well.

The speaker was in attendance at the meeting of the National Association of Management last week when President John F. Kennedy was the main speaker. Club president Alfred Guerdon will ask Dr. Bowman to relate some of the ideas that the President expressed.

Dr. Bowman has had a rich and varied background as an educator, author, lecturer and sales psychologist. He became a member of the staff of NAM in 1944 and has traveled from coast to coast speaking on the latest ideas and techniques used in management and industry. He has also made many radio and television appearances.

IMC members are asked to bring a guest, so that others besides club members may get first hand information on the latest faucets in industrial education, particularly what it means to know top management intimately.

Charlotte Amalie is the capital of the Virgin Islands; from 1921 to 1937, the city was known as Saint Thomas.

Buses Due Back Tuesday, Strike Over at Rochester

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Rochester's five-week-long bus strike was over today, but the Rochester Transit Corp., said it would be Tuesday at the earliest before the buses would be back on the streets.

The company's drivers and mechanics Sunday ratified by a 349-148 vote a two-year contract providing a 15-cent hourly wage increase and extended fringe benefits. They had asked a 19-cent hourly raise.

This city of 380,000 and its suburbs have been without public transportation since Nov. 1, when the old contract expired. Rochester's longest previous bus strike, in 1952, lasted 23 days.

The tentative contract presented to the drivers and mechanics was agreed to on Saturday, after the state said it might set up a board of inquiry if the strike was not settled quickly.

The company had originally told the union, Local 282 of the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes, that it couldn't afford any wage raise.

However, the city granted the company a $300,000 subsidy based on tax relief and reimbursement for student fares.

The old contract gave drivers $2.31 an hour and mechanics $2.09-$2.43.

Santa Claus Cited On Blue Law Count

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Police waited until a long line of children finished telling Santa Claus their Christmas wishes before citing him for violating a Pennsylvania Sunday blue law.

Santa, better known as Charles Staeger, Cornwell Heights, and four other workers were cited in a suburban discount store for violating a law forbidding "gainful employment" on Sunday.

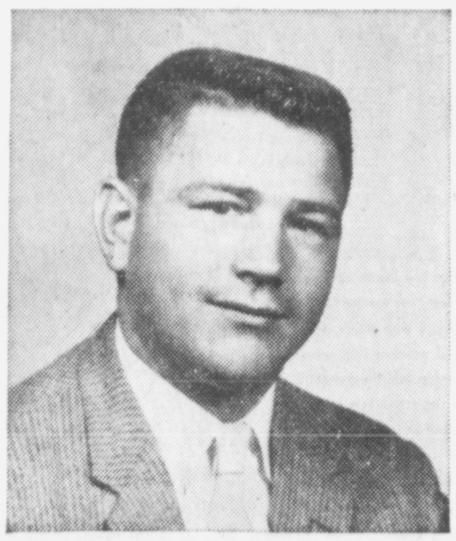
New York Telephone man awarded

Vail Medal for Initiative and Courage

The highest telephone honor employees can receive is the Vail Medal. It is given only for outstanding acts of initiative and courage performed in connection with their work, or in which their training as telephone people is an important factor.

Recently the New York Telephone Company awarded the Vail Medal to Thomas R. Woodford. His story is unusual. But his "spirit of service" is typical of telephone people everywhere, who every day use their training and skills to make telephone service helpful in every possible way.



Thomas R. Woodford
SYRACUSE INSTALLER-REPAIRMAN

At 1 a.m., April 14, 1961, fire erupted in the Apulia Station Hotel, near Syracuse. When Thomas Woodford and the other volunteer firemen arrived, the three-story, 100-year-old hotel was in flames. Woodford helped rescue the owner's wife from a second-story room and went back for the owner. Forced out by smoke and heat he made a second attempt, also unsuccessful. Woodford's brother went in but was unable to reach the unconscious man. Then Woodford made a final try and managed to find the owner and get him out through a window. Once outside he forced oxygen into the man's lungs until breathing was restored. Shortly after the rescue, the building caved in and crashed to the street.

B'nai B'rith Women To Honor President At Special Luncheon

The Kingston Chapter of B'nai B'rith Women will hold a luncheon Tuesday, at 12:45 p. m., in Leherb's Restaurant in honor of Mrs. Max Goldberg, president of the Chapter, who is leaving the area. Mrs. Goldberg has already served one full term as president and her resignation will become effective immediately.

All members of the organization are urged to attend the luncheon. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Harris Gally or Mrs. Edwin Kalish. Immediately after the reception a meeting will be held at which the nominating committee will make their recommendations for temporary provisions until a new slate of officers is elected.

The executive board meeting of the organization will not be held this month.

Resident Is Student-Teacher

Miss Kathleen Haggerty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Haggerty, RD 2, Box 52, Kingston, is student teaching at Watertown for the second of two nine-week assignments from State University College of Education, Oswego.

Coach House Will Meet on Tuesday

The regular meeting of Coach House Players will be held Tuesday, 8:30 p. m., at Coach House, 12 Augusta Street. It will be a short meeting and Christmas party.

Hap Clauss and her workshop committee, Barbara Bight, Pet Millikin, Eloise Gardner, Doris Urell, Joan Peters and June Boyle, will provide the entertainment consisting of readings of Christmas stories and poems, interspersed with Christmas carols by some of the music pupils of Terry Roberts. Scott Fossee Helen Mellert, Ceil Cunningham and Jo Jolivette are in charge of refreshments. Each member is asked to bring a gift or two suitable for a boy or a girl.

President Caddy has announced that readings will be held Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, Dec. 19 and 20 at 8 p. m. for "The Unexpected Guest." Rehearsals will start the first week in January. Readings are open to the public and anyone who wishes to take part in this play is invited to come either evening.

On Thursday evening, Dec. 21, Coach House members are scheduled to decorate at Ulster County Infirmary.

Scaasi Features Lower Necklines In Fashion Show

AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—How deep can a neckline creep?

Costumes created by couturier Arnold Scaasi have gone about as far as they can go, short of eliminating the bodice altogether.

In what seems to be an unofficial contest among American designers to see whose decolletage designs can outstrip the other's, Scaasi's dresses top them all.

Or, as some of the buyers who saw his spring collection today expressed it, they don't quite top enough.

Designer Rudi Gernreich probably started the race earlier this year by making much of his caveman type, one-shoulder dresses.

Later Ceil Chapman did him one shoulder strap better—or less—by concentrating on strapless fashion. Then Jacques Tiffeau of Monte Santo-Prusan drew a deep breath and dropped the decolletage some more.

Now Scaasi's strapless dresses are worn by models who seem to have outgrown them. But his publicity director assured an inquirer that they were intended to stop where they did. "Very feminine," she explained, a reply which no one could debate.

Mrs. James A. Hurn Has 80th Birthday

A surprise party was given Saturday night for Mrs. James A. Hurn of 282 Washington Avenue, this city, on the occasion of her 80th birthday. She received many congratulatory wishes from relatives and friends.

Wife of the late Methodist minister, James A. Hurn, Mrs. Hurn has a daughter, Mrs. Chauncy Fenton who resides in Wells, Vt. She also has three grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

The elder citizen has resided with her sister, Mrs. Edith Winne at the Washington Avenue address for approximately 25 years.

Ahavath Israel

Sisterhood Ahavath Israel will meet Wednesday at 8:30 p. m. in the Vestry Hall, 72 Wurts Street. Mrs. Bernard Cohen, book chairman, has announced a special program, dedicated to Jewish Book Month, has been planned. An entertaining skit "Books Around the Clock" will feature Sisterhood members in the cast. The program will give capsule summaries and reviews of many popular books. Aiding Mrs. Cohen with the presentation will be Mrs. Josph Colen and Mrs. Jacob Rubenstein.

Also on the agenda for the evening will be a cake sale with Mrs. Al Horowitz and Mrs. Carl Lipton as chairmen.

Program of CYO Activities Are Announced Here

The Ulster County Office of the Catholic Youth Organization has announced that the annual elementary oratorical contest will be held on Saturday, Jan. 6 at St. Mary's School in Kingston. Entries must be made at the CYO Office, 23 West Pierpont Street, this city, no later than January 2, 1962. "Our Role in Influencing the World," is the topic of the oration. Archdiocesan finals are slated for January 14 in New York City.

Since the Archdiocesan competition in the religious quiz has been set for Friday, Jan. 26, 1962, the CYO office here has announced the following dates here for its contests: elementary school on Saturday, Jan. 13, at St. Mary's School; high school division on Saturday, Jan. 20 at St. Joseph's School. General religious knowledge will be the topics for the quiz.

The CYO Christmas dance will be held at St. Peter's Hall in Rosendale on Wednesday, Dec. 27 from 8-11 p. m. No admission will be charged. All teenagers are invited to attend.

Facilities have been made available at the St. Francis de Sales parish in Phoenicia and St. Mary's of the Snows in Saugerties for skating parties. Detailed information may be obtained from the Rev. John Gorman at St. Francis or Andrew Vozdik of Saugerties.

County doll shows have been scheduled for Sunday, Jan. 7 at St. Mary's of the Snows, Saugerties, and Saturday, Jan. 27 at St. Peter's in Kingston. Information and entry forms may be obtained at all parochial schools and from CYO moderators.

Contest Requirements

The second annual oratorical contest, as announced above, is open to students who are attending elementary school and who had not reached their 15th birthday before September 1, 1961.

Prepared orations of not less than five minutes and not more than six minutes in length must be delivered on "Our Role in Influencing the World Today."

Contestants may not use notes when delivering prepared orations. Orations must be original. All quotations must be indicated and where they are more than ten words in length, the author's name must be given, orally, as well as indicated in the manuscript. A copy of the manuscript must be forwarded to the county director prior to the contest.

In the county contest, forensic keys, gold, silver and bronze, will be awarded to the first, second and third place winners. In the archdiocesan contest, cups will be awarded to the winners.

Judging will be based on the following points: stage presence, poise, character, personality, 25 points; content of oration—accuracy and literary effectiveness, 50 points; power to thrill, quicken and compel, 25 points.

For the religious quiz contest, a parish may enter only one team. The team shall be made up of two boys, two girls or a boy and a girl. No substitutions will be allowed. Only the winners of the county contest may compete in the Archdiocesan contest.

The quiz will be based on questions in general religious knowledge and will be oral. Each team will be asked the same number of questions. The number of rounds will be determined before the start of the contest. If the contest is tied it will be continued until one team ends a round with more points than its competitors. Seating will be arranged by lot.

CYO plaques will be awarded in the country contest. In the Archdiocesan, cups will be awarded to the winners and appropriate prizes to members of the winning team.

All entries on the official CYO entry blank must be in the CYO office on January 5.

Christmas Cribs

The Ulster County CYO will also sponsor a Christmas Crib contest. For the elementary division, entrants must not have reached their 15th birthday before September 1, 1961. Appropriate prizes will be presented to first, second and third places. Judges will be assigned by the CYO Committee. The basis in awarding prizes will be: creativeness and originality, 50 per cent; setting and crib, 50 per cent.

All entries must be recorded with the CYO office by December 24. The time, place and date when the crib will be on exhibition must be indicated on the entry blank.

Cribs in the elementary division must be erected at home, either in a large window of the residence near the street or in front of the home outside on a porch, lawn, or other location. All entries must be displayed in a place of prominence where they may be viewed by everyone.

Judging will be done between December 26 and January 5. Winners will be notified.

In the junior division, entrants must not have reached their 19th birthday before September 1, 1961. Entries must be displayed in a public place, store window, post office, village square, town hall, or other suitable locations. Dates when the crib will be on display and the site where it is located must be indicated on the entry blank.

Judging, awards and other pertinent information is the same as outlined for the elementary division.

Ulster Hose Company

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Ulster Hose Company No. 5 will hold its regular meeting, election of officers and annual Christmas party on Thursday at 6:30 p. m. at the Oak Grove Motel, Saugerties Road. Members who have not made reservations must contact Miss Margaret Burger.

Carl Burton Is President of Art Association Here

The Ulster County Art Association held its dinner-meeting at Leherb's Tuesday, Dec. 5.

Installed as officers for the year were Carl Burton, president; Esther Houghtaling, vice president; Marguerite Schultz, secretary; Hila Markle, treasurer; Gerhart Schneider, art director; Marguerite Goerke, assistant director; and Augustus Modjeski, assistant director.

Personals

When the S.S. France sails from New York on Feb. 14, Miss Linn Montjoy Carl will be bound for a year in Europe. A sophomore at Hollins College, Va., she will study at the Sorbonne in Paris and travel extensively on the Continent during the summer. Miss Carl is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Carl of 138 Green Street, Kingston.

Alaska, with an area of about 586,400 square miles, is the largest of the 50 states.

A. H. Wicks Engine Co.

Witnesses Will Hold Conclave Here in January

Kingston will again be host city to a Bible study conference to be held early next month by Jehovah's Witnesses. Delegates from portions of a three state area have been invited to attend.

"Extensive Bible study is a prevailing feature of the activity of Jehovah's Witnesses," Earnest Kidd Jr. presiding minister of the Kingston congregation, said. "Therefore, the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society is sponsoring the conference to augment its training program for volunteer Bible instructors."

Kidd also announced that the principal speaker for the conference will be Bruce Giffin, district director of the Witnesses in the Atlantic Seaboard states. The entire program of lectures as well as the management of all the departments of the convention will be under the supervision of the Circuit Director for this area, Arlen H. Meier.

Approximately 1200 Witnesses from Ulster and eight surrounding counties are expecting to join in the convention activities.

Court Santa Maria

Court Santa Maria No. 164, Catholic Daughters of America, will have a Christmas party Thursday at 14 Henry Street immediately after the regular monthly business meeting scheduled to start promptly at 7:45 p. m.

Members are requested to donate an article of canned goods for Christmas baskets to be distributed to needy families in the area. Mrs. Margaret Mitchell, party chairman, has also announced there will be exchange of gifts.

Business for Himself

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) —Jobless and the father of 16 children, Theodore E. Lovejoy, 45, was near the top of the list for aid under an emergency public works program set up to combat unemployment in West Virginia. But officials took another look at Lovejoy's status when they found he had apparently launched his own recovery program. Federal authorities have charged him with possession of a copper still and 150 gallons of raw material for making moonshine whisky.

Burgevins Brimming With Christmas Decorations and Gifts

Have you ever wished you could find really different trimmings for the house and tree?

Do you want an unusual Christmas Wreath, original table centerpiece, or charming china container decorated for the holidays? They can be found at Burgevin's Flower Shop at the corner of Main and Fair Street. The delicate sparkling trimmings, the galaxy of angels and pixies and the stuffed santas, soft kittens and lovable doggies. Remember "all that glitters is not gold" but Burgevin's golden reindeer and sleds does make a person wonder! Why not make your home a fairyland with a choice of blinking colored lights.

If you are looking for a lighted nativity set for your mantle with figures hand molded in Italy or religious flower containers why not visit Burgevins. This is a shop to wander in, to pick up a treasure for Christmas and a special gift for a special person, too.

Miss Betsy Milliken Is Engaged to Wed

BETSY W. MILLIKEN

Mrs. Phyllis Myer Milliken of Sycamore Farm, Kingston, announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Betsy Witherbee Milliken, to Peter Erb Giustra, son of Dr. and Mrs. Frank X. Giustra of Brooklyn. A June wedding is planned.

Miss Milliken is also the daughter of Albert E. Milliken of Accord. She is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Howard Myer of Kingston and of Mrs. Milley Adams Witherbee Milliken and the late Albert E. Milliken of Jackson Heights. Miss Milliken is a graduate of Green Mountain College, attended Colorado State University and was graduated from the Berkeley Institute.

Mr. Giustra, who received his bachelor's degree from Union College, Schenectady, where he was a member of Phi Delta Theta Fraternity, is a student at the State University of New York Down State Medical Center.

Bride in Service

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Archie Mitchell says "things have been mighty quiet around here" since his bride was called to active duty.

Mitchell, a stock broker, and the former Thelma Walker, a member of the Army Reserve Nurses Corps, were married Aug. 22. Her reserve unit was called up and sent to Ft. Polk, La., Oct. 15.

"She'll be coming home for Christmas," Mitchell said happily.

Troop 19 Holds Court of Honor

Boy Scout Troop 19, sponsored by VFW Joyce-Schrick Post 1386 held a Court of Honor Wednesday at the Post Hall, Delaware Avenue.

A tenderfoot investiture was held for candidates William Reynolds and Raymond Reynolds. They were presented with their Tenderfoot Badges and the miniature pins for their mothers.

Boy Scout Ronald Carney was awarded his first Class Badge. Also the miniature pin for his mother. Scoutmaster J. Zahorsky announced that Senior Patrol Leader John Quick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew R. McDermott was to be elevated to the rank of Eagle Scout which is the highest rank that can be achieved in Boy Scouting. Scout Quick is the first Eagle Scout of Troop 19.

The Scout letter from National Boy Scout Council was read by Neighborhood Commissioner John Clark. The wall certificate and card was presented by District Advancement Committeeman Richard Gendrau. The miniature pin was presented by Institutional Representative Andrew Edge. The Eagle Medal was presented by VFW Post Commander Thomas Hughes, to Scout Quick's mother and father who pinned it on their son's uniform. The Eagle Knot was presented by Advancement Committeeman John Marks.

Scoutmaster Zahorsky presented the Eagle necklace to be worn by the mother. The Eagle Badge was presented by Assistant Scoutmaster Gerhard Klemm.

Scoutmaster Zahorsky introduced Henry Eighmey and Mrs. John Sahloff who were John Quick's Cubmaster and Den mother when he started Cub Scouting seven years ago.

Also presented to the meeting were Scout Committeemen Francis Costa, Hubert Richter, Martin Sabin, John Marks, Andrew Edge and Committee Chairman Andrew R. McDermott.

Port Ewen Cubs

Cub Pack 26 will hold its December meeting Wednesday, 6:45 p. m., at the Port Ewen School Cafeteria. There will be a Christmas party, singing of carols and a visit from Santa Claus.

Good Taste Today

BEFORE HIS DIVORCE IS FINAL

Q. I am going with a man who is married and has two children. His wife has started suit for divorce and, after this becomes final, we are marrying. May I accept a ring from him before the time has passed? Everyone knows she has left him and is suing for divorce, and as long as we have definite plans I'd like my family to announce them. Would this be in good taste?

A. It would be in very bad taste for your family, or you, to make a public announcement before your fiance-to-be is legally free. I certainly do not think it wise to accept his ring or consider yourself engaged while he is still the husband of another.

Getting Out of a Car

Q. Will you please tell me what is proper in the following situation. A husband and wife double date with an unmarried couple. The husband drives their car, a two-door car where the front seats have to be pushed forward in order for those in the back to get out, with his wife seated beside him. The other woman sits in the rear seat behind the driver, her date beside her. What is the proper thing for the husband to do: Get out of the car and assist the woman behind him, his wife getting out unassisted, or get out of the car, close the door and go around to assist his wife, letting the girl's date out, with the girl sliding across the seat to be assisted out by her date?

A. If the car is stopped in a parking lot or on a street where there is little traffic, the husband gets out, assists the woman behind him and then goes around to assist his wife if she has not already gotten out.

Walking Hand in Hand

Q. Will you please tell me if it is in bad taste for a young couple to walk on the street holding hands?

A. On a country road they might, but they certainly should not on a city street.

Hooker Family Thanks Firemen for Kindness

The Hooker family at 79 Hudson Street, in a letter to Kingston Fire Department dated December 6, extended their thanks for "the wonderful service performed" in handling the recent fire in their home.

They also expressed their appreciation for "kindness and cooperation" extended to the family. "Such performance merits you be held in high esteem by the people of Kingston," the letter said.

Hold Mock Legislature

YM Groups Vote for Many Newburgh Welfare Changes

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Youths representing YMCA groups throughout the state have approved many of the provisions of Newburgh's controversial welfare code.

The youths voted 82-5 in favor of the welfare restrictions during the mock legislative session of the New York State Hi-Y Assembly Sunday at the state capitol.

The bill provides that relief payments be limited to three months a year to persons other than the aged, blind or disabled, and that unwed mothers who continue to bear illegitimate children be denied welfare.

The Hi-Y measure also would required that able-bodied men be cut from welfare rolls if they refused a legitimate job offer or quit a job for no reason.

The provisions are similar to those approved in Newburgh. A court order has prevented the city from putting the restrictions into practice.

The Hi-Y assembly also approved bills that would tighten state laws against discrimination, require seat belts on all new cars sold in the state, legalize off-track pari-mutuel betting on horse races, and require periodic re-examination of holders of operator's licenses.

The teen-agers defeated a bill that would have abolished the death penalty and another that would have exempted fallout shelters in private homes from tax assessment.

Stephen Strand, 16, of White Plains was elected president of the Y council for 1962. He succeeded Thomas Cheney of Jamestown.

Other officers elected Saturday were:

David C. Schaack of Gowanda, vice president; Deirdre Glenn, of Newburgh, secretary; Allen Cerasani of Rochester, treasurer, and Betty Paull of Buffalo, chaplain.

The mock assembly was the final event in the three-day, 26th annual youth and government program. Approximately 500 attended.

Two Youths Jailed On Tarffic Count; 2 Charges Pending

Two Massachusetts youths apprehended Saturday afternoon by Saugerties village police in a car reported stolen from Quincy, Mass., were sentenced to 15 days in Ulster County Jail for driving without a license, when they appeared before Village Police Justice G. Thomas Rea Jr. Two other charges are pending, it was reported.

Arrested were Arthur Horton, 20, of 177 Broad Street, Weymouth, Mass., and Thomas Sheehan, 16, of 65 Cedar Street, East Weymouth, Mass.

JPatrolman Gordon Keeley reported the two youths and Fred Engels of Saugerties, a passenger, were driving in a 1958 brown station wagon owned by Melvin F. Piors of Quincy, Mass. The owner of the car told police the station wagon had been parked in his yard without plates and was unregistered. The arrest was made at 2:15 p. m.

Kingston BCI Investigator Joseph Ventriglia aided in the investigation.

Bears Are Transferred

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Black bears are destructive nuisances in tree farms by causing bark to peel from young trees, but a humane way of controlling them has been developed by trapper Jack Aldrich.

He has devised a light-weight foot snare that holds the animal unharmed until the trapper comes along and transfers it to another section of forest where young trees are not being nutured.

Hollywood News, Views

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — News item: Sandra Church, Broadway star of "Gypsy," will make her film debut opposite Marlon Brando in "The Ugly American."

Correction: Sandra made her film debut at an early age. This is her comeback.

It's true that Sandra's early career wasn't as impressive as her adult one. But in the interests of accuracy, I pinned her down on the facts, which are these:

"I was born in San Francisco. My father died when I was 2. When I was 5, my mother and I moved to Hollywood because she was certain that I was going to be a great big movie star.

"I wasn't. But it wasn't because we didn't try. I can remember being trotted around to interview after interview, standing out in the rain in Culver City and all that.

"My film career consisted of five pictures. One was a musical with Alice Faye. I can remember her singing 'My Alice Blue Gown' while I was dancing with some boy, lots of other girls were dancing with boys, and the mothers of all of them were fighting among themselves.

"In another picture I had polio. Gale Storm asked me how I was feeling, and I said cheerfully, 'I feel like a million.' That was my part."

That was about the extent of her career as a child actress, a career that strangely parallels that of the young Gypsy Rose Lee she played on Broadway. The difference is that Sandra was allowed to retire at an early age and attend convent schools.

Even in school she kept up her acting training. One of her coaches was West Coast representative of the Theater Guild and recommended her to replace Janice Rule in "Picnic."

Sandra went on to other glories on and off Broadway, finally landing as Ethel Merman's daughter in "Gypsy." She learned the stripper's strut from a Greenwich Village peeler at $10 an hour, auditioned four times before getting the role. Sandra passed up movie offers to remain on Broadway for "Under the Yum-Yum Tree" with Gig Young.

"I'm glad I waited," she said glowingly. "Imagine making your first movie as Marlon Brando's wife!"

Vehicle Hits Horse

A 38-year-old Kingston man escaped injury early today when his car struck and injured a horse on Route 32 about four miles north of New Paltz. Highland troopers said Kurt Upright, of 14 Brown Avenue, this city, was the operator of the vehicle. The horse, which troopers said strayed from a pasture onto the highway, was owned by Albert Ackerman, Rosendale.

Cornell Musical Troupe to Tour South America

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP)—The Cornell University Theater will tour South American Universities next summer under State Department sponsorship.

The university said Sunday a troupe of 20 graduate and undergraduate students would present a musical production. Prof George McCalmon, university theater director, will head the company.

The tour, arranged by the American National Theatre and Academy, will begin in mid-June and end in late August, Cornell said. The production the troupe will present was not announced.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Business on the upgrade again and a stock speculation bubble that burst vied for the headlines in 1961 with a gathering trade and tariff storm and the jump in defense spending. And here, in one man's opinion, are the 10 top business stories of a turbulent year.

1. Recovery from recession. Industry dragged along the bottom in the first three months of the year, made an impressive if short comeback, took a late summer and early fall siesta, and then started forward again briskly at the end of the year. Each turn, or failure to turn, made news.

Rush to Buy Stocks

2. The stock market. The spring saw the public clamoring to buy stocks they thought glamorous, many of almost unknown companies. The speculative spree soon brought a rough hangover for many get-rich-quick artists. In the final weeks of the year many of the blue chips climbed to new highs.

3. The Common Market. Europe's experiment in trading blocs paid off big. Americans began to debate bitterly how the United States should meet the challenge—by lowering tariffs to get in step, or by raising tariffs to protect home industries from invasion of cheaper foreign goods.

Industries Affected

4. The war of nerves. The Berlin crisis, President Kennedy's ordering a big jump in defense spending, Russia's nuclear bombs, all made headlines on financial as well as front pages. The spending affected prospects in many industries, the mounting Treasury deficit stirred talk of more inflation to come, and business as well as individuals joined in the big debate: To build shelters or not to build shelters, to share them or not to share them.

5. The price-fixing scandal. Business news spilled all over the front pages when 29 electrical equipment makers, including some of the nation's top corporations, were fined $2 million after pleading guilty or no contest to charges of price-fixing and bid-rigging. Seven of their officials were sent to jail. At year end, civil suits seeking damages that some said could run into billions of dollars were being filed by the utilities and other corporations that had bought the electrical equipment.

Recovery in Business

6. Unemployment. Depressed areas, swelling welfare rolls, long lines at the unemployment benefit payment windows persisted through most of 1961. In the closing weeks the business recovery was helping some, but still not as much as hoped. Variously blamed: Automation, a fast growing labor force, a less than booming growth in the economy.

7. Government vs. business. Some businessmen began saying that the number of antitrust suits and roadblocks against mergers showed an antibusiness bias in Washington, especially distrust of bigness in itself. The administration denied it. The charges and disavowals and later the reconciliation moves, all made news.

8. Du Pont's GM stock. The big chemical company's efforts to find the least painful way of obeying a court order to get rid of 63 million General Motors shares made this a cliffhanging item.

9. Texas vs. Wall St. The Murchison brothers of Texas won the year's roughest proxy fight. They took control of Alleghany, an investment holding company, away from Woolworth heir Allen P. Kirby.

10. The cost of living. The year's sleeper—prices didn't drop during the recession, nor rise sharply during the recovery. Instead, the cost of living just kept rolling along, slowly rising much of the time to make successive new highs—the one thing in 1961 you could always count on.

Paltz Seminar On Eocnomics Set for Dec. 16

Next Saturday morning, Dec. 16, the senior high school students participating in the seminar series will hear a lecture on economics entitled "Study of Man—Behavior in the Marketplace." The seminar will take place at 10 a. m. at the State University College, New Paltz.

The guest-lecturer for this session will be Robert Greenman, academic dean of the Orange County Community College at Middletown. Greenman has received his degrees from the City College of New York and Brooklyn College majoring in political science and history. Currently, he is working on his doctoral work with emphasis on economic attitudes and behavior. He has also studied at the University of Glasgow and Cornell University.

His work experiences include being instructor and assistant professor of history and political science at Sampson College. He has also been director of the day division until promoted to academic dean of the Orange County Community College. During the Korean Conflict he was psychological warfare interrogation officer for the 8th U. S. Army in Korea.

During the session, the students will be involved in certain written exercises dealing with the forces in economics. They will be responding to hypothetical and economical problems.

There are approximately 50 senior students representing the seven central schools of Ulster County.

This academic enrichment program is being jointly sponsored by the Ulster County Board of Cooperative Educational Services, and the State University College, New Paltz. The entire project is under the direct guidance of the secondary principals of the central schools of Ellenville, Highland, Marlboro, New Paltz, Onteora, Rondout Valley and Wallkill.

Empty Seats Save Money

NEW YORK (AP)—A reduction in the number of seats sold at each performance is saving money for the musical, "Irma La Douce." The show, which recently transferred to the Alvin Theater from the Plymouth, has been in the 1,100-seat category under contracts with the musicians' union. The Alvin has 1,324 seats, but 234 are being kept vacant. If they were put on sale, the show would be required to add several musicians to the pit band, hiking the weekly payroll by $1,600.

Salty Shelter

GENESEO, N. Y. (AP)—Civil defense officials in this Western New York area have suggested using the Retsof salt mines a few miles away as a city-sized fallout shelter. The mines, between 900 and 1,200 feet underground, cover an area about the size of Manhattan Island.

Today's hand from this book shows a percentage safety play. If South were in seven spades, he would lead a low spade from dummy and finesse the queen. If that worked, he would lay down the ace and hope to drop the king. If that did not work he would be set.

Fortunately, South is in the proper six spade contract and while he has no objection to making seven, his main concern is to make the small slam.

He does make it if he lays down the ace of trumps and drops the singleton king.

Why does he make the play? Because it is correct. If trumps break 3-2, he is going to make his contract. If trumps break 4-1, he can only make it if the king is singleton and he drops it.

First-Year Hugs

ST. PAUL (AP)—Students at Hamline University, gave a grinning reception to signs around the campus proclaiming HUGS. No embracing involved, they learned—just an abbreviation of the Hamline University Guide Service for freshmen.

If our "affluent society" keeps expanding as it did in the first half of this century, soon it'll be hard to find a poor man. Some sociologists say our working class is on its way out—or rather, up. By the year 2000, at present growth rates, the working class of today will move to middleclass living standards. The suburbs will boom and, with luck, the slums will vanish.

Tackle Shop and Red Hook Score Rec League Victories

Ray's Tackle Shop and Adolph's of Red Hook opened the Recreation Cage league with victories last night at the Municipal Auditorium.

Five players hit in double figures as the Tackle Shop beat the Trailways Cafe, 73-65, in a thriller. A big first period enabled Ward Dunham's cagers to remain on top all the way, though the losers closed with a rush.

Bob Bondar, Chick Boice, Leo Armstead, Joe Klonowski and Champ Holstein were tops for the well-balanced winners. Marty Kaye and Al Byrne, a pair of good sharpshooters, were high for the Trailways.

Ron Miller netted 20 points in leading the Dutchess County team to a 52-44 win over Carroll's Bait Box. The visitors pulled ahead in the third period after trailing, 20-19, at halftime.

Andy Juhl rimmed 15 points for the losers but he didn't receive much in the way of scoring help. The others combined for only 29 markers.

Sports Talk

By CHARLES J. TIANO

Freeman Sports Editor

Leon Randall's record shattering 33-30-63 on Wiltwyck Country Club's par 36-36-72 layout in the City playoff last September was just following the pattern set by the nation's golfers during the spectacular 1962 season.

Mrs. A. J. (Wiggie) de Lisio's all-time women's record of 66 at Woodstock was also part of the package.

More all-time records for unusual and difficult golfing feats were established in 1961 than in any of the past 30 years, according to the Golf Digest annual.

Among the new records reported this year:

1. Joe Kirkwood, Sr., at age 63, turned in a phenomenal 62 at Deland, Fla. C.C. to become the youngest man in history to shoot his age. He actually performed the feat on Christmas Day a year ago, but it was reported in the 1961 record year.

Shooting your age is the toughest trick in golf. In 1961, for example, only 21 age-shooters were recorded, compared to almost 12,000 holes-in-one.

2. Joe Morozan, assistant pro at Rockrimmon C.C. in Stamford, Conn, on Oct. 19 for the longest double eagle. On the 547-yard 14, Morozan used a 3-wood to belt his second shot 260 yards into the hole. The most famous double eagle in all golf history, of course, was made by Gene Sarazen on the 520-yard 15th hole at the Augusta National in 1935 Masters. A double eagle, a score of three under on a single hole, ranks as golf's second most difficult feat.

• 427-Yard Hole-In-One

3. Lou Kretlow, former major league baseball pitcher, set a new all-time, hole-in-one distance record March 26. Playing at Lake Hefner C.C. in Oklahoma City, Kretlow stepped up to the 16th tee and, with a 45 MPH wind at his back, walloped his ball 427 yards into the cup, breaking the 425-yard record which has stood since 1939. Kretlow's was one of almost 12,000 known holes in one during 1961.

4. Bob Goalby, touring professional, got eight birdies in a row to set a new PGA record for number of consecutive birdies. (The area record is 6 straight set by Armand Farina of Schenectady in the Woodstock Open a few years back).

5. Sam Snead became the oldest tournament winner when, 20 days short of his 49th birthday, he won the Tournament of Champions.

6. Kathy Cornelius set an all-time Ladies PGA scoring record for a 54-hole event by shooting a 204 to win the Lake Tippecanoe Open at Leesburg, Ind.

7. Mickey Wright tied Betsy Rawls' 1959 Ladies PGA record of ten tournament victories in one season.

8. Kudy Kimball set a new LPGA record by using only 21 putts in the fourth round of the American Women's Open.

Thus 1961 has been the best "record year" since 1931, when three marks were set which still stand. In that year pro Claude Harmon made eight birdies and an eagle in a casual round to set a record for the most under-par holes in succession. South African track star Len Richardson played the fastest round in history, completing 18 holes in 33 minutes, 22 seconds, and a gentleman by the name of R. W. Bridges got his ball 196 yards from tee to cup with one swing of his putter, surely the longest "putt" in the history of golf.

A statistical "first" cropped up at Woodstock Country Club where Herb Waterous defeated Eric Knutsen, 8 and 7, to become the third member of his family to win the club championship. Pere Allen was the first and brother, Bill, was the second. The amateur course record at Woodstock is 63 and is shared by George Hughes of Twaalfskill nd Judson Phillips, Woodstock author and artist who set it in the early days of the layout.

Cincinnati Will Battle Drake In Basketball Headliner

Cincinnati, one of the Giants of college basketball, faces its first major obstacle tonight in a tough Drake team that has showed a big scoring punch in winning two games.

Cincinnati, defending NCAA champion and ranked second in the season preview Associated Press poll, chalked up its 25th straight victory with an 86-67 romp over Wiscinsin Saturday.

Coach Ed Jucker then hustled from the afternoon game to personally scout the impressive Drake team that crushed Illinois College 110-48. It was the second straight for Drake and pushed its average to an even 100 points per game.

Ohio State, led by All-America Jerry Lucas, skipped by its first two major challengers, Wichita and Wake Forest, and now takes a week off.

The Buckeyes (4-0) crushed Wake Forest's third-ranked Deacons 84-62 at the top of the weekend schedule. Against Wake Forest, Ohio State held only a 37-31 halftime lead, but broke it open with 13 straight points soon after intermission. Lucas scored 23 points in part-time service.

All other ranked teams in action came through on schedule, though Seattle, No. 10, got a scare from Idaho before pulling out a 69-68 decision.

Providence, ranked fifth, got another good performance from its two giants, 6-10 Jimmy Hadnot and 6-11 John Thompson, in a 75-51 breeze past St. Francis of Brooklyn. Hadnot had 28 points and 17 rebounds, Thompson 21 points and 18 rebounds.

All-America Terry Dischinger threw in 23 points and Mel Garland scored 26 in Purdue's (no. 6) 91-66 triumph over Detroit. Kansas State (no. 8) got its third straight in an 88-78 verdict over Indiana.

Three Canadian Cities Considered by NY-Penn

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Three cities, Hamilton, Ont., and Bradford and Warren, Pa., are being considered for the eighth franchise in the New York - Penn Class D Baseball League.

The league lost its eighth team when Elmira joined the Class A Eastern League recently.

Hamilton, a former member of the league, would be its largest member, with 240,000 population. Bradford's population is 15,061 and Warren, 14,505.

League president Vince McNamara said Sunday Hamilton was trying to secure a working agreement with a major league club.

Other clubs in the league are Wellsville, Erie, Pa., Batavia, Geneva, Olean, Jamestown and Auburn.

Plan Special Deer Season in Westchester

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Some hunters who failed to bag deer during the regular season will get another try during a special, 10-day season in 11 Westchester County towns next month.

The season, Jan. 15-19 and 22-26, was called to reduce the size of deer herds in the county and thus prevent damage to crops and shrub nurseries by foraging deer, the conservation department said Saturday.

The season is open by permit to hunters holding a state big-game license who have not taken a deer during the regular season.

The shotgun hunters are limited to one deer of either sex and may hunt only in the towns where discharge of firearms is not prohibited.

The towns and their permit quotas:

Ray's Defeats Hub, 94-46; Yellow Jackets Get Decision

Hub Delicatessen was better than Rays's Tackle Shop—for one period—in the game Saturday night at the YMCA court. From that point on, it was all Ray's as the unbeaten quintet outscored the Hub, 30-3, in the second quarter and went on to a 94-46 decision.

In the other tilt on the Winter league slate, the Yellow Jackets trimmed Dick's Barber Shop, 61-52.

As usual ,it was team balance which turned the trick for the Tackle Shop. Bob Bondar rimmed 26 points and Chick Boice had 24 to show the way. But Joe Klonowski and Roy Havens were also in double figures. Moe Kamosa and Al Short topped the losers, who were outscored, 49-22, in the second half.

John Burris tallied 29 points for the Yellow Jackets, getting nine baskets and 11 free throws. Bob Smith aided with 18. Joe Spada (17) and Bill Tomaseski (10) led the losers. The Yellow Jackets moved in front with a second period rally.

Jones Captures Match From Three Brothers

Despite a pair of strong efforts by Charlie Manfro and Bill Lawrence, the slumping Three Brothers Egg Farm team couldn't halt a red hot Jones Dairy and the defending Hudson Valley league champs swept their position match Saturday at the Bowlero.

The Brothers have now lost six straight games, all to the Dairymen, and are now in a third place tie with Miron Lumber. Miron swept three games from the Middletown Merchants to advance up the ladder.

Charles Ramsey, another local five, managed to win a pair from Bowling Time of Newburgh and the pair of victories gave the team second place, one game behind Jones.

Here's how the top five clubs stand:

Team	Won	Lost
Jones Dairy	25	14
Charles Ramsey	24	15
Three Brothers	22	17
Miron Lumber	22	17
Bowling Time	20	19

Manfro slugged consistent efforts of 246-232-214 for 692 pins to pace Three Brothers. Lawrence added 197-246-219-662. Jones had four keglers above 600 with Buster Ferraro showing the way. Buster, who had 682 the previous week, "dipped" to 680 this time with 225-228-227. Jackie Ferraro padded his leading average with 192-210-225-627. Chris Gallo shot 199-212-201-612 and John Ferraro stroked 216-185-208-609. Larry Petersen just missed with a 598 triple.

The games were high scoring and close with Jones winning, 1022-1012; 1038-1031 and 1066-1014. It was a good match.

Miron received a 619 effort from Ken Joseph on games of 217, 225 and 147. Jerry Kaplan opened with 241 and finished with a 593 triple. The visitors weren't able to do much scoring and wound up with only 2405 sticks, an average of only slightly better than 800 a game.

Vince Carpino topped Charles Ramsey with 201-186-189-576 and his mates were all in the 500 circle. Charles Embler was a 596 hitter for Bowling Time. The Newburgh team won the second game by four sticks and lost the first by three.

Cannon Gets Four TDs Against N. Y. Titans

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

There was some question in early season whether Billy Cannon, the Louisiana State All-America who had been no ball of fire in his first year of pro football, would make the Houston team.

Cannon scored five touchdowns, rushed for 216 yards to break the league one-game record and caught passes for 114 yards Sunday as the Oilers beat New York 48-21 and held the lead in the Eastern Division of the American Football League.

As a result, Houston clinched no worse than a tie for the title and became prohibitive favorite to take it all since now only lowly Oakland remains to be played.

That would set up a repeat of last year's championship game in which Houston locked the Los Angeles Chargers, now San Diego. San Diego, which already has the Western Division championship, beat Buffalo 28-10 while Dallas bashed Denver 49-21 in other Sunday AFL games.

Boston, which whipped Oakland 35-21 Saturday night, remained a game back of Houston in the Eastern Division race and could tie for the championship if the Oilers falter next Sunday at Oakland and the Patriots nip San Diego.

It was something of a novelty to see somebody take the play away from busy George Blanda, the Houston quarterback.

But it so happened that Cannon had the finest individual day of the year. Cannon's 216 yards rushing wiped out the 158-yard record set by Abner Haynes of Dallas Nov. 26 against Oakland. The five touchdowns tied the record for one game hung up by Haynes on the same day.

San Diego had trouble with Buffalo but called on its defense to overcome a 10-point deficit, then had Jack Kemp come off the bench and pass it to safety.

The Dallas-Denver game was a so-what affair since neither club is going anywhere.

Green Bay Will Face New York or Eagles

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Selection of the opponent for the Green Bay Packers in the National Football League's title contest Dec. 31 had narrowed to two teams and two games today.

The teams are the New York Giants and the Philadelphia Eagles. They must win. And even that won't do them any good if the Giants win or tie.

The games are Sunday's Giants-Cleveland Browns encounter in New York's Yankee Stadium and the Eagles-Lions tussle in Detroit's Tiger Stadium in the season windups. A Giants' defeat and an Eagles victory would necessitate a playoff in New York Dec. 24.

The two-team situation in the Eastern Conference was set up Sunday when the Giants edged the Eagles 28-24 in a rip-snorter at Philadelphia to go out in front by one game. The Browns dropped out of the title chase when they were upset by the Chicago Bears 17-14.

day.

Frisco Surprises

The Packers were surprised 22-21 by the San Francisco 49ers, who are battling the second-place Lions for the right to represent the Western Division in the Bert Bell Memorial Bowl for the conference runnerups at Miami, Fla., Jan. 6. The Lions hold a one-game margin over the 49ers, who wind up at home against Baltimore Saturday.

In other games Sunday, Pittsburgh defeated Washington 30-14 to run the Redskins' nonwinning streak to 23 games over two seasons (they tied three); St. Louis walloped Dallas 31-13 and Detroit got past Minnesota 13-7. Los Angeles beat Baltimore 34-17 Saturday.

Charlie Conerly was the key in the Giants' squeaker over the Eagles. The 40-year-old quarterback, a bench-warmer most of the season, replaced Y. A. Tittle when the Giants' attack bogged down in the second period and the Eagles leading 10-7. He threw three touchdown passes. Before he left the game, Tittle also hit Del Shofner with a 46-yard payoff aerial.

Sonny Jurgenson also tossed three touchdown passes for the Eagles, two to Tommy McDonald, and altogether picked up 367 yards in the air for an NFL single season record of 3,320 yards in passing. Johnny Unitas held the mark of 3,099 yards, made last year in 13 games.

Field Goal Decides

The Bears came from behind for their triumph with Roger LeClerc's nine-yard field goal with 5:30 left deciding the issue. Lou Groza kicked both the extra points for Cleveland to set an all-time career scoring record of 826 points.

Bobby Layne, Pittsburgh's veteran quarterback, got back into the good graces of the Steelers fans when he tied Sammy Baugh's all-time league record of 187 touchdown passes in a career. He fired four in the Steelers' easy triumph.

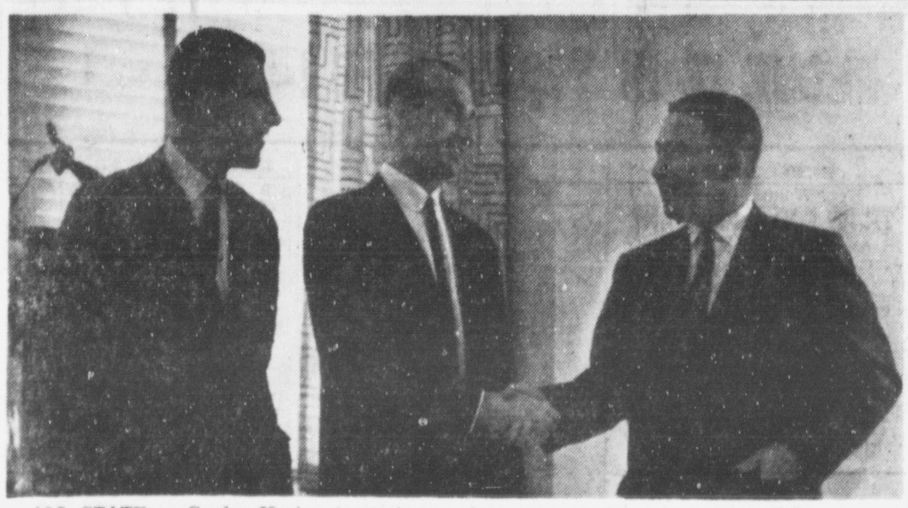
OPEN EVENINGS FOR YOUR CONVENIENCE!



ALL STATE — Gordon Krajna (center), a senior at State University College, New Paltz, from Tonawanda, is congratulated by Dr. William J. Haggerty, president of the college, when he learned that he had been named second team halfback on the All-State University soccer team by a vote of State University College soccer coaches. Also pictured is Albert Miller, New Paltz soccer coach. This is Krajna's second year on the soccer team, and he also has a record of three undefeated years in intercollegiate tennis competition. Wiltwyck Club Bridge Results

Mrs. Chris Wheatcroft and Edward De Temple of Kingston won first place on the North South side with 66 per cent at the Wiltwyck Bridge Club's master point game. Mr. and Mrs. C. R Edwards of Kingston led the East-West division with 65 per cent.

Other North-South winners included: Dr. Habeeb Maroon and Dr. James Clarkin, Kingston, 55 per cent; Dorothy Maroon, Kingston and Charles Rice, Saugerties.

Runnersup on the East-West side were Dr. and Mrs. Harry McNamara, Hurley, 61 per cent; and Morton Honig and Paul Mezer, Kingston, 58 per cent.

The next duplicate match will be held on Thursday, Dec. 21.

Local Booters End 1961 Season

The Kingston Sport Club's scheduled Manning Cup soccer match against the Milan Juventus club of the Bronx was cancelled because of bad weather Sunday.

The contest would have been the last of the season for the locals. Central New York Soccer Association officials decided over the weekend to suspend operations until next spring.

The schedule resumes next Spring with Kingston Sport Club tied for first place with 11-1 records.

Chess Club Gets An Even Split

Defending champion John Mager defeated Nathan Katatsky in a first round match in the Kings Knight Cress Club's championship tournament.

Other results:

Fred Stern defeated Carl Lundquist; John Meyer won over Leo Garel; Bill Weterer defeated Don Kent; Dr. David S. Gerbarg defeated Dr. Murray Fletcher, then won over Bill Wetterer.

Second round competition is scheduled Friday night at the Elks Lodge. The Kings Knight Chess Club is still accepting memberships and everyone is invited.

Divide Two Matches

The club's two teams in the Hudson Valley Chess League split matches at IBM in Poughkeepsie. The No. 1 squad blanked Carmel, 5-0, while No. 2 went down to a 3½-2½ defeat at the hands of Yorktown Heights and Carmel.

WORLD CHAMPIONS — Don Carter of St. Louis and Marge Merrick of Columbus pose with the trophy symbolic of the World's Invitational Tournament championship. In two of the closest finishes in history, Carter beat off the determined challenge of Ray Bluth and Miss Merrick edged two-time wold champion Marion Ladewig.

PRESENTATION — Saugerties High School coach Fred Seither presents a football autographed by the Syracuse University football team to Bill Vickery, who shattered his elbow in the season's second game against Arlington. Athletic director Bill Straub was also present at the presentation, made before the student body. The ball was given by the New York Chapter of the Eastern Assn. of Intercollegiate Football officials, who for the past 10 years have given footballs to young men who sustained crippling injuries while playing football. Vickery was a starting guard on the SHS team. (Lipgar Studio photo).

EMPLOYMENT

NOTICE TO JOB APPLICANTS
The Kingston Daily Freeman does not knowingly accept help wanted advertisements from employers covered by the Federal Wage-Hour Law if they offer less than legal minimum wages. Beginning September 3, 1961, employees engaged in interstate or foreign commerce or in the production of goods for such commerce must be paid not less than $1.15 an hour and at least time and one-half for hours worked after 40 in a workweek, unless specifically exempt. Employees of certain large retail, service, construction, and other enterprises must be paid not less than $1.00 an hour after September 3, 1961, but no overtime for such employment is required until September 3, 1963. If you are offered less by covered employers, or if you have questions concerning this law or other activities of the U. S. Department of Labor, call or write the Department's local office at Bronx: Abraham Klainbard, Investigation Supr., 881 Gerard Ave., Bronx, N. Y. WYandotte 2-1235.

Defendants

CASE NO. 32732

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale duly made and entered in the above entitled action and bearing date 30th day of November 1961, I, the undersigned, the Referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction at the front door of the County Court House in the City of Kingston, County of Ulster and State of New York, on the 27th day of December, 1961, at 11:00 in the forenoon of that day, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold and therein described as follows:—

"ALL THAT CERTAIN LOT situate in the City of Kingston, County of Ulster and State of New York, on the southerly side of O'Reilly Street, and being the westerly one-half of Lot 567, and the easterly one-half of lot 566 on the map of the property of John O'Reilly deceased, made by D. T. Van Buren in 1870, and bounded and described as follows:

BEGINNING on the southerly side of said O'Reilly Street at the corner of the lot of John and William Roach, and running thence westerly along said street fifty feet to the center of lot 566; thence southerly through the center of said lot one hundred feet to the rear thereof; thence easterly along the rear of parts of lots 566 and 567 to the center of lot 567; and thence northerly through the center of lot 567 one hundred feet to said O'Reilly Street, the place of beginning.

ALSO, ALL THAT TRACT OR PARCEL OF LAND situate in the City of Kingston, County of Ulster and State of New York, bounded and described as follows:

BEGINNING at a point on the southerly side of O'Reilly Street distant 325 feet from the intersection of the westerly side of Broadway (formerly Union Avenue) and the southerly side of O'Reilly Street, being the corner of lands of John Murphy and runs from said point of beginning about southerly along line of the lands of John Murphy 100 feet to land now or formerly of O'Reilly; thence in about a westerly course parallel to O'Reilly Street 50 feet along lands of said O'Reilly to the lands formerly of Timothy Donovan; thence in about a northerly course parallel with the first mentioned course along the line of lands formerly of Timothy Donovan 100 feet to O'Reilly Street; thence in about an easterly course 50 feet to the point or place of beginning.

EXCEPTING from and out of the last above described parcel all that part or portion thereof as conveyed by Edward T. Carol and wife to Sarah L. Crouse by Deed dated September 17, 1923 and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office in Deed Book 501 at page 196.

Being the same premises conveyed by William H. Crogan, as Executor of the Estate of John W. Sheehan to Suzanne De Groff Hyde by deed dated December 2, 1958, and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office.

Being the same premises conveyed by Suzanne De Groff Hyde by Christopher D. Morris, as Attorney-in-Fact, to Warren F. Mann and Juanita Mann, his wife, by deed dated Dec. 3rd, 1958 and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office on Dec. 4th, 1958 in Deed Book 1050 at Page 541.

Pender Refuses Fullmer's Offer

BOSTON (AP) — Former middleweight champion Paul Pender today flatly refused Gene Fullmer's offer of $15,000 to let Fullmer get first crack at Terry Downes of England.

"I won't have any part of it," Pender said. "This is the first I've heard of it and it can be the last. I won't listen to it.

"Where was Fullmer when I was looking for him to fight me? He wasn't interested then. I'm not interested now."

Downes is recognized as champion in Massachusetts and New York and by the European Boxing union. He dethroned Pender last September in London.

Fullmer knocked out Benny (Kid) Paret in 10 rounds Saturday night to keep his cherished National Boxing Association portion of the world middleweight championship. Fullmer reiterated then that he wanted to meet Downes to clear up the disputed title.

Pender is slated to meet Downes in a third match, probably in Boston next March. He beat Downs in the first fight after winning his fractional title from Sugar Ray Robinson.

Wilt 'Slumps' To 55 Points

You'll pardon Wilt Chamberlain if the pace of three National Basketball Association games in 48 hours began to show on him.

After scoring a record 78 points Friday night and coming back with 61 Saturday afternoon, Chamberlain managed only 55 in helping the Philadelphia Warriors to a 118-109 victory over the Chicago Packers Sunday night. It gave him a weekend total of 194.

Cincinnati toyed with New York's hapless Knicks, 134-94 in the other Sunday game.

Only a letdown in the first half Sunday night kept Wilt from getting over the 200 mark. The Packers, with Walt Bellamy and Si Green leading the way, bolted into a 34-17 lead after one period and with Chamberlain held to 20 points, still led 58-51 at the half.

Then Chamberlain and the Warriors' fast break, triggered by Guy Rodgers and Al Attles, got going and Wilt added 35 points after the intermission. By the time the third quarter was over, Philadelphia had a 10-point lead and it was easy after that.

Jack Twyman, Oscar Robertson and Arlen Bockhorn did the heavy scoring for Cincinnati, with Twyman high man with 38 points. Bockhorn and Robertson each had 27. Richie Guerin led New York with 22.

Toronto Leafs Defeat Rangers

The muscular Toronto Maple Leafs, now in solid possession of second place in the National Hockey League, have their sight set on leading Montreal. But catching the Canadiens may be something else again.

The Leafs gained one point on the perennial leaders over the weekend and are now three back. Montreal, meanwhile, extended its string to 12 without a loss.

But if they were frustrated in closing major ground on Montreal., Toronto's two weekend victories enabled them to stretch the margin over third place New York from two to five points.

The key was Toronto's 3-2 victory over the slipping Rangers Sunday night. In the others, Montreal got a 4-3 decision over Boston while Detroit beat Chicago for the second straight evening, 3-2.

Newburgh Scores Win, 77-35 Over Lourdes

Newburgh Free Academy scored 30 points in a first period basket barrage and went on to beat Our Lady of Lourdes, 77-35, Saturday at the NFA gym.

The talented Goldies had quarter margins of 30-6, 49-13, and 68-26 at the quarter stops. Reserves saw a lot of action.

Al Angelone led Newburgh with 17 points and John Sileno followed with 16.

Clemente Wins NL Bat Title

CINCINNATI (AP) — Roberto Clemente of the Pittsburgh Pirates, the 1961 National League batting champion, undoubtedly hopes he doesn't meet the same fate as teammate Dick Groat, the 1960 titleholder.

Clemente's league-leading .351 mark was confirmed Sunday with the release of the official averages. The final figures also showed that Groat slumped to .275 after winning the title with a .325 slate a year earlier.

Only 11 players hit .300 or higher among those eligible for the championship with 477 or more total appearances.

Vada Pinson of the pennant-winning Cincinnati Reds was second with .343. Then came Ken Boyer, St. Louis, .329; Wally Moon, Los Angeles, .328, Hank Aaron, Milwaukee, .327 and Frank Robinson, Cincinnati, .323.

Orlando Cepeda, San Francisco's big slugger, won the home run crown with 46. He also had the most runs batted in, 142. Willie Mays, also of the Giants, scored the most runs, 129.

Other leaders were: runs—Pinson, 208; doubles — Aaron, 39; Triples—George Altman, Chicago Cubs, 12; stolen bases — Maury Wills, Los Angeles, 35; sacrifice bunts—Wills 13; sacrifice flies — Robinson 10 and longest batting streak, Robinson 19 games.

FOUR HURT IN UPTOWN MISHAP — A three-car accident on wet pavement at Washington Avenue and North Street Sunday afternoon resulted in injuries to four persons, police said. The cars (above) came to rest near the entrance to Joy's Lane. The drivers were listed as Robert Frankel, 20, Alden House, Larchmont; Ronald Lauppe, 23, of 72 Main Street, and Robert Allen Lasher, 23, of 188 Pine Street. (Freeman photo)

Hyde Park Girl Perishes in Fire After Explosion

An eight year old Hyde Park girl, Cindy Lewis, perished early Sunday morning when a flash fire ignited by an explosion, destroyed the family home on Bircher Avenue. Her parents and two brothers and sisters escaped.

According to Sheriff Lawrence Quinlan of Dutchess County, Edward Lewis, 34, of Bircher Avenue told him he had just gone to sleep about 3:30 a. m., when he was awakened by a terrific explosion which appeared to have come from the stairwell to the cellar. Lewis said that the entire first floor of the two-story frame dwelling was afire and within seconds the flames had spread to the second floor.

Lewis, his wife, Amelia, 31, daughter, Karen, 14 and infant son, Jeffrey, aged nine months, were sleeping on the first floor. They were able to get out of doors to safety. Three other children, Edward Jr. 11, Judy, 7 and Cindy were asleep on the second floor. Edward Jr. and Judy managed to crawl out onto a porch roof and leap 12 feet to the ground, but Cindy was trapped and died in the flames.

The father said the flames spread so rapidly that he was unable to get upstairs. The house was virtually destroyed.

Edward Jr., Karen and Judy were taken to St. Francis' Hospital for treatment of burns and other injuries. Edward Jr. and Karen were discharged after first aid treatment, but Judy was admitted to the hospital for treatment of first and second degree burns. Her condition was reported as good today.

Sheriff Quinlan said today that his department and fire officials are conducting an investigation in an effort to determine the origin of the explosion and ensuing blaze.

OCS Classroom Problems Topic At P-TA Meeting

The problem of adequate classroom facilities in the Onteora Central Schools District, which has been of growing concern to all interested in adequate education for the district's children, will be discussed by District Principal Dr. George Sullivan at the Dec. 14 meeting of the Woodstock P-TA.

The meeting will be held at 8 p. m. in the auditorium of the Woodstock elementary school. All voters as well as parents are urged to attend.

In announcing the meeting, P-TA President Edgar C. Leaycraft said:

"There are, of course, many possible solutions depending on one's idea of an adequate education and the facilities thought necessary. But, in analyzing the specific problems in the Onteora school district we have been long on heat and short on facts."

What does the school population of the district actually amount to? Where are the children currently located? What are the best predictions of future population growth within the district and where is it most likely to take place?

"These and many similar questions concerning the school population of the Onteora School District will be answered at Thursday's meeting when Dr. Sullivan presents the facts gathered by a district study," said Leaycraft.

Snow King, Queen Is Entourage For Santa Claus

Though the way in which Santa Claus will arrive on the Village Green for the traditional Christmas Eve program, and the exact time of arrival remains a secret, there is one surprise that can be divulged now.

Santa will have a Snow King and Queen at his side when he distributes stockings. The Royal Couple will be chosen in a secret manner from among the Woodstock township second grader. Of course, the rule that they must have been very good all year in school, as well as home, must be followed. The lucky boy and girl will wear golden crowns and be dressed in satin robes.

The program will begin with the children's vocal group and as many children as wish may join the chorus, for the more the merrier. Many of the youngsters will be glad to hear they need not wear any costumes this year for the specially designed surroundings will carry the Yuletide impression. The young singers are in for a surprise this year, as standing in the center of their close group will be Clemie Nessel, playing her accordian. As soon as the chosen four Christmas songs are over, the children may quickly disperse and join the crowd.

Santa is anxiously awaiting the drawing and painting of boys and girls depicting, "What I See When I Think of Christmas." All boys and girls from kindergarten to through the fourth grade are asked to leave their art work at Anderson's Hardware or the Woodstock Sport Shop. There will be $75 worth of gifts given for the most interesting drawings. A ten dollar gift for the most impressive painting in each grade and a five dollar gift for the second most outstanding in each grade. Deadline for paintings is Monday Dec. 18th. The children's works will be displayed in the various shop windows.

With the setting in place of the Christmas tree on the Village Green, old Woodstock residents are reminded of the first Christmas Eve program held about 25 years ago.

The history of the program, except for the past ten years, has been sporadic. The first three years were in connection with winter sports. Ned Thatcher was the first Santa Claus who arrived either by sleigh or buggy, depending upon the weather. Even now, the mode of Santa's transportation is anyone's guess from year to year.

The Dutch Reformed Church took over the program for three years. Next the Woodstock Fire Department took charge. The program was then dormant for years until "Pop" Franckling resurrected it practically single-handed. In 1948, the American Legion put on the show. In 1949, Leon Carey and Joe Holdridge, with the help of John Pike, started what has now become the modern tradition with a format that has become the basis of the past ten years' programs.

Joe Holdridge has had a major part in the program ever since and has become the tradition himself by his unselfish efforts.

The program has grown to such an erormous task, that three years ago it became a community project.

Winslow Show At LIU Gallery

An exhibition of paintings and drawings by Woodstock artist Earle P. Winslow opened last week at Long Island University, Brooklyn. The exhibition is open to the public without charge weekdays from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m.

Among the 35 works on display are paintings of people, wildlife, landscapes and machinery. Winslow employs a diversity of techniques ranging from realism and impression to semi-abstraction.

The show may be viewed through Dec. 22 in the 11th floor gallery of Long Island University's Metcalf Hall, 385 Flatbush Avenue extension, downtown Brooklyn.

This is Mr. Winslow's tenth one-man show. He has exhibited in group shows, illustrated many books, and his work has appeared in magazines. He studied at the School of Fine Arts in Detroit, the Art Institute in Chicago and the Art League in New York.

He and his wife live in Woodstock.

Education Workshop Is Planned by League

The Education Workshop of the League of Women Voters meets Wednesday at 8 p. m. at Florence Hatrison's. The League board meeting has been set for Thursday at 7:30 p. m.

The workshop will discuss ideas presented to the League membership by Dr. George Sullivan, district principal of Onteora Central Schools District, at the December general meeting. He spoke on the topic: "A New Approach to School Finance."

The workshop is designed to ask and answer questions on how a simplified foundation program can help to focus attention on improving education for the pupil rather than on meeting costs; and to come nearer to stating what the League believes should be done to improve financing of education in New York State.

Rosary-Altar Society Dinner Set Wednesday

St. John's Rosary-Altar Society will hold its annual dinner meeting on Wednesday at 7 p. m. at Deanie's in Woodstock. Mrs. Theodore Rose is chairman.

Everyone attending is asked to bring a gift for exchanging, and also an article of food which will be used to make baskets for the needy at Christmas.

Immediately following the dinner, a short business meeting will be held at which time there will be nominations for new officers.
